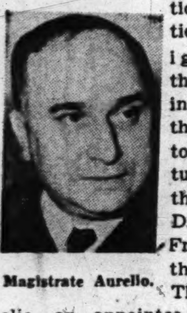
ALL 3 PARTIES DUMP AURELIO IN N. Y. SCANDAL

Deal on Judiciary Is Dropped.

New York, Aug. 31 [Special].—Repudiations, accusations, nominations, investigations, and a resignation—all these, plus flowing tears, came thick and fast today out of the turmoil following the disclosure by District Atty. Frank S. Hogan that Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio, an appointee of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, had obtained the Democratic nomination for Supreme court justice thru the political engineering of Frank Costello, ex-convict and racketeer.



Magistrate Aurelio.

Here are the rapid fire events that marked today's developments in the scandal:

1. The Republicans, who quickly withdrew their indorsement of Aurelio after Hogan made his charges, named John A. Brough, president of the 10th assembly district Republican club, as their candidate for justice on the "Judiciary" ticket to take the place of Aurelio.

Tammany Repudiates Him.

2. The executive committee of Tammany Hall repudiated its indorsement of Aurelio. The Manhattan Democratic organization issued a call for a judicial convention to name a new candidate for Aurelio's place on the ticket, but fearful that the recall might be held illegal it named Vincent R. Impellitteri, former assistant district attorney, as the nominee of the independent Integrity party.

3. Bert Stand, secretary of Tammany Hall, resigned as executive deputy commissioner and secretary of the powerful state athletic commission, which supervises boxing in the state. He had been named by Hogan as one of the Tammany officials who had kept Costello informed on the progress being made toward the nomination of Aurelio.

4. Members of the American Labor party entered Matthew M. Levy, former Municipal court justice, as their choice.

Fitness Investigated.

5 District Atty. Hogan presented the Aurelio-Costello matter to the grand jury to determine "whether a crime had been committed."

6. The criminal court committee of the Association of the Bar of New York City named a subcommittee of four to study the case to decided whether Aurelio is fit to remain on the bench as a magistrate.

Aurelio appeared before the Tammany committee during the after-

A TWO-PINT BABY DOES WELL, AND SHE LIKES HER BRANDY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 31.—London's smallest baby, 6 day old Jennifer Shales, who weighed only two pounds two ounces at birth, is flourishing today on a diet of brandy, mild glucose and water administered thru a fountain pen filler.

"She has gained two ounces since yesterday," announced Sister R Burt, who has charge of the infant in a special nursery at Plaistow Maternity hospital. "She seems to like brandy," she added.

Jennifer is about 1 foot long and her head is about half the size of a man's fist and easily could be contained in a teacup. Her hands are so small that her mother's wedding ring would be too big for her as a bracelet.

So far Jennifer has spent most of her time sleeping. She generally has to be awakened by the nurse rubbing her back before she feeds. She has an eighth of an ounce of milk hourly and about the same amount of glucose, water, and brandy every three hours. She is washed daily in olive oil, which is absorbed thru the skin and acts as additional food.

Landon Raps New Deal for Larder Raids

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 31 [Special]. — New Deal raiding of the American larder to feed foreign peoples is opening the way to impoverishment of American agriculture, Alf M. Landon, former Republican Presidential candidate, warned today in a speech before the Coöperative Club of Kansas City.

"It's time we brought our foreign policy down to earth," Landon said, "back to the American farm and the American dinner table."

Charging that New Dealers were attempting to impose a cereal diet on the American people, he said:

"The New Dealers changed Thanksgiving, killed the little pigs, and now they want to put us on the rice and fish diet of the orientals."

Can't Bear Double Load.

Discussing administration global food plans, Landon said that we cannot feed the world and also produce the same amount of live stock as in the past.

"If we're going to feed the world," he said, "we might possibly attempt it on a grain basis, but we cannot do it on both a live stock and grain basis. If we're going to provide meat, animal feed, and a bottle of milk a day for the people of Asia, Africa, and Europe, it will mean material reduction in the quantities of meat, milk, and eggs available for consumption in America. In preparation for that shock, we are being told by the planners in Washington that we will be more healthy if we adopt a vegetarian diet."

The country should demand an accounting of the vast quantity of food being given away under lend-lease, he added.

Don't Study All Angles.

Landon asserted that it was the tendency of too many of our New Deal planners to copy Great Britain's programs without clearly thinking thru the effects in this country.

"The New Deal food scheme," he charged, "would unbalance our agriculture and, even if it would continue for only a couple of years, it would deplete our live stock herds and we would have more one crop farming, and more soil depletion, and we would, when the international picnic is over, once again have the problem of building up a diversified American agriculture."

Landon expressed fear that foreign peoples were being given "an exaggerated idea" of what we can do for them in post-war foods. "We must watch out," he said, "that our impulses are not ridden—like a free horse—to death."

Landon saw in the New Deal plans the eventual destruction of a balanced American agriculture, the destruction of the balanced American diet, and the destruction of international good will, on which American collaboration in post-war plans must be based.

In conclusion, he observed that Stalin always speaks first for Russia, and Churchill for England. "It is high time," he said, "that you and I speak first for America."

Defer AWOL Union Leader in Draft Again

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 31.—Joseph Curran, globe circling president of the National Maritime union [CIO] who sailed 10 days ago as a seaman aboard a tanker without bothering to notify selective service that he was leaving the country, was ordered reclassified from 2-B to 2-A and given another six months deferment by his local draft board at a session here late tonight.

As a 2-A registrant, Curran is held to be a person "necessary to the support of the war effort." In his previous 2-B status, he was characterized as a person "necessary in war production." The difference between the two categories, according to the Rev. Francis K. Shepherd, chairman of local board 18 which heard the case, "is very slight and technical."

Deferred for Union Work.

In making known its decision Curran's board said the new deferment given the NMU leader, who is 37 years old, was granted solely because of Curran's union activities and not because of a last minute request filed by the recruitment and manning section of the war shipping administration asking that Curran be deferred because he had become a seaman.

Curran, who was born on March 1, 1906, will be 38 years old the day after his new six month deferment expires, and thus, under present practice, no longer eligible for the draft.

Absence Rapped by Director.

Curran's previous deferment expired Aug. 27, but several days prior to that he made his abrupt departure as a member of a tanker's crew after having become piqued, according to NMU spokesmen, at the state department's delay in granting him a passport to survey maritime conditions in England, Russia, and other countries.

When his absence became known, Col. Arthur V. McDermott, New York City selective service director, characterized Curran's departure from the country without having notified his local draft board as "extremely careless."

NAZIS TO HAVE GERMAN COOK AT PRISON CAMP

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 31 [Special].—German prisoners now quartered in the Camp Grant prison will get German cooking because cooks for their mess halls will be picked from their own ranks, according to an announcement at the camp today.

Prisoners are being checked to determine their former trades and cooks will be assigned at once to prison camp mess halls.

CHURCHES TO MARK INVASION OF POLAND IN SERVICES TODAY

Gov. Green and Mayor Kelly have proclaimed today as "Tribute to Poland" in observance of the fourth anniversary of the invasion of Poland. Masses will be said in Polish Roman Catholic churches and Jewish synagogues will hold special services. A Polish rally will be held later in the month.

The masses, for all of the victims of the Nazis in Poland and for all Polish soldiers who died in defending their country, are to be offered in all 46 churches in the western diocese of the Polish Catholic church.

Bishop Leon Grochowski will officiate at a service at 9 a. m. in the Polish Catholic cathedral at 2012 Dickens avenue, one of the nine Polish Catholic churches in Chicago.

Recalling the words of Ignace Jan Paderewski, "Tho we perish, Poland will live forever," Dr. Karol Ripa, consul general of Poland in Chicago, expressed gratitude to the "great people of the United States for their understanding of our sufferings, their sympathy, and their confidence in us."

COUNTY HOPES FOR A PAY DAY, BUT IS DOUBTFUL

Altho yesterday was the end of a semi-monthly pay roll period for the 6,000 employes of the Cook county government, county officials were unable to give any assurance that the pay roll checks would be cashed by County Treasurer Victor L. Schlaeger.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, said that he was still hopeful there would be no payless pay days; that the county had plenty of collateral and little cash, and that some solution may be reached before the customary pay period, which is from Sept. 5 to 7.

Schlaeger has informed the board that revenues being collected now must be used to repay advances made from other funds. Heads of county offices were fearful that if the pay rolls are not met their most efficient workers will obtain other jobs and not return, with a consequent impairment of service.

Upholds Right to Jail Gandhi Without Trial

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 31 (AP).—India's highest tribunal, the federal court, today upheld the right of the British viceroy to keep Mohandas K. Gandhi and other political prisoners in jail without trial, but condemned the way the detention law had been applied in Bengal, India's biggest province.

This was the second time the case had been appealed to federal court. In the first appeal the detention law was held invalid on the grounds that the authority to send people to jail had been delegated too carelessly to subordinate officials.

Uses Power to Legislate.

Immediately the then Viceroy Linlithgow, exercising his power to legislate, amended the law so that provincial governments must be "satisfied" in arresting a man that his detention was necessary for the safety of India. The provincial governments also were required to satisfy themselves that persons were not being held merely on suspicion that they were less than 100 per cent for the war effort.

Appeals were brought immediately challenging the viceroy's right to revise statutes originally drafted by the Indian legislature, but the court's decision today upheld the viceroy's powers.

In commenting, however, on the methods of enforcement adopted in Bengal, the court said:

"We cannot condemn the procedure adopted in these cases too strongly."

Sometimes Rearrested.

Provincial authorities have been reviewing the cases of those persons held without trial and a limited number have been released outright. Others have been released only momentarily and then have been promptly rearrested for trial on specific charges, such as complicity in sabotage or other obstruction of the government.

A high official of the government said at the time of the first federal court decision that the government must have powers in war time to detain persons without trial and that, regardless of what the federal court did, Gandhi and the others would not be released.

U. I. DEVELOPING DRUG STRONGER THAN PENICILLIN

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 31 (AP).—Prof. H. W. Anderson of the University of Illinois department of horticulture, disclosed today that he is engaged in research to determine the value of clavacin, a drug obtained from mold, and reported it "may prove to be more useful than penicillin for certain types of diseases."

He asserted that it kills all bacteria killed by penicillin as well as some that are unaffected by the latter drug.

2D FRONT WHEN ALLIES CAN WIN, CHURCHILL VOW

'We Won't Squander Men for Politics.'

CHURCHILL SPEECH.
Text of Prime Minister Churchill's speech is on pages 11 and 12.

QUEBEC, Aug. 31 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill extended an invitation to Premier Marshal Stalin today to join in a conference with him and President Roosevelt. Then he pointedly told Russia that allied plans for a cross-channel attack will be governed by military considerations alone and not by political reasons.

Obviously taking note of recurrent discussions of British-American-soviet coöperation, Churchill, in his radio address here, pointed to repeated signs of victory that have accompanied the allied cause in recent months, but warned that he regarded speculation "as to when the war will end as vain and unprofitable."

The prime minister and Mrs. Churchill and several members of his staff left tonight to continue conferences with President Roosevelt.

No Squandering of Men.

In his speech, ringing with confidence concerning the war's ultimate outcome, the British prime minister said he looked forward to the day when British and American armies "will cross the channel in full force and come to close quarters with the German invaders."

He declared, however, in an obvious reference to "second front" agitation, that it will be because "there is good prospect of success and that our soldiers' lives are expended in accordance with sound military plans and not squandered for political consideration of any kind."

In one of his many references to Russia, the prime minister said:

"It would not have been suitable for Russia to be represented at the Quebec conference, which, apart from dealing with the immediate operation of our intermingled and interwoven armed forces in the Mediterranean and elsewhere, would largely if not mainly be concerned with heating and inflaming the war against Japan, with whom the soviet government has a five year treaty of nonaggression."

Once Had Second Front.

Again on the subject of the "second front," Churchill recalled:

"We once had a fine front in France but it was torn to pieces by the concentrated might of Hitler, and it is easier to have a front pulled down than it is to build it up again."

Churchill spoke of the selection of Louis Mountbatten as supreme commander of the southeast Asia front and added:

"The main forces of the United States and the manhood of Australia and New Zealand are engaged in successful grapple with the Japanese in the Pacific."

Near the end of his address he said:

"I regard all speculations as to when the war will end at this moment as vain and unprofitable. We did not undertake this task because we had carefully counted the cost or measured exactly the duration. We took it on because duty and honor called us to it, and we are content to drive on at it until we have finished the job."

U.S. Air Fields Now in Range of Jap Cities

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 31 (AP).—The United States now has air fields as close to Japan as the aircraft carrier Hornet was when it loosed the planes of Maj. Gen. James Doolittle for the "Shangri-La" bombing of Japan, Lt. Gen. John L. Dewitt said today.

The general indicated he believed shuttle-bombing trips over Japan from the Aleutians to China with heavy four-engine planes would not be as difficult as the Doolittle flight, and when the question of supply at both ends of such a route is solved, such an enterprise becomes more likely.

[The official war department story of the Doolittle raid disclosed that the Hornet was 800 miles from Japan when the planes left the carrier.]

Finds Old Strategy Succeeds.

Gen. De Witt of the western defense command who has just returned from the Aleutians where he witnessed the bloodless fall of Kiska, said at a press conference that operation demonstrated the success of the old military strategy of getting behind the enemy to destroy him.

Future operations are matters which will have to be decided by the high command, Gen. De Witt said. He indicated, however, that he feels that successful landings can be made by allied forces in the Kuriles, which stretch toward Japan's northernmost stronghold at Paramushiro.

Paramushiro has been bombed by United States flyers at least three times during the last few months and development of bases in the outermost Aleutians makes it constantly more vulnerable.

Promises Increased Pressure.

"The Japs have shown an unwillingness to take punishment," Gen. De Witt said. "It is our intention to increase the pressure on them as much as possible with the means available to us from higher authority.

"The whole situation in the Pacific has changed as a result of advances by Gen. MacArthur's forces in the South Pacific and the clearing of the Aleutians.

"It has shifted from a strategy of defense to a strategy of offense, with the Japs occupying the position we had at the beginning of the war.

"Now we can decide where to strike next."

JEEPS LIGHT UP AIR FIELD; SAVE A BRITISH PLANE

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 31 (AP).—And now the versatile jeep is helping airplanes land!

Over an American air field in Sicily on a recent moonless night a British Spitfire circled repeatedly, apparently in desperate search for a runway. Lt. Robert J. Kirsch of Buffalo, N. Y., was writing a letter in his tent when Sgt. George Slotnick, Chicago, Ill., interrupted to report an allied plane in difficulty.

Kirsch, who is an Invader [A-36] pilot, commandeered every jeep in his section of the field. He lined them in an orderly row, with headlights blazing, on the border of the landing strip. The British aircraft made two approaches and then came in safely.

Half Carload Bombers Next!

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—Battleships of the air with a bomb capacity of half a carload and with a flying range for a round trip to Europe soon will be blasting America's enemies from the skies, Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, said today.

Gen. Arnold, writing in Army Ordnance, a magazine of the Army Ordnance association, said new and revolutionary planes will be in use soon.

Automatic fire control for numerous, powered gun turrets, similar in effect to the systems which lend deadly accuracy to ground and ship artillery, was another early development foreseen by Gen. Arnold.

He foresaw protective and offensive cannon fire, heavier than anything now flying for the bombers.

"The bombers will dwarf our present Flying Fortresses," he said. "The bomber's skin will have numerous 'blisters' which in reality will be multiple-gun power turrets controlable from sighting stations. Sights that compensate for almost every possible error encountered in firing on a fast moving aerial target will control the guns—a sight as revolutionary as our present bombsight.

"The plane will have 'eyes' that help guide it to its target, or warn and plot the course of interceptor aircraft. It will carry bombs of an entirely different design. It may mount heavy caliber cannon of an entirely new principle of operation."

HURL FOE BACK WITHIN 45 MI. OF SMOLENSK

Plunge Deep Into North Ukraine.

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP).—The Russians announced today an unprecedented series of victories which smashed German defenses in three widely separated areas along a 600-mile front as the Red army drove toward Smolensk in the north, broke into the northern Ukraine, and surged toward Mariupol in the south.

All the gains were made yesterday but Premier Josef Stalin, after announcing then the capture of Taganrog, saved until today two more orders of the day to tell the world of the additional successes. They included the capture of Yelnya, 45 miles east of Smolensk, in a 35-mile drive up the rail line from Spas Demenkoe, and the capture of Glukhov and Rylsk, 40 miles inside the Ukranian border from Sevsk. Glukhov is 47 miles northeast of the important railway junction of Konotop.

Break Thru Wide Fronts.

Tonight's war bulletin said the breakthru resulting in the fall of Yelnya was along a 30-mile front and carried 18 miles in the final drive. The advance in the Sevsk area was along a 60-mile front, and plowed thru the Nazis' north Ukraine defenses for 37 miles.

Moscow dispatches said the third drive, sweeping on from Taganrog on the Sea of Azov, had advanced more than half the way to Mariupol while Cossack horsemen and soviet tanks methodically wiped out surrounded remnants of the Nazi Taganrog garrison.

Salvos from 124 guns were fired twice in Moscow on Stalin's order to celebrate the capture of Yelnya, Glukhov and Rylsk, after they had boomed for Taganrog.

Great German Bastion.

Stalin called Yelnya, on the way to the great German bastion of Smolensk, "an operationally important large road junction and the most important center of resistance on the defenses in the Smolensk direction." He praised central front troops for "breaking thru the strongly fortified enemy defense line in the area of Sevsk."

The soviet summer offensive, which since July 12 has captured Kharkov, Sevsk, Karachev, Orel, Belgorod, and Taganrog as well as the towns announced today, was fanning into the valuable grain fields and mines of the Ukraine from the north, the east, and the south.

At the gateway to White Russia, Smolensk is a major Nazi headquarters for all northern Russia, is a rail junction on the line from Latvia to Moscow and central Russia, and is less than 200 miles from the Latvian border.

Capture 370 More Villages.

The Moscow war bulletin said 170 villages were captured in the Smolensk drive after four days' fighting.

The drive apparently began about Aug. 28 after a lull on that front since Aug. 13 when Spas Demenskoe was captured.

The drive to Glukhov came four days after the capture of Sevsk opened a new push in this area by the central army groups.

The Russian bulletin related that 200 villages had been liberated during the course of the fighting in the Sevsk area. Yesterday 96 German tanks are destroyed or disabled.

Fight Out of Trap: Nazis.

The Germans denied that Nazi forces were encircled at Taganrog, saying they had succeeded in blasting a breach in the Russian lines and escaping.

The German international information bureau in commenting on the fighting at Taganrog said that "under cover of heavy artillery and tank formations German troops overran soviet lines and fought their way thru to the west."

The news agency added, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, that the Russians threw cavalry and motorized infantry and tanks into the battle in a futile effort to check the German breakthru, adding that Germans successfully fought off concentrated Red army assaults.

The news agency said fighting in the Kharkov region was diminishing but that the battle around Sevsk and along the Yelnya-Spas Demenskoe railroad line was raging.

ARREST BELLBOY FOR QUESTIONING IN WAC MURDER

Delivered Ice to Room Before Slaying.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 31.—Two separate developments were reported tonight by police seeking a clew to the rape slaying in the Claypool hotel here Saturday of Maoma L. Ridings, 32 year old WAC corporal and one time nurse for President Roosevelt.

Robert Wolfington.

One was the arrest on a vagrancy charge of Robert Wolfington, 21 year old bellboy at the Claypool, who previously had informed authorities he delivered a carton of ice to Corp. Ridings' room about 6 p. m. Saturday.

The other development, said to be in no way connected with the detention of Wolfington, was the seizure by police of a bundle of clothing left for dry cleaning this afternoon by a woman at a laundry about two and one-half blocks from the hotel. This bundle, police said, contained a pair of man's slacks heavily stained with what appeared to be blood and a man's coat containing apparent blood spatterings on the sleeves and lapels.

Will Question Bellboy.

Clifford F. Beeker, chief of police, refused to give his reasons for taking Wolfington into custody.

Wolfington was intoxicated when apprehended at his home, police said, and was in no condition to undergo questioning tonight. His arrest was ordered when police learned he had not appeared at the hotel for work today and had given the excuse that he wanted to get his uniform cleaned.

So far as police have learned, Wolfington is the last person who admits visiting Corp. Ridings' room before her death, which is believed to have taken place between 6 and 8 p. m. Saturday. Wolfington has maintained that he did not see her on the occasion of his 6 p. m. visit with ice, however, his story being that she was in the bathroom and called out to him to leave the ice on the dresser and take a quarter she had left there for him.

Woman Visits Laundry.

The package of clothing containing the stained garments was taken to the Four Hour Laundry between 3 and 4 p. m. today, according to George Rhodes, owner of the establishment, who made an immediate report to police.

Rhodes said a woman giving the name of L. A. Wilson entered the laundry with the package and left it with his 19 year old daughter, who was in charge of the receiving counter at the time. The woman left no address, he said, stating she would call for the clothes in a few days.

Fay Davis, Indianapolis detective sergeant working on the case with Detective Lt. Noel Jones, said today that the condition of Corp. Ridings' body after the crime indicated conclusively, in his opinion, that the slaying was the work of a man.

This is shown not only by the strength of the assailant as indicated by the ferocity of the attack but also by medical evidence that the WAC corporal was raped, he said. Dr. Roy B. Storms, Marion county coroner, reiterated that microscopic tests of the body made following the autopsy proved a criminal assault had taken place.

Authorities gave some attention to theorizing about a 25 cent piece found on the floor of the hotel room. In view of the fact Corp. Ridings had previously tipped two bellboys with quarters, they speculated that she may have been expecting another messenger and had provided a coin with which to tip him.

In addition to the coin on the floor, police said they found only 21 cents among Corp. Ridings' possessions. This suggested that robbery as well as murder took place, but police were inclined to believe the robbery was an incidental motive.

MRS. FANNIE FUCHS.

When Mrs. Fannie Fuchs, 37 years old, 4236 North Mozart street, was arraigned before Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court yesterday on charges of obtaining $19,371 from her employers, the Tabin-Picker company, 419 Belmont avenue, by forgery and embezzlement, Julius Sherwin, assistant state's attorney, obtained a continuance to Sept. 14 to take the case directly to the grand jury. Her bond was set at $5,000 cash or $10,000 in realty. An injunction restraining Mrs. Fuchs from disposing of her assets, including an $8,700 home at the Mozart street address, was issued by Circuit Judge Walter La Buy. Sherwin said Mrs. Fuchs admitted punching time tickets for former employes and cashing pay roll checks issued in their names over a period of four years.

COURT DECREES MURDER TRIAL FOR DE MARIGNY

Defense Produces One Witness at Hearing.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 31 (AP).—Alfred De Marigny, twice divorced yachtsman who married last year into one of the world's wealthiest families, must stand trial before a Bahamas Supreme court jury in October on a charge that he murdered his father-in-law, Harry Oakes, a British baronet.

Alfred De Marigny.

The 34 year old bearded defendant was committed for trial today by Magistrate F. E. Field, who had heard 27 prosecution witnesses at a preliminary hearing give testimony seeking to connect De Marigny with the bludgeoning and burning of Oakes on the night of July 7-8 at his suburban estate, Westbourne.

Shows no Emotion.

"From the evidence," Field declared, "I am satisfied that a prima facie case has been made out against you, and I order you to stand trial at court in the October sessions."

De Marigny was expressionless as he stood before Field to hear the ruling. His 19 year old wife, Nancy, who has told of her faith in her husband's innocence, sat tensely in a nearby chair, but gave no sign of emotion.

Shortly before Field announced his decision, the 28th witness, the only one to speak out for the defense since the hearing was opened July 12, replied to prosecution testimony that microscopic examination showed there were burned hairs on De Marigny's hands and arms after the slaying.

Tells of Examination.

Dr. Ulrich Oberwarth, government physician assigned to the Bahamas prison at the time of De Marigny's arrest, testified that he examined the prisoner July 10.

"I didn't find any signs of burns, scalds or singes whatever," he swore. His examination, Oberwarth added, showed no bruises or scratches.

There was sharp cross-examination from the prosecution, and Oberwarth said it was possible not to detect burned hairs with the naked eye. "The proper way would be to search with a lens, then put the object under a microscope," he added. The physician testified he could not say that there were no burned hairs.

93 Pct. of Navy's Officer Trainees Buy War Bonds

Ninety-three per cent of the naval reserve officer trainees in Chicago and downstate training schools have enrolled in the navy pay roll purchase for war bonds, the 9th naval district announced yesterday.

CIO CHALLENGE OF NAVY RIGHTS IS OVERRULED

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 31 [Special].—Jurisdiction of the United States navy over four guards of the Brewster Aeronautical corporation, whose military arrest precipitated a four day strike at the company's Hatboro, Pa., plant last week, today was challenged at the opening of a general court martial. The contention was overruled.

Louis F. McCabe, counsel for the four guards and their union, local 365 of the CIO United Automobile Workers, contended that the defendants had never been properly enrolled in the coast guard temporary reserve and had been assured that they could resign whenever they wished. Their refusal to accept posts assigned to them at the plant by a senior officer started the strike.

McCabe said the men had resigned from the coast guard unit the day before the strike began and therefore the navy did not have jurisdiction.

CHICAGO CALLED TO CONSTITUTION RALLY SEPT. 17

Heralded as Opening New Fight for Freedom.

Now is the time for Americans to guard their Constitution against assaults camouflaged by globaloney, Charles O. Rundall said yesterday as chairman of the Lawyers Committee for the Defense of the Constitution which will lead Chicago's observance of Sept. 17, the 156th anniversary of the completion of the Constitution.

Coöperation of civic and patriotic organizations will be enlisted to make the celebration an outstanding event. A dinner rally will be held at the Palmer House, with Sen. Wayland Brooks, Gov. Dwight H. Green, and Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, as speakers.

American Liberties at Stake.

Rundall, former president of the Illinois State Bar association, made the announcement and said:

"We will celebrate the Constitution's anniversary at a time when human liberty in practically all nations has vanished, when some individuals in high places in our own government publicly repudiate the Bill of Rights, and hold that we can no longer accommodate our own national safety and security within the framework of our Constitution, and that the functions of our government must be readjusted to guarantee Utopia to the entire world.

"Therefore, the coming anniversary is not a mere sentimental gesture. It partakes of dreadful reality. Fundamental American liberties are at stake.

America Fitted to Guide.

"A vigilant citizenship which loves freedom must be rallied again to prevent the American system from being bent or broken and our Constitution from being infringed upon.

"America is strong enough to coöperate with, assist, and help guide all worthy nations and peoples in their quest for freedom—but only within the framework of our own Constitution, which thru more than a century and a half has safeguarded our own liberty and made us the freest and most powerful nation on earth.

"In the battle of the people, they are entitled to the best expert judgment as to the true meaning of the Constitution and its limitations upon the powers of our government. This is the task of the American lawyer."

Chicago Pioneer in Observance.

Lloyd D. Heth, former president of the Chicago Bar association, is vice chairman of the Constitution day group. S. Ashley Guthrie, a recent member of the Chicago Bar association board of governors, is secretary, and Conrad H. Poppenhusen is a vice chairman.

High public officials are expected to issue appropriate proclamations for the occasion.

3,880 U. S. Cases Await End of Courts' Recess

Federal judges will be confronted with a total of 3,880 pending cases when they return from their summer recess to reconvene court next Tuesday, according to Roy H. Johnson, clerk of the District court.

Name Changed

ANN SOTHERN.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 31 (AP).—Film Actress Ann Sothern had her name changed today to Ann Southern Sterling. She was accompanied to court by her husband, Robert Sterling, who also obtained permission to be known legally as Robert Hart Sterling. He said his true name was William J. Hart. Miss Southern said her real name was Harriette Lake.

NEW GASOLINE RATION COUPON PLAN OUTLINED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 [Special].—The office of price administration today revealed that it plans a new system of coupon rationing of gasoline which will permit stricter supervision of consumption and, it is hoped, eventually enable the eastern states to get some benefit from the recent "equalization" of gasoline allocation.

OPA made its admission after Rep. Fred A. Hartley [D., N. J.], had charged that gasoline being saved by the reduction of midwestern rations was going into the black market instead of being shipped to the east.

OPA's new plan—which is designed to wipe out black markets—would establish coupon issuing centers to replace the present war price and rationing boards as a medium of distributing coupons. These special gasoline panels, it is hoped, would be able to prevent wholesale thefts of gasoline coupons such as have taken place and to prevent the handing out of extra rations as a matter of favor.

CONGRESS READY TO HEED NATION, BROOKS ASSERTS

Crowd at Peotone Cheers Attack on Planners.

When congress reconvenes this month, its members will reflect the desires of the people more ably than at any time in the last 10 years, Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] told a cheering crowd at the Will county fair in Peotone yesterday.

"The return of members of congress to their homes this summer has undoubtedly given the people a chance to express in person their utter dissatisfaction with the seemingly senseless restrictions constantly imposed upon them by arrogant burocratic regulations," the senator declared.

"What the so-called planners fail to realize is that the American people who support and maintain our government submit to the restrictions of that government because they have a voice in government and trust and count on its fairness. The moment the planners become arbitrary and deviate from fundamental law, the people become suspicious and resentful.

Chance to Tell Resentment.

"They have had a chance to express that resentment in person. As a consequence, I believe that congress will more truly reflect the will of the people when it reconvenes."

Brooks told his audience that for 10 years the government has been infested with men and minds that sought to use a depression and now a war to impose upon the country a planned economy. He predicted that the burocrats will flood the country with propaganda for a new drive to change the economic structure of the nation after the war, using the processes of peace to attain their goal.

Prove Free Men Can Fight.

The men who established the American nation sought an opportunity to live in freedom under a government of their own choosing, Sen. Brooks reminded his listeners. Americans did a good job of maintaining that government until 25 years ago when they fought a war to end all wars, he said. "We have now been blown into another war by the greatest naval and military defeats we have ever suffered, but we have proved that free men can outfight any dictator's army," he declared.

Sen. Brooks presented, on behalf of residents of Beecher and Peotone, a wristwatch to Sgt. Clark A. Earhardt of Beecher, a veteran of 25 bombing missions over Europe, who was home on leave. Earhardt holds the distinguished flying cross and three oak leaf clusters.

INDIANA POLLUTION BOARD HEARS, THEN DROPS KELLY PLAN

Mayor Kelly's proposal to build a temporary dike across the Indiana Harbor ship canal as a means of reducing pollution of Lake Michigan by northern Indiana cities was heard yesterday by the Indiana stream pollution control board in Indianapolis, but it got a quick brush-off.

Gov. Henry F. Schricker said there was little prospect of carrying out the project until after the war. Mayor Kelly had suggested that the dike would prevent polluted water from flowing into the lake and instead would force it to flow west thru the Little Calumet river to the Calumet Sag drainage canal.

Chief business transacted by the stream pollution control board was to name as chairman, Dr. Thurman B. Rice, director of the state board of health, and to set up a program for the board, which was created by the last Indiana legislature.

ROOSEVELT AID PICKS WILLKIE TO RUN AGAIN

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 31 (AP).—Eugene Casey, executive assistant to President Roosevelt, declared in an interview here last night with the Minneapolis Tribune that if the President runs for a fourth term the Republicans would nominate Wendell Willkie to oppose him and added that if Mr. Roosevelt did not run "my party looks sunk."

Casey, attending the Minnesota state fair, made it plain he was not predicting that Mr. Roosevelt would run. If the race is between Roosevelt and Willkie, he said, he believes a lot of door bell ringing by the Democrats will be necessary to gain even a close victory.

"Dewey [Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York], who is good when the going is good, might not be headed off from taking over the banner of his party if it finds it is not up against Roosevelt," he said. "And in that connection I hate to say that it does not make much difference who the Republicans put up. If Roosevelt does not run my party looks sunk."

CONGRESSMAN CALLS ON U. S. TO END LEND-LEASE

Jones Believes Military Should Handle Loans.

Troy, O., Aug. 31 [Special].—Rep. Robert F. Jones [R., O.] today declared that the lend-lease administration now is doing for Great Britain and other lend-lease countries what congress has been fighting against as a policy for America — namely, payment of subsidies to stabilize prices. The congressman, who is a member of the house appropriations committee, in an address before the Rotary club here said lend-lease now has become the international counterpart of WPA, AAA, and other alphabetical agencies. He urged that lend-lease as a civilian entity should be scrapped and its work merged into that of the army and navy.

Rep. R. F. Jones.

"Vehicles of Misunderstanding."

Jones said people in the allied countries have not been given the figures on America's full participation in the war effort and seem prone to measure it by lend-lease alone.

"The lend-lease reports," he said, "are first class vehicles of misunderstanding among the united nations. The British people may have some justification for thinking our contribution to the global war is 3 per cent while England contributes 42 per cent, Russia 50 per cent, and China 5 per cent.

"The American people and British people should judge the United States aid to them by the value of the 11 billion dollars of lend-lease in the lend-lease reports, plus the value of equipment and supplies of our own troops going to the same places.

"At the end of the war, if we buy the munitions and supplies from the 65 billion dollars appropriated for lend-lease and the 330 billion dollars appropriated for our own armed services, it is apparent that lend-lease will only be 16 per cent of our war equipment effort. This will not count, of course, the inestimable value of the worth of our fighting men.

Should Be Eliminated.

"Lend-lease should be eliminated in the interest of harmony, allied understanding, and American influence in the community of nations. It should be merged into the army and navy job of winning the war.

Since Pearl Harbor, Jones said the lend-lease administration has devoted its efforts to maintain the civilian economy of our allies.

"According to British price control," he said, "we spent 797 million dollars in 1942 for food shipments to England. Britain is paying out 508 million dollars annually in subsidies. Lend-lease food is sold by the British ministry to the British public, and in 1942 it dispersed 289 million dollars less than the value of the food we shipped her, in subsidies to stabilize prices. Whatever the value of that food is, it is anti-inflationary.

"The total effect of these food shipments is to maintain British price levels. Congress has fought a bitter fight with the President to stop the payment of subsidies to hold down price levels and, without a question, the lend-lease administrator, E. R. Stettinius, has been doing for the British people what congress disapproved of at home.

"The effect of Stettinius' work is something like this: We buy and pay for food, agricultural machinery, manufacturing, mining, and drilling equipment for the use of private corporations and individuals in foreign lands. The foreign governments receive these supplies and sell them to their own nationals at costs lower than their lend-lease evaluations. In addition, lend-lease pays the export, distribution, and shipping costs to the British Isles.

Cost Less in England.

"The cost in the United States of these articles and the lend-lease evaluation is higher than the price the British people would otherwise have to pay in England were they bought thru private channels. The British government, instead of charging the British public and private enterprise the full amount, says, 'You will pay a percentage of this American cost.'

"Lend-lease administration therefore is the international counterpart of farm security administration, the agricultural adjustment administration, the WPA, NYA, CCC, and other New Deal agencies.

"The AAA contention of operation in America has been that the American farmer was not getting a fair income, so the AAA devised ways and means to give him money from the federal treasury for the balance of his income.

"Same as AAA Subsidy."

"The lend-lease shipments of food to England is the same thing as the AAA subsidy of the farmer turned wrongside out.

"The lend-lease program in every foreign country with which it deals encourages the government to say to their people: 'You cannot afford to pay what you normally would in private channels for the articles you need. Your government will procure it and charge you less than the United States paid to procure it and send it to you.'

"In our case we have been paying subsidies to our citizens by cash payments out of the treasury; in the lend-lease countries their subsidy is the markdown. However, we are still paying it out of our treasury.

Wants Spending Stopped.

"The American public says WPA, NYA, CCC, and all government 'lend-spend' agencies should be stopped for the duration of the war because everybody is at work; at the same time, thru lend-lease, we have been encouraging other countries to continue to do the sort of thing we want to stop here."

Jones said Stettinius informed him that under an agreement between the United Kingdom and Russia, the two governments deliver nonmilitary goods to each other at world prices, with contracts in sterling.

"England," said Jones, "sells to our allies munitions and equipment in which she invested cash. Other military equipment for which she did not make a cash outlay, she gives to our allies. Nonmilitary supplies which comprise our 25 billion dollar lend-lease program of Stettinius in no event is given to our allies, but is sold, 40 per cent cash and the balance on credit.

"I submit that the British point of view is correct and that the United States should not lend-lease nonmilitary supplies to maintain the civilian economy of our allies.

"The lend-lease administration should be eliminated to promote harmony, understanding and American influence among the allied nations."

FARM EXECUTIVE PREDICTS 10-15% FOOD REDUCTION

Ralph Moore, Granger, Tex., farmer and secretary of the national farm committee, said here yesterday there will be a 10 to 15 per cent decrease in food for consumption next year "unless the farmer has a price for his products that will let him meet labor competition and unless price restrictions and government directives are removed."

Moore said that freezing of farm labor has not solved the labor shortage. "I don't think a man who is frozen on the farm is worth a darn—he's got to work there because he wants to be there," he said. The farm leader favored abolishing farm machinery restrictions and replacing them with a nonhoarding law and an excess profits law.

Moore was in Chicago to arrange for the national food conference Sept. 16 and 17. Frank Gannett, newspaper publisher and chairman of the board of trustees of the American Agriculturist, will be chairman. Several state secretaries of agriculture are on the governing body, Moore said.

BERLIN BOMBED BY R. A. F.; YANKS POUND FRANCE

War's Fourth Year Ends in Air Offensive.

LONDON, Sept. 1 [Wednesday]—(AP).—R. A. F. bombers blasted at Berlin last night, the British announced today, continuing a great air offensive which American Flying Fortresses helped to sustain by raiding the Nazi airport at Amiens-Glissy in France late yesterday afternoon on the last day of the fourth year of the war.

It was the second successive night attack on Germany and the fourth raid on Berlin within eight days.

A powerful armada of British four engine bombers gave the German capital its worst pounding of the war a week ago Monday night and speedy Mosquito bombers struck blows at the city on the two succeeding nights.

On Major Scale.

Reports from the British southeast coast indicated that last night's attack was carried out on a major scale, watchers there reporting that a great force of R. A. F. bombers had been heard thundering out across the English channel late last evening.

In their attack the Fortresses smashed ammunition dumps, runways, barracks and dispersal areas of the airport, about 50 miles inland northwest of Dieppe and one of the largest German fighter bases.

In air battles fought by the four-engined bombers, at least five German fighters were shot down. Two grounded planes were destroyed by Canadians among the escort. Returning pilots reported little anti-aircraft fire or fighter opposition. Airmen on the raid included Lt. Karl H. Brauer of Indianapolis, Ind.

One Fortress Lost.

One Fortress and two fighters of the escort, made up of American, R. A. F., Dominion and allied planes, were lost.

R. A. F. bombers Monday night penetrated the German Rhineland to pound the industrial cities of Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydt as plywood Mosquito bombers attacked Duisburg.

Then yesterday Marauder medium bombers of the American 8th air force bombed the enemy's Vendeville air field at Lille and a power station and a chemical works at Mazingarbe, near Bethune, in France. R. A. F. bombers attacked an air field near St. Pol in France.

Britain's Meat Rations Will Be Increased Sept. 18

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 1 [Wednesday].—The weekly ration of butcher's meat will be increased from 20 cents worth to about 24 cents a person starting Sept. 18, the food ministry announced today. Canned corned meat will be free of ration. The increases were attributed to the seasonal increase in home killed supplies and "help from the dominions and the United States."

RED CROSS ACTS AGAIN TO STOP PRISONER MOVES

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP).—The British Red Cross has requested the international Red Cross for a second investigation of reports that allied prisoners of war are being moved from Italy to Germany.

The request was prompted by the fact that letters have been received here from a number of men who have been in Italian hands for a year or more and now are in Germany. The British foreign office said the letters indicated the transfers took place just before Benito Mussolini's dismissal.

A preliminary report made by the Swiss government last week in response to a previous request for an investigation said there was no confirmation of reported transfers.

Queen Wilhelmina's Vow to Resurrect Nation Told

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP).—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, 63 years old today, is filled with "one burning desire," one of her ministers said tonight in a broadcast to the United States—"the resurrection of the Netherlands and the continuation of our fight until the last enemy has been defeated." The statement was made by Colonial Minister Hubertus J. Van Mook, who spoke on "The House of Orange—a National Force in Dutch Democracy" over facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting system.

MEXICO RECORDS HEAVY QUAKE.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31 [AP].—A heavy earth tremor was noted by the federal observatory today from 10:12 until 10:14 a. m. The observatory said the shock probably was centered about 550 miles southeast of Mexico City.

STRIKE THREATS AT 2 HOSPITALS DIMMED BY AFL

Threat of strikes at the state hospitals at Kankakee and Manteno was eased yesterday when Mrs. Helen Sewell, state representative of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employes' union [AFL] ordered a 90 day "cooling off" period during which the state department of public welfare will review the reclassifications of 1,300 employes who have filed complaints about their jobs and salaries.

Mrs. Sewell, who said a strike notice filed by state employes at the two hosptials was unauthorized, announced the 90 day waiting period after conferring in Springfield with William W. Knoch, fiscal superintendent of the department of welfare.

She said she and Knoch signed a memorandum under which review of the disputed classifications would be made. Mrs. Sewell said she represented 3,700 welfare department employes in 23 institutions.

YANK AIR FORCE BATTLES FOE 100 MILES OVER SEA

Hurls Tons of Bombs on Italian Railways.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 31 (AP).—Swarms of reenforced German fighters opening the bitterest air battle over Italy—it swirled 100 miles out to sea—failed in a desperate attempt yesterday to halt medium Marauder [B-26] bombers from raining tons of bombs on choked freight yards at Aversa north of Naples.

Seventeen enemy attackers were shot down in this sternest opposition of the day. Flying Fortresses meanwhile ripped up the airdrome at Viterbo and Mitchells [B-25s] and Wellingtons spread ruin in the key railway junction of Civitavecchia. Both lie north of Rome.

In all, 21 axis planes were destroyed in these and other raids on southern Italy. Fifteen allied planes were lost, allied headquarters announced today.

Battle Way to Target.

Seventy to 75 axis fighters, predominantly German, pounced on the Marauder formations and their Lightning [P-38] escorts as they roared in over the coast heading for Aversa. Marauder gunners blasted 10 of them and then swept in to bomb the town's rail tracks, warehouses, and freight cars.

The Lightnings meanwhile battled with the enemy in low altitude dogfights that raged 100 miles out from the coast on the homeward leg.

Messerschmitts equipped with auxiliary fuel tanks for long range took up the fight after the first wave of attackers was forced to turn back. The Lightnings accounted for seven fighters.

Forts Attack Airdrome.

Fortress crews knocked down two out of a score of fighters at Viterbo and laid their bombs on hangars and dispersal areas of the airdrome 40 miles north of Rome.

Civitavecchia northwest of Rome, a junction on the Rome-Leghorn railroad, was hit by day and night by American medium Mitchells and R. A. F. Wellingtons without loss and without opposition.

The Mitchells wrecked tracks in the northwest section, bombed the station, warehouses, and locomotive sheds, and Wellingtons with blockbuster bombs hit a chemical works, transformer station, and blew up an entire train.

Bomb Railway Junctions.

American Invaders [A-36s] bombed the railway junctions of Sapri and Lameza in southern Italy, wrecking a bridge at Sapri and firing oil stores at Lameza, and exploded an entire train loaded with airplane parts near Reggio Calabria. In other tactical air force operations Mitchell bombers hammered the freight yards at Paola, and R. A. F. Bostons [A-20s] and Baltimores bombed the yards at Catanzaro Marina.

Warhawks [P-40s] knocked out a steel railway bridge near Decimomannu air field in Sardinia and destroyed a radio tower at Pula.

[The Italian high command said 40 allied planes were shot down in the Naples and Rome sections, and that German planes raiding Augusta in Sicily damaged an allied merchant ship and several landing barges.]

REPORT LANDING IN ITALY.

A German broadcast, unconfirmed by any allied quarters, reported a landing by 400 British troops on Sunday southeast of Reggio Calabria on the bottom of the Italian toe.

All except 30, still at large in the mountains, were reported to have been rounded up. Berlin described the landing as preparatory to large scale operations. In London the report was viewed, if true, as possible reconnaissance, or a small hit-run feint.

Swedish newspapers quoted a German foreign office military spokesman as saying the allies were massing invasion fleets at Tunisia, Sicily and Oran for possible drives against Italy and southern France.

Diane Carol and Karen Lynn, both of whom weighed 5 pounds 3 ounces at birth, now weight 16 pounds 6 ounces and 15½ pounds, respectively. Elizabeth Ann, who weighed 3 pounds 1 ounce, now tips the scales at 13 pounds 11 ounces. The Quists have two other children, June, 11 years old, and Buddy, 9.

Chinese Inflict Heavy Loss on Japs at Kinhwa

CHUNGKING, China, Aug. 31 (AP).—Clashes around Japanese held Kinhwa, an important railway town in Chekiang province, were reported today in a Chinese bulletin which stated that in one section "the enemy suffered heavily before retreating." The Chinese attacked and killed more than half the Japanese troops convoying a salt carrying boat near Isinan and took booty, including more than 100 rifles, the bulletin said.

GEN. MARSHALL RETAINS POST AS CHIEF OF STAFF

Eisenhower Gets Rank of Major General.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—President Roosevelt today announced that Gen. George C. Marshall was being continued as army chief of staff altho his four year term in that office expired today.

At the same time he announced that Gen. Eisenhower, commander of the allied forces in North Africa, has been made a permanent major general in the regular army and has been awarded the distinguished service medal.

Gen. Marshall is the second man to be continued as chief of staff beyond the four year term and the first to be granted a continuance in time of war. Gen. MacArthur, commander in chief of the southwest Pacific area, was granted an extension as chief of staff by President Roosevelt in 1933.

Invasion Command Expected.

It has been expected Gen. Marshall might leave the office of chief of staff and take command of an allied expeditionary force in the event of an invasion of western Europe.

Gen. Eisenhower has held the permanent rank of colonel in the regular army and his rank of general as allied commander is temporary. The promotion and the decoration were awarded in recognition of his service in Africa and in Sicily.

The citation for his decoration follows:

"As commander in chief of the allied forces in North Africa Gen. Eisenhower has, by skillful planning and direction, made an outstanding contribution to the war effort of the allied nations. The organization and leadership of the expedition to occupy North Africa was a notable contribution.

African Regime Hailed.

"Thereafter by his firmness and sound judgment Gen. Eisenhower was successful in the prompt establishment of a well organized regime in North Africa, including the invaluable participation of French troops in the military operations which followed.

"In the face of violent axis resistance in Tunisia he successfully coördinated the British, American, and French air, ground, and naval forces in a decisive campaign which destroyed the last elements of axis resistance on the African continent. In a brilliant campaign of 38 days Gen. Eisenhower directed the combined operations leading to the conquest of Sicily and reduced Italy to a state of military impotence.

"Thruout the period of these operations, in preparation and execution, Gen. Eisenhower has displayed conspicuous ability to secure complete unity of command and action of a great allied force, with disastrous consequences to the enemy."

2d Payment Due Today on Real Estate Taxes

Today is the deadline for the payment of the second instalment of 1942 real estate taxes. County Treasurer Victor L. Schlaeger said that under the law a penalty of 1 per cent a month must be added to unpaid tax bills beginning tomorrow.

NAZI SLAUGHTER ON COPENHAGEN STREETS BARED

Report Patrols Fire on Groups of Over 5.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 31 (AP).—Refugees from revolt torn Denmark tonight reported German armored patrols were shooting into any groups of five or more persons congregating in Copenhagen and that the street executions were keeping the tension at a warlike pitch.

Crowds have been forbidden by the Nazi military dictatorship.

As a wave of general strikes spread thru nine Danish cities, King Christian XI., in his first appearance since the Nazis took over the country, gave what Danes interpreted as tacit approval of their resistance.

Danes Ignore Crowd Ban.

The king, driving under Nazi guard with the queen into Lyngby, a village near Sorgenfri castle, where he has been imprisoned, was greeted by thousands of cheering Danes, who ignored the German ban against gatherings of more than five persons. Addressing the people the king said:

"I am happy to hear the Danish language still spoken in my own country. Continue with that."

Refugees who eluded German patrols and escaped to Sweden said that when five or more persons were seen together in Copenhagen German patrols poured machine gun fire into the groups, killing many. The refugees said people could not even wait together for street cars.

One group of refugees was brought to Sweden in a Danish minesweeper which, eluding German warship and plane patrol, slipped between Copenhagen and Skodesborg and picked up 11 civilians.

Strikes Cripple All Trades.

One refugee said that on Monday three Danes were standing on a street in Copenhagen when German soldiers marched by. One Dane said something to make the trio laugh. The Germans took offense and shot and killed all three.

The strikes, which began yesterday, paralyzed every kind of business. The German occupation army rushed troops to the affected areas and began to round up union leaders to prevent the stoppages from growing.

The strike-bound cities included Aarhus, Denmark's second largest, with a population of 90,000, and Hjoerring, Saeby, Aalborg, Viborg, Skagen, Grenaa, Fredericia, and Svenborg.

Danes who eluded German patrols and crossed the narrow waters to southwestern Sweden reported Gestapo agents had seized police stations in Copenhagen and probably in other cities as a precaution against the Danish police, who have been notably anti-Nazi.

Motor Traffic Curbed.

German troops were said to be guarding key railway depots and all motor traffic was banned except for military purposes and by physicians.

[The British radio said Nazi occupation forces had begun persecuting Danish Jews and had arrested more than 50 Jewish leaders. The broadcast added that several Danish political leaders had also been arrested, together with the editors of two Danish newspapers.]

The last Danish military resistance was said to have been snuffed out yesterday by German armored forces and the Nazis today began interning all Danish army and navy officers to prevent further resistance. Total casualties in the Sunday uprising were said to be at least 2,000 persons killed or wounded.

"Free" Regime Expected.

Denmark's international political status remained uncertain as Danish leaders outside the country waited for a sign on how long Germany planned to retain military dictatorship over the land.

With King Christian and the government, which resigned within a few hours, apparently powerless, Danish citizens in Stockholm expressed the belief that a "Free Danish" government would be formed in London and united formally with the allied nations.

The Swedish government announced steps to take care of Danish refugees. They will be interned for a short period until employment and homes can be provided.

SWEDES RALLY TO PROTEST NAZI SINKING OF SHIPS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 31 (AP).—The Swedish press today reported protest meetings were being held thruout the country on the Nazi sinking of two Swedish fishing boats Aug. 25 off Denmark and Germany's flat rejection of Sweden's protest of the action.

The newspaper Aftonbladet quoted a fisherman on one of three other boats which escaped from the attack as saying: "The Germans kept firing their machine guns while the men from the sunken ships were swimming in the water."

The newspaper Aftontidningen said: "For the future, it obviously is no use to protest against German actions. It seems one can not have normal diplomatic relations with Germany. Normal diplomatic relations are based on rights, but Germany does not recognize rights or acknowledge responsibility. When Germany argues that Sweden is hemmed in by German armies and must behave politely, all basis for normal diplomatic relations is eliminated."

WFA RELEASES MORE BUTTER FOR CIVILIANS

U. S. Purchases Reduced for Two Months.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—The war food administration today announced that the amount of butter which producers must set aside for government purchase has been reduced from 30 to 20 per cent of September production.

The allotment for October, which had been set at 30 per cent, was canceled. The action was in line with the government's previously announced plan to assure civilians "a relatively steady flow of butter, even during the fall and winter season of low production," the WFA reported. It followed complaints of butter shortages in some sections.

Further Extension Likely.

In addition to eliminating the government's allotment for October, the WFA indicated all production for November, December, January, and possibly February might be diverted to civilian tables.

"It is expected that after Sept. 30 no more butter will be set aside until production begins to pick up seasonally," the WFA said.

It said a large portion of government requirements was met during the spring and summer months of heavy production, making it possible for civilians to receive most or all of the output during the fall and winter.

Expected to Meet Demand.

"It is estimated that the lower percentage [for September] will provide sufficient additional butter to meet government requirements during fall and winter," the WFA added.

Percentages set aside are adjusted periodically in accordance with WFA allocations for the fiscal year under which civilians are allotted nearly 80 per cent of the estimated butter supply. The government set aside 50 per cent of the total during May, June, and July, the peak production months.

The WFA reported butter in storage totaled 210 million pounds on Aug. 1.

RAIL CRASH KILLS MAN.

TRAINER PLANE GETS AIR SHOW EMPHASIS TODAY

To emphasize the importance of training planes, today will be primary trainer day at the Air Power show in Tribune square. Only six more days are left for the public to see the show, which is sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and the army air forces materiel command. It will close Labor day night.

Daniel Peterkin Jr., president of the Howard Aircraft corporation, and Roy A. Watkins, executive vice president and general manager of the company, will address the crowd at 12:30 p. m. from the cockpit of the PT-23, which is on display next to the troop carrying glider. The PT-23, which is manufactured by the Howard company five miles east of St. Charles, is used to train cadet army pilots in combat tricks.

Lt. Dominic Di Vincenzo of the army air forces 9th tow target squadron will be interviewed over the show's public address system regarding his experiences in the PT-23. Tentative plans call for three PT-23s to be flown over Tribune Tower at 12:30 p. m. to signalize the opening of the program.

FEATHERS FLY FOR OWI FILM IN INDIANA TOWN

Mr. Jones Plucks Them for Propaganda.

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Ind., Aug. 31.—Thanks to Washington, six hens and Hollywood movie crews sent here by the office of war information, the world may some day know how Mr. Raymond Jones, the local poultry man, defeathers chickens.

Josef von Sternberg, the Hollywood movie director who made quite a bit of the world Marlene Dietrich conscious, announced the poultry project in midmorning. He was decked out in flaring riding breeches, a polo shirt and brown riding boots, his greying hair lay neatly in waves. Dark glasses shielded his eyes, his mustache was cut low so as to droop around both corners of his mouth. He was a very distinguished sight for Madison, a town of 8,000.

During the morning the camera crew was to shoot general scenes to serve as an opening for the movie, "Small Town," by which the OWI hopes to convince the world abroad that there is nothing like life in a small American town. The entire nation was studied, according to OWI, before Madison was selected.

Jacket Factory Next.

"We shall brush off this chicken business and then go up to the jacket factory," Von Sternberg said. "We shall begin at 1 p. m. He gave the technicians a look. They, supplied by OWI, had been 5 minutes late reporting in the morning and he had read them the riot act.

The technicians, who boast that "Small Town" is the biggest piece of propaganda ever attempted by OWI, were at Mr. Jones' poultry shop at 12:40 p. m. One o'clock passed. Two o'clock. They muttered.

"It makes a difference who is late," one said.

"Josef von Sternberg of Vienna is nothing but Joe Stern of Brooklyn with a big head," said another.

At 2:35 the director drove up in a station wagon. "We got caught in the country," he said. "We will begin as soon as we have lunch and the camera men load some film." He returned in 45 minutes. But then the camera men, also supplied by OWI, were absent. About 4 p. m. they arrived in another station wagon.

Lose 90 Minutes.

"For our general information," the director said, "how long does it take to load film."

"Five minutes," said the OWI man whose job that is. "But I had to unload some too."

"And that takes five minutes more?"

The workman said he guessed so. The director looked at his wristwatch. "We have lost," he announced, "one hour and a half."

The camera crew set up the camera on its rubber tired platform. The light crew arranged two spotlights and one flood light. Les, the mechanic chief, started up two huge generators carried on a truck—the crew boss said the truck could generate enough electricity for all Madison.

Please, a Stool.

The director turned to a colored boy doing odd jobs. "Sam, bring me a stool," he said. Sam turned to Frank, who works in the poultry house and relayed the message. Frank looked around and didn't see any stool. Minutes passed and no stool. The, director accustomed to the magic of a director's power in Hollywood, reached out for the stool that wasn't there. Surprised, he turned to Mr. Jones and asked if please, Mr. Jones, could he have a barrel to stand on.

Les, his cap turned sidewise in proper movie fashion, found an old bench. Proudly he produced it. Ben, the crew chief, held out a book listing shots. The director pushed it away.

Mr. Jones was becoming restless. "I got lots of work to do," he said.

"I am very sorry, Mr. Jones," the director said. "I realize we must not delay you."

Mr. Jones Plucks and Plucks.

In about 20 minutes the lights were set. The director asked a trial chicken be picked. Mr. Jones plucked a chicken from a pot of boiling water and pressed it against a revolving rubber buffer which he has built. The rubber prongs ripped off the feathers.

"Is this supposed to show freedom from want?" Ben, the crew chief, was asked.

Ben shook his head. "No," he said, "freedom of enterprise."

The director moved over on the bench and Larry, the camera man, climbed up beside him.

The camera ground. Mr. Jones plucked another chicken.

Sticks to His Routine.

"Let's try it again, and please, Mr. Jones, could you hold the chicken in your other hand so we can see it," the director said.

Lights. Camera. Feathers flew. But Mr. Jones didn't change hands.

"Mr. Jones, next time will you roll the chicken and depilate him as fast as possible so we can see the chicken," the director said, trying a new attack.

Camera. More feathers. Mr. Jones did his usual routine.

The director ran a hand thru his hair. Sweat was rolling down his cheeks. Sweat showed thru his shirt back. "Please, Mr. Jones," he said, "I don't want to seem picayunish but will you please hold the chicken so we can see it?"

Another chicken lost its feathers.

"Maybe we should change the lights," suggested Larry. The director yielded. Tony, the chief electrician, swapped a spot light and the flood light. The crew moved the camera. Now maybe they could see the chicken.

"Let's try again," the director said. They did.

"Mr. Jones, instead of taking another chicken, just hold that one against your machine and make as tho you were defeathering it. And move around to one side of the machine. Will you do that, please, Mr. Jones?"

The camera buzzed. Von Sternberg jumped down from his bench. "Thank you very much, Mr. Jones," he said. It was 4:55. He turned to the crews and said that would be all for the day.

This Isn't Hollywood.

"We planned to stay here a month," Von Sternberg said. "But I don't know. This isn't Hollywood. The people are very coöperative."

Mr. Jones smiled. "Now we'll have to call him Raymond Robert Taylor Jones," cracked one of the score who had gathered to see the start of the first movie made in Madison.

Barney Hughes, tobacco man appointed by the city to act as liaison man between it and the movie man because he knows just about every one in town, was bewildered. "Is that Ray's full name?" he asked.

"I mean we will have to call him that after Robert Taylor," the spectator said.

Barney was still befuddled. "Who," he asked, "is Robert Taylor?"

CHICAGO MARINE LUGS HIS ACCORDION ALONG TO PLAY FOR BUDDIES

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC [Delayed].—The marines like melody whether they are in or near a fight—and they don't care if they have to supply it themselves.

Portable radios with short wave attachments are general favorites of the enlisted personnel. But when radios are taboo, marines supply their own music.

Pvt. Charles Drebena, 20, 3710 West LeMoyne street, Chicago, is an accordionist who lugs along his own "squeeze box." He's been "messing around" with the accordion for six years and is in great demand among his mates.

DUPED IN CONFIDENCE GAME.

Mrs. Sadie Eisenberg, 70 years old, 1437 Rosemont avenue, told police yesterday that two men posing as collectors for charity obtained $125 and jewelry worth $125 from her as evidence of her good faith when they gave her a bag they said contained their funds. The bag was stuffed with old paper.

OBJECTORS' GIRL FRIENDS AT CAMP IRK LEGISLATOR

Wires Hershey Protest of Privileges.

Bath, N. Y., Aug. 31 [Special].—Rep. W. Sterling Cole [R., N. Y.] today demanded that Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey, selective service director, end the privilege granted conscientious objectors in the camp at Big Flats, near Elmira, N. Y., of having their wives and sweethearts visit them and live on the station.

The request was made by Rep. Cole in a telegram to Washington, D. C., after the congressman had visited the camp. Residents of the district say objectors were being accorded privileges which were denied to soldiers and sailors, according to Rep. Cole.

Rep. Cole declared he had interviewed Director Winslow H. Osborne of the camp and that the director declared he had permitted the women to visit their boy friends and husbands because the rules did not forbid such visits and that he was under the impression that it was being done in other camps for conscientious objectors.

Churches Rule Camp.

Regulations governing the camps are laid down by a committee appointed by various religious denominations by selective service officials. The religious groups are financially responsible for the camp.

The camp at Big Flats formerly was occupied by the civilian conservation corps. The women visitors are housed in a converted dormitory which is also the home of the director and his family, the dietitian, and a camp nurse. They pay for their board and laundry, according to Rep. Cole.

As many as 16 women have lived at the camp at one time, the congressman said, adding there were six or eight there when he made his investigation. Director Osborne said he placed a limit of one week on the visits but admitted that this rule was not rigidly enforced.

Objectors Test Soil.

There are 132 objectors in the camp, which is now engaged in an experimental soil conservation project for the department of agriculture.

Rep. Cole's telegram to Gen. Hershey said that: "While the cost of this hospitality is not borne by the government and some effort is made to limit the length of the visits, I protest against the practice. The country respects the religious faith of any organization in war as in peace, but this consideration should not extend to making available to conscientious objectors excessive privileges, opportunities denied to men in service.

"I strongly urge this matter be given your immediate consideration and a directive issued discontinuing the practice."

30 SEAMEN PERISH AFTER COLLISION OFF CANADA EAST COAST

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Aug. 31 (AP).—Thirty seaman perished as an aftermath of a collision recently between two allied merchantmen about 300 miles off Nova Scotia, it was disclosed today. The bodies were brought here aboard the flame swept tanker on which they died. Several other crew members of the tanker were injured and some required hospital treatment. Details of the accident were not made public but an investigation was begun tonight.

LIONEL BARRYMORE
gives you his "Pick of the Post" on the newsstands today

AMONG the immortals of the theatre, the name of Lionel Barrymore will live as long as there are memories to recall his art. As a man of infinite talent—actor, musician, composer, illustrator, director and radio star, and no less for his ideals of Americanism, he is admired and respected by millions. In a moment of relaxation he tells you what he thinks of the new Saturday Evening Post.

"Well, now, it strikes me that this new Post is just about everything a magazine should be. I like a play or a magazine that has something to say and says it... sort of thing that leaves you with something to remember. If I'm any judge of entertainment, I'd say you're putting on a darn good performance for the American family—every week."

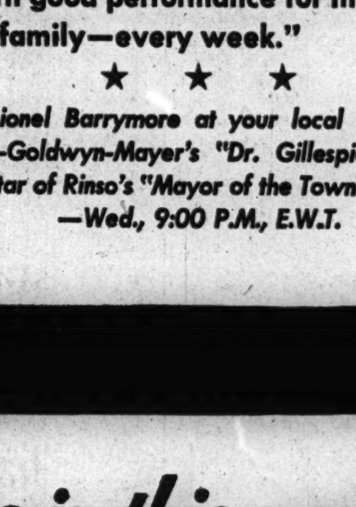
1 WE SKIP-BOMB THE JAPS
by Charles A. Rawlings
(FROM SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC)

"MAYBE it's because I like the nerve of these correspondents, or I'm just plain mad at these cussed Japs, but this story of the bombing of a Jap ship is what I call a humdinger. Imagine that Charley Rawlings sitting by the open bomb-bay doors, watching the bombs fall on that wriggling Jap ship down there. Bet he wished he'd stayed home when they flew down to two hundred feet and smacked her to kingdom come. That's a great story."

2 NOT ACCORDING TO THE BOOK
by Gene Henry

"I LIKE a good fiction story that gets off the beaten path, and this tale of two who were head-over-heels in love is different. 'Least I think so. You give a modern American woman the right man and seventy-two hours to win him—mix in a little boy's heart-break and an accident to give just the right amount of inspiration—and you've got a plot that maybe isn't according to the book, but it makes darn good reading for every-one in the family."

3 THE BEARD THAT TALKS LIKE A MAN
by Frederick C. Othman



"THIS story of Monty Woolley and his beard that made him famous is one of the incredible stories out of incredible Hollywood. But it proves again that anything can happen here. You don't often read of a starving ex-Yale professor growing orange-colored whiskers to earn a living on the stage. But bless me if he didn't make a hit in "The Man Who Came to Dinner"—and now he's the most surprising movie star of them all."

NEW ALLIED RAID ON WEWAK; RIP 20 JAP PLANES

Enemy Bombers Blasted on New Britain.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 1 [Wednesday]—(AP).—More than 20 grounded Japanese planes have been destroyed in a new raid on Wewak, New Guinea, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Strike at New Britain.

The new attack quickly followed another on Sunday in which at least 37 enemy planes were destroyed. More than 350 Japanese aircraft have been wrecked there since Aug. 17.

On near-by New Britain, allied Marauders set five grounded Japanese bombers afire at Cape Gloucester.

Three hundred fifty miles below Wewak at Salamaua, where American and Australian troops are closing in on the enemy's airdrome, headquarters reported today that seesaw fighting was in progress.

Advance on Arundel.

In the Solomons arm of the Pacific offensive, Gen. MacArthur's spokesman said Americans are continuing an unopposed advance on Arundel Island, west of New Georgia and within artillery shelling distance of Japan's air base of Vila, Kolombangara.

In a favorite hunting ground for Japanese ships off New Ireland, a Flying Fortress has bombed and strafed a destroyer. In the same area, yesterday's bulletin had told of a bomb hit by a Catalina on a Japanese cruiser. A 7,000 ton Japanese cargo ship was sunk recently in the same sector.

U. S. UNCOVERS NO PERJURY IN JOHNSON TRIAL

Assistant United States Atty. William J. Connor disclosed yesterday that the government has failed to find any basis for the charges of William R. Johnson, once Chicago's most widely known gambler, that Atty. William Goldstein had committed perjury in testifying against Johnson in the latter's income tax trial in federal court three years ago.

Thus, if further investigation reveals substantiation of Johnson's charges, the government cannot indict Goldstein on the charges because the deadline under the statute of limitations expired yesterday.

PILOT'S OVERCOAT STOLEN.

Martin Weirauch, an American Airlines pilot, told police yesterday that his uniform overcoat had been stolen from his automobile parked at the airport.

SOLDIERS INVESTING 24 MILLION DOLLARS PER MONTH IN BONDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—American soldiers have authorized deductions of $24,640,332 a month from their pay for the purchase of war bonds, the treasury reported today. A total of 2,346,350 soldiers are participating in the plan.

Also doing their share to pay for the war are the nation's sailors, who purchased $138,395,555 worth of war bonds in the first seven months of 1943, the treasury said.

A survey of bond buying by the fighting men in the European area showed that instead of limiting their war bond purchases to 10 per cent of their pay, many have authorized deductions of up to 16 per cent.

DAIRIES VIOLATE WHOLESALE TOP, SAYS OPA IN SUIT

The office of price administration yesterday moved to forestall demands by Chicago area milk distributors for ¼ to ½ cent a quart increase in retail prices. The present retail price ceiling on milk in Chicago is 16½ cents a quart for home delivery and 14½ cents in stores.

In an injunction suit filed in United States District court against the Pure Milk association and 14 other milk distributors, John D. Hastings, regional chief of the OPA food enforcement unit, charged they had violated the wholesale price ceilings by offering dairy farmers illegal premiums.

A hearing on the motion for a preliminary injunction will be held today before Federal Judge John P. Barnes.

The defendants in addition to the Pure Milk association are Wagner Milk Products, Inc., the Borden company, Bowman Dairy company, Hawthorn-Mellody Farms Dairy, Inc., Maywood Farms company, Ray E. Brandt, Brandt dairy, Barrington; Snow White Dairy, Inc.; Marx Brothers dairy, West Chicago; Ludwig Milk company, Elgin; R. S. Pearsall Butter company, Elgin; Rouse Brothers dairy, Round Lake; Willow Dale Dairy company; Willow Farm Products, La Grange, and Modern Dairy company, Inc.

TOOLS AND DIES STOLEN.

Precision tools and dies valued at $900 and virtually irreplaceable, were taken by burglars from the plant of the Chicago Printed String company, 2320 Logan boulevard, William Herman, 5824 Addison street, the superintendent, reported to police yesterday.

MEET BULL; HIS NAME'S LEGEND IN NEW GUINEA

Hero's Feats of Strength Rival Bunyan's.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. TROOPS NEAR SALAMAUA, New Guinea, Aug. 26 [Delayed].—When the American veterans of the battle of Mount Tambu in New Guinea reminisce in the years ahead, there is one name sure to come up. It is that of Corp. Leslie [Bull] Allen, an Australian aid man. It won't be surprising if Allen finally attains the stature of Paul Bunyan, legendary giant woodchopper.

Allen is famous already for his feats in Libya and Syria where he was with the Australian army. He won the awed admiration of the Yanks at Mount Tambu when he volunteered to help American medical corps men with the wounded. Unaided he carried between 10 and 17 wounded on his back down a steep hill and up another hill equally steep for perhaps 250 yards each trip while under fire. Finally he passed out from exhaustion, but had to be restrained from returning to the task after his recovery.

Disdains Using Litter.

Allen, 23 years old, lives in Ballarat, Victoria. An orphan since he was 11, he worked at one time on a dairy farm, then became a sheep shearer, and later a laborer. He financed his sister's schooling and she now is a nurse in Melbourne.

Allen, with size 17 collar and a barrel chest, is perhaps 5 feet 6 inches tall. His physical endurance is almost unbelievable. Only on two occasions has he used a litter. Each time he crawled with the litter supported on his back.

During the Crystal creek engagement early this year he was credited with carrying a wounded Aussie 1,000 yards while under machine gun and rifle fire, using the fireman's carry, and shooting a Jap sniper in a tree with a pistol he carried in his left hand during the journey. He got a military medal for that feat. He has been slightly wounded by enemy fire four times but never seriously enough to lose a day's work.

Sews Wound Under Fire.

Here are some testimonials by Yanks who saw his work at Mount Tambu:

Pvt. Darwin Goslin of Marshalltown, Ia.: "One boy was shot thru the shoulder and was bleeding badly. Bull reached into the wound and stopped the bleeding. He asked for needle and thread and sewed the wounded boy up under fire. He was running up and down the hill, just running all the time, going for all he was worth till he passed out from exhaustion."

Capt. Delmar Newman of Eugene, Ore.: "He really was a character; Old Bull was smiling and laughing all the time, but it was not braggadocio. He was very good in bringing the wounded out, saying, 'I'll be right there laddie, hold on.' He went right out and threw the man over his shoulder and lugged him up a hill and down a hill and every other hill and actually worked so hard and long, he finally passed out from fatigue. He was carrying men down hill and uphill and then returning the same route—sharp, slick hills, with plenty of lead flying around. He was such an inspirational factor in evacuation work that other aid men were trying to keep up his example."

"He'd Carry Them Out."

A major said: "He worked till he was so tired he had to have the wounded lifted off his shoulders, but he'd still carry them out."

I just thought you would like to know what our boys mean when they refer affectionately to "the one man medical battalion." Old Bull's name is now a by-word up and down the New Guinea coast.

50,000 Greeks Guerrillas; 100,00 More Wait Arms

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 30 Delayed] — (AP).— A semi-diplomatic source said today Greek patriots, operating in close liaison with the allied command, are disrupting axis communications and recently captured a key pass in the Pindus mountains. Nearly 50,000 Greeks are now fighting in the patriot companies and about 100,000 more are ready to join the allies whenever they receive arms, it was said.

WANT TO GIVE UP "DOSING" FOR GOOD?

Try This Natural "Regulator" Food!

Don't lose hope, even if you've tried one harsh pill or cathartic after another, with no lasting relief! For many people there is a safe, pleasant way! One that doesn't prod your bowels—rob your system of water—or "sweep you out"! It's KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN!

The secret, scientists say, is that KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN "gets at" one big cause of common constipation—by supplying the cellulosic elements needed for normal evacuation—should they be lacking in the diet. These elements assist the intestinal flora in lightening and fluffing up the contents of the colon, for easy, satisfactory elimination!

Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't give up "dosing" — for good! Remember, too—ALL-BRAN is amazingly nutritious! Each ounce contains more iron than two eggs, more phosphorus than a glass of milk! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

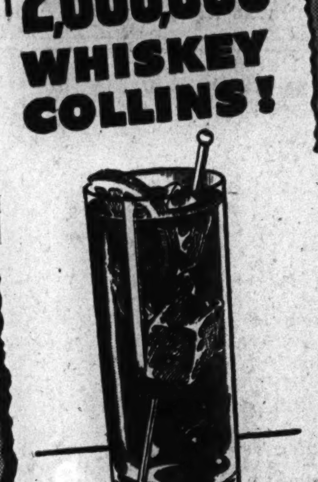
SAYS JAP FLYERS TRIED TO LAND ON YORKTOWN

Two squadrons of Japanese carrier based planes tried to land on the aircraft carrier Yorktown and were fought off by returning American planes during the battle of the Coral sea, Lt. Comdr. D. D. Jackson, who was dental officer on the Yorktown, revealed last night at the annual banquet of the Canvas Goods Manufacturers' association in the Drake hotel.

Comdr. Jackson said that in the Pacific our forces have been outnumbered, but that "heroism of American seamen has made up the odds." The dental officer, a native of Wheaton, now attached to Great Lakes Naval Training station, urged his listeners to accept war sacrifices necessary by civilians.

Lt. Seymour Brown, a medical officer on a destroyer which rescued men from the Yorktown after it was torpedoed in June, 1942, also spoke at the dinner.

TASTE A $2,000,000 WHISKEY COLLINS!



Ever sip a really perfect Whiskey Collins? You probably haven't—so here's the recipe below! We call it a $2,000,000 "dream of a drink"—because that's what Fleischmann invested in grains, skill and research before we released one golden bottle of this rich, straight bourbon whiskey. We make it in limited amounts. We have to—it's so good!

FIRST, GET FLEISCHMANN'S BOND

THEN DO THIS!

1. Take 1 teaspoonful of sugar, 1 oz. of lemon juice, and 2 oz. of magnificent Fleischmann's Bond!

2. Shake well! Then—pour into a tall, thin, sparkling glass!

3. Add ice cubes, and fill to the brim with club soda! Then . . . Relax! You'll want to—for you'll be sipping one of America's grandest drinks!

3 JUMP AS FORT FALLS OFF ITALY; IN SEA 54 HOURS

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 31 (AP).—Three survivors of a Flying Fortress which crashed after a raid last week on an Italian steel and arms center near Rome, spent 54 hours in the Mediterranean, swimming much of that time, before they were rescued.

They were Lt. Peter M. Robeck, Los Angeles, Cal., bombardier; Lt. Richard E. Jameson, Reno, Nev., navigator, and Sgt. Jack Ledford, Andrews, N. C., tail gunner. They were rescued by a Catalina flying boat and brought to North Africa.

Their Fortress was the tail plane in an unescorted formation which encountered a number of German fighter planes after the bombing. One fighter dived on them, knocked out Ledford's gun with the first burst, and put at least two incendiary cannon shells into the pilot's cockpit. Ledford bailed out.

His Chute Riddled.

The plane had fallen several thousand feet when Jameson dropped from the forward escape hatch. Robeck jumped at about 7,000 feet.

"I pulled my ripcord as soon as I cleared the ship and my heart froze," said Robeck. "My parachute was riddled with holes, apparently from fragments of an explosive shell. I went down with my chute twirling above me and closing from time to time. By kicking my legs out and around I could make my body turn beneath the sack and in that way reopen it.

"I hit the water all right and got clear of the chute harness."

Jameson and Ledford landed close to one another. Jameson swam over to Ledford, who was unable to swim, as soon as he had inflated his Mae West life vest and kicked off his shoes.

It was a little after 11 a. m. when the three landed in the sea. For the next 24 hours they paddled about, compelled to keep in motion to offset the effects of the cold water.

Heads for Italy.

"Then Jameson, with Ledford clinging to his back, struck out to the east for the coast of Italy," Robeck said.

Robeck went southward, hoping to pass during the night the path of Italian transport planes which he had seen shuttling east and west about five miles to the south.

A British plane sighted Robeck about noon the following day and dropped smoke flares, to mark the spot, and a life raft on which Robeck promptly raised a signal flag. Soon he heard shouts. He paddled until he came upon Jameson and Ledford—so near exhaustion that they were unable to reach a raft that the Britisher had dropped near them.

A British B-26 medium bomber appeared an hour later and circled over them most of the afternoon after it had dropped more rafts and a water can. The three slumbered on the rafts until the next morning, then waited patiently, watching formations of P-38s [Lightning fighter planes] and Fortresses passing over on new bombing missions.

It was nearly 5 p. m. when five P-38s appeared, escorting the Catalina, which landed and made the rescue.

At the hospital it was found that the three flyers had suffered only a few scratches in addition to exhaustion and sunburn. All were awarded Purple Hearts and air medals.

The other crewmen, who were casualties, were the first lost by this squadron in 121 combat missions flown first in England and then in North Africa.

Look in your mirror
NEXT MONDAY MORNING...

EVER since the first LABOR DAY, artists have been drawing pictures, around this time of year, showing "Labor" with a square paper cap and "Capital" with a silk hat.

That sort of thing distorts understanding, because it keeps alive a point of view that belonged to the days when the power of industry to create better living for all was not understood.

We need a new kind of Labor Day illustration . . . one that treats the first Monday in September, not as a lull in a battle between old fashioned symbols, but as a day in celebration of the dignity of earning a living.

Perhaps there will never be a better illustration for Labor Day than you will find in your own mirror . . .

▶ Your own reflection will show you where capital and labor meet, in the new world which has been created by the industrial progress that has occurred since Grandpa founded Labor Day.

Labor is easy to understand. It means work.

But it's hard for most people to think of themselves as being capitalists.

The only difference between capital and work is time.

Work is what you do today.

Capital is what you have left over from work that was done in the past.

For instance: skill is capital, because it is something gained by past work that helps make today's work more effective.

Machines are capital, because in them is stored up the work of the past, waiting to make today's work more effective.

Money is the means of swapping capital.

Your life insurance policy is an example of this, because past work has been stored up in the form of dollars. As long as the policy-holder can work for himself, those dollars are used to help others do work (because the insurance company invests them). When the policy-holder can no longer work, the dollars come back.

Every man who develops skill, tools or useful property beyond what he spends in living is part worker, part capitalist.

Every man who reduces the amount of his work, either through loafing on his own dough, or slowing down, or opposing efficient machines, or striking, directly reduces the rate of industrial progress and good living for himself and all Americans.

When the war is over, every man who keeps his money in a sock, or bank vault, will reduce the amount of work that can be done.

Those two things are automatic. In normal times, when money works, men work.

Right now we have lots of money but very little time to make the things people buy.

After the war, we will have the time and ability to produce much more than we have ever had before, because more people will have stored up new skills.

We will have much more money, too, but let's not forget the people who make products must have money as well as the people who buy them.

▶ You may have savings after the war, but unless your money buys something it cannot create jobs.

Your savings cannot buy anything until it has been produced. What's more, you won't spend your savings except for better values.

In order to produce improved, post-war products for you to buy, the factories must have almost as much money as you spent—through your government—on changing them over to war goods.

We don't know how much money all the factories will need, but we do know that it takes many millions of dollars to run just one automobile company just one day. That company must run for many, many days without any income before you can spend your money for a car.

▶ We have given the name "Seed Money" to the money that is saved from past work to buy the machines and factories that produce new jobs.

Thus "Seed Money" is just about the most basic thing in the good living of everybody.

We think it is harmful to every American when an individual, or a company, misapplies "Seed Money," or keeps it in useless storage at times when it should be spent for improvement in machines, methods and products.

We also think it is harmful to every American for "Seed Money" to be confused with profit that is not used for improving machines and methods, when tax laws are written, because "Seed Money" is the source of jobs.

Now is the time for men who work at machines to get together with men who work at desks to use the tremendous benefits of America's great industrial might in a way that will bring better living for all.

"Industrial Progress is the Source of all Good Living."

CHURCHILL AT QUEBEC TAKES UP WAR WORLD

Dwells Particularly Upon Russia's Fight.

QUEBEC, Aug. 31 (AP).—Text of the address today by Prime Minister Churchill:

"At the beginning of July, I began to feel the need for a new meeting with the President of the United States and also for another conference of our joint staffs.

"We were all delighted when, by a happy inspiration, President Roosevelt suggested that Quebec should be the scene and when the governor general and the government of Canada offered us their princely hospitality. Certainly no more fitting and splendid setting could have been chosen for a meeting of those who guide the war policy of the two great western democracies at this cardinal moment in the second World war than we have here on the Plains of Abraham, in the Chateau Frontenac, and on the ramparts of the citadel of Quebec, from the midst of which I speak to you now.

"Here at the gateway of Canada, in mighty lands which have never known the totalitarian tyrannies of Hitler and Mussolini, the spirit of freedom has found a safe and abiding home. Here that spirit is no wandering phantom.

"It is enshrined in parliamentary institutions based on universal suffrage evolved thru the centuries by the English speaking people.

Credits Declaration of Independence.

"It is inspired by the Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence. It is guarded by resolute and vigilant millions never so strong or so well armed as today.

"Quebec was the very place for the two great powers of the sea and of the air to resolve and shape plans to bring their large and growing army into closer contact and fiercer grips with the common foe.

"Here, above all, in the capital and heart of French Canada it is right to think of the French people in their agony, to set on book new measures for their deliverance and to send them a message across the ocean that we have not forgotten them nor all the services which France has rendered to culture and civilization, to the march of the human intellect and to the rights of man.

For 40 years or more I have believed in the greatness and virtue of France. Often in dark and baffling days I have not wavered, and since the Anglo-French agreement of 1904 I have always served and worked actively with them in defense of good causes. It was therefore to me a deep satisfaction that words of hope, of comfort and recognition, should be spoken not only to those Frenchmen who, outside Hitler's clutches, march in arms with us, but also to the broad masses of the French nation who await the day when they can free and cleanse their land from the torment and shame of German subjugation.

France Will Rise Again.

"We may be sure that all will come right, we may be sure that France will rise again, free, united, and independent to stand on guard with others over the generous tolerances and brightening opportunities of the human society we mean to rescue and rebuild.

"I have also had the advantage of conferring with the prime minister of Canada, Mr. Mackenzie King, the experienced statesman who led the dominion instantly and unitedly into the war and of sitting on several occasions with his cabinet, and the British and Canadian staffs have been over the whole ground of the war together.

"The contribution which Canada has made to the combined effort of the British commonwealth and empire in these tremendous times has deeply touched the heart of the mother country and of all the other members of our widespread family of states and races. From the darkest days the Canadian army, growing stronger year by year, has played an indispensable part in guarding our British homeland from invasion. Now it is fighting with distinction in wider and in widening fields.

"The empire air training organization, which has been a wonderful success, has found its seat in Canada and has welcomed the flower of the manhood of Great Britain, of Australia, of New Zealand, to her spacious flying fields and to comradeship with our own gallant sons.

"Canada has become in the course of this war an important seafaring nation, building many scores of warships and merchant ships, some of them built thousands of miles from salt water, and manned by hardy Canadian seamen to guard the Atlantic convoys and our vital lifeline across the ocean.

Munitions Play Big Part.

"The munition industries of Canada have played a most important part in our war economy. Last but not least, Canada has relieved Great Britain of what would otherwise have been a debt for these munitions of no less than 2 billion dollars. All this, of course, was dictated by no law. It came from no treaty or formal obligation. It sprang in perfect freedom from sentiment and tradition and in a generous resolve to serve the future of mankind.

"I am glad to pay my tribute on behalf of Britain to the great dominion, and to pay it from Canadian soil.

"I only wish indeed that my other duties, which are exacting, allowed me to travel still farther afield and tell Australians, New Zealanders, and South Africans to their face how we feel toward them for all they have done and are resolved to do.

"I mentioned just now the agreement Britain made with France almost 40 years ago and how we have stood by it and will stand by it with unswerving faithfulness. But there is another great nation with whom we have made a solemn treaty.

"We have made a 20 year treaty of good will and mutual aid with soviet Russia. You may be sure that we British are resolved to do our utmost to make that good with all our strength and national steadiness. It would not have been suitable for Russia to be represented at this Anglo-American conference which, apart from dealing with the immediate operation of our intermingled and interwoven armed forces in the Mediterranean and elsewhere, would largely if not mainly be concerned with heating and inflaming the war against Japan, with whom the soviet government has a five year treaty of nonaggression.

"It would have been an embarrassing invitation for us to send, but nothing is nearer to the wishes of President Roosevelt and myself than to have a threefold meeting with Marshal Stalin. If that has not yet taken place it is certainly not because we have not tried our best or have not been willing to lay aside every impediment and undertake further immense journeys for that purpose.

Cannot Leave War Fronts.

"The leader of the victorious Russian armies cannot at the present time leave the battlefront upon which he is conducting operations of vital consequence not only to Russia, which was the object of ferocious German attack, but also to the common cause of all the united nations.

"To judge by the latest news from the Russian battlefronts, Marshal Stalin is certainly not wasting his time. The entire British empire send him our salute on this brilliant summer campaign and on the victories of Orel, Kharkov, and Taganrog, by which so much Russian soil has been redeemed and so many hundreds of thousands of its invaders wiped out. The President and I will persevere in our efforts to meet Marshal Stalin.

"And in the meantime it seems most necessary and urgent that a conference of the British, United States, and Russian foreign ministers or their responsible representatives should be held at some convenient place in order not merely to explore the various important questions connected with the future arrangements for world security but to carry their discussions to a point where the heads of states and governments may be able to intervene.

"We shall also be very glad to associate Russian representatives with us in the political decisions which arise out of the victories the Anglo-American forces have gained in the Mediterranean. In fact, there is no step which we may take or which may be forced upon us by the unforeseeable course of this war about which we should not wish to consult with our Russian friends and allies in the fullest confidence and candor. It would be a very great advantage to every one, and indeed to the whole free world, if a unity of thought and decision upon practical measures to the longer future, as well as upon strategic problems, could be reached between the three great opponents of the Hitlerite tyranny.

Talk of Second Front.

"We have heard a lot of talk in the last two years about establishing what is called a second front in northern France against Germany. Any one can see how desirable that immense operation of war would be. It is quite natural that the Russians, bearing the main weight of the German armies on their front, should urge us ceaselessly to undertake this task and should in no way conceal their complaints and even reproaches that we have not done it before now.

CHURCHILL AT QUEBEC TAKES UP WAR WORLD

Puts Special Stress on Russia's Fight.

"I do not blame them at all for what they say. They fight so well and they have inflicted such enormous injury upon the military strength of Germany that nothing they could say in honest criticism of our strategy or the part we have so far been able to take in the war would be taken amiss by us or weaken our admiration for their own martial courage and achievements.

"We once had a fine front in France, but it was torn to pieces by the concentrated might of Hitler, and it is easier to have a front pulled down than it is to build it up again.

"I look forward to the day when British and American liberating armies will cross the channel in full force and come to close quarters with the German invaders of France. You would certainly not wish me to tell you when that is likely to happen or whether it be near or far, but whenever the great blow is struck you may be sure that it will be because we are satisfied that there is a good prospect of continuing success and that our soldiers' lives are extended in accordance with sound military plans and not squandered for political consideration of any kind.

"I submit to the judgment of the united nations and of history that British and American strategy as directed by our combined chiefs of staff and as approved, and to some extent inspired, by the President and myself, has been the best that was open to us in a practical sense.

Brings Maximum to Bear.

"It has been bold and daring and has brought into play against the enemy the maximum effective forces that could have been deployed up to the present by Great Britain and the United States, having regard to the limitations of ocean transport to the peculiar conditions of amphibious warfare, and to the character and training of the armies we possess, which have largely been called into being since the beginning of the war.

"Personally I always think of the third front as well as the second front. I have always thought that the western democracies should be like a boxer who fights with two hands and not one.

"I believe that the great flanking movement into North Africa made under the authority of President Roosevelt and of his majesty's government, for whom I am a principal agent, will be regarded in the aftertimes as quite a good thing to do in all the circumstances. Certainly it has reaped rich and substantial results. Africa is clear. All German and Italian armies in Africa have been annihilated and at least a half a million prisoners are in our hands. In a brilliant campaign of 38 days Sicily, which was defended by more than 400,000 axis troops, has been conquered.

"Mussolini has been overthrown. The war impulse of Italy has been destroyed and that unhappy country is paying a terrible penalty for allowing itself to be misled by false and criminal guides. How much easier it is to join bad companions than to shake them!

Nazis Drawn from France.

"A large number of German troops have lately been drawn away from France in order to hold down the Italian people, in order to make Italy a battleground, and to keep the war as distant and as long as possible away from German soil.

"By far the greater part of the German air force has been drawn off from the Russian front and is being engaged and worn down with ever growing intensity, night and day, by British and American and Canadian airmen. More than all this, we have established a strategic initiative and potential both from the Atlantic and from the Mediterranean of which the enemy can neither measure the weight nor foresee the hour of the applications.

"Both in the Mediterranean and in our air assaults on Germany the war has struck them. An immense diminution of Hitler's war making capacity has been achieved by the air bombardment and of course that bombardment will steadily increase in volume and in accuracy as each successive month passes by.

"Now I readily admit that much of all this would have been impossible in this form or at this time but for the valiant and magnificent exertion and triumphs of the Russian army, who have defended their native soil against an evil and unprovoked attack with incomparable vigor, skill, and devotion, and at a terrible price in Russian blood.

"No government ever formed among men has been capable of surviving injuries so grave and cruel as those inflicted by Hitler upon Russia. But under the leadership of Marshal Stalin, and thanks also to the stand made by the British people when they were all alone, and to abundant British and American supplies and munitions of all kinds, Russia has not only survived and recovered from these frightful injuries, but has inflicted, as no other force in the world could have inflicted, mortal damage on the German army machine.

Events in the Balkans.

"Most important and significant events are taking place in the Balkans as a result of the Russian victories and also, I believe, of the Anglo-American campaign against Italy.

"Twice in the last 30 years the Bulgarian people, who owed their liberation and existence to Russia, have been betrayed against their interest, and to a large extent against their wishes, and driven by evil rulers into disaster. The fate of Boris will serve history with the reminder that the wages of sin is death.

"And this is also the time to remember the glorious resistance to the invaders of their native lands made by the peoples of Jugo-Slavia and of Greece and of those whom Mr. Gladstone once called "the heroic highlanders" of Montenegro.

"All of the Balkans is aflame, and the impending collapse of Italy as a war factor will not only remove from the scene the most numerous of their assailants but will also bring help nearer to those unconquerable races.

"I look forward with confidence to the day when Jugo-Slavia and Greece will once again be free, free to live their own lives and decide their own destiny. I take this opportunity to send a message of encouragement to these peoples and their governments and to the kings of Greece and Jugo-Slavia, who have never faltered for one moment in their duty and whom we hope to see restored to their thrones by the free choice of their liberated peoples.

"Let us then all go forward together, making the best of ourselves and the best of each other, resolved to apply the maximum forces at our command without regard to any other single thought but the attack and destruction of those monstrous and evil dominations which have so nearly cost each and all of us our national lives, and mankind its future.

Push Against Japan.

"Of course, as I told you, a large part of the Quebec discussion was devoted to the vehement prosecution of the war against Japan. The main forces of the United States and the manhood of Australia and New Zealand are engaged in successful grapple with the Japanese in the Pacific.

"The principal responsibility of Great Britain against Japan at present lies on the Indian front and in the Indian ocean. The creation of a combined Anglo-American command over all the forces, land, sea, and air, of both countries in that theater, similar to what proved so successful in northwest Africa, has now been brought into effect.

"A supreme commander of the southeast Asia front has been chosen and his name has been acclaimed by British, American, and Chinese opinion. He will act in constant association with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. It is true that Lord Louis Mountbatten is only 43. It is not often under modern conditions and in established military tradition that a man gets so great a chance so early, but, if an officer, having devoted his life to the military art, does not know about war at 43, he is not likely to learn much more about it later on. As chief of combined operations, Lord Louis has shown rare powers of organization and resourcefulness.

"He is what I will venture to call a complete triphibian, that is to say a creature equally at home in three elements—earth, air and water—and also well accustomed to fire. We all wish the new command and its commander full success in their novel, varied, and certainly most difficult task.

Refuses to Predict.

"I have been asked several times since I crossed the Atlantic whether I think the Germans will give in this year or whether they will hold out to another, which will certainly be worse for them. There are those who take an oversanguine view. Certainly we see all Europe rising under Hitler's tyranny.

"What is now happening in Denmark is only another example. Certainly we see the Germans take it as no race has ever been hit in human history or with such good reason. We see them sprawled over a dozen once free and happy countries with their cannons making festering wounds, the scars of which will never be effaced.

"Nazi tyranny and Fascist militarism, those two loathesome dominations, may well foresee and dread their approaching doom.

"We cannot measure the full force of the blows which the Russian army is striking and is going to strike. We cannot measure, tho we know it is enormous, that havoc wrought in Germany by our bombings, nor the effects upon the population who have lived so long by making wars in the lands of others and now for the first time for more than a century are having a blasting and desolating war brought to their hearths and homes.

"We cannot yet measure what further results may attend the Anglo-American campaign in the Mediterranean, nor what depression the marked failure for the time being of U-boat warfare on which German hopes were set, or the consequences of the shattering blows which are being struck may engender in the German mind.

"We pass here into the sphere of mass psychology never more potent than in this modern age. Yet I consider that there are dangers in allowing our minds to dwell unduly upon the favorable circumstances which surround us and which are so visibly and punctually brought to our notice every day by press and broadcast.

"For myself I regard all such speculations, as to when the war will end, at this moment as vain and unprofitable. We did not undertake the task because we had carefully counted the cost or measured exactly the duration. We took it on because duty and honor called us to it. And we are content to drive on at it until we have finished the job.

Will Carry On to End.

"If Almighty God, in his mercy, should lighten or shorten our labors and the torment of mankind all his servants will be thankful that the united nations feel conscious, both as states and as hundreds of millions of individuals, of being called to a high duty which they will unflinchingly and tirelessly discharge with whatever strength is granted to them, however long the ordeal may last.

"See how those who stray from the true path are deceived and punished! Look at this wretched Mussolini and his son-in-law and accomplice, Ciano, on whom the curse of Garibaldi has veritably fallen. I have heard that Ciano, explaining one day why Mussolini had plunged the dagger into the back of falling France and dreamed himself already among the Caesars, said that such a chance could not occur again in 5,000 years. Certainly in June, 1940, the odds and the omens seemed very favorable to Fascist ambitions and greed.

"It is not given to the cleverest and the most calculating of mortals to know with certainty what is their interest, yet it is given to quite a lot of simple folks to know every day what is their duty.

"That is the path along which the British commonwealth and empire, the great republic of the United States, the vast Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the indomitable and innumerable people of China, all the united nations—that is the path along which we shall march till our work is done and we may rest in our labors and the whole world may turn with hope, with science, with good sense, and dear bought experience of war, to lasting peace."

Ploesti Raiders Alive in Rumania

Lt. Joseph Kill, Sgt. James Sedlack, Lt. Theodore Helin, Lt. H. A. Lasco, and Sgt. Joseph Brown (left to right).

Once 'Missing'

Five Chicago members of the air force who were listed last Thursday as missing in action after the bombing of the Ploesti oil fields on Aug. 1 are alive and held prisoners of war in Rumania.

These joyous tidings were received yesterday by their families from the chancery office of the Roman Catholic church in Chicago. Information concerning their fate was picked up by Vatican sources and relayed to Chicago thru the apostolic legation in Washington, D. C.

The five are Sgt. James Sedlack, 24 years old, a radio operator on a Liberator bomber which probably took part in the raid, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sedlack, 7802 South May street; Staff Sgt. Joseph Brown, husband of Mrs. Laura L. Brown, 8107 Luella avenue; Lt. Theodore Helin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Helin, 4821 Byron street; Lt. Joseph Kill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kill, 4251 Wentworth avenue, and 1st Lt. Henry A. Lasco Jr., son of Mrs. Florence C. Lasco, 1625 Mango avenue.

FOUR CHICAGOLAND HEROES WIN AWARDS FOR VALOR IN WAR

Award of the navy cross to Lt. Alan S. Frank, 29 years old, 562 Washington avenue, Glencoe, for extraordinary heroism in the Solomon Islands, was announced yesterday by the navy department. The award was one of four decorations reported conferred on Chicagoland men. Lt. Frank, pilot of a scout bomber, previously had received the air medal and distinguished flying cross.

Lt. H. H. Wise Jr.

Lt. A. S. Frank.

Oak leaf clusters have been added to the air medal of Lt. Harry H. Wise Jr., 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Wise of Bruce road, Flossmoor.

Corp. Harry F. Ingalls, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Ingalls, 7515 Ogden avenue, Lyons, has received the air medal for his part in rescuing survivors of two torpedoed vessels in the Pacific.

A citation and silver star medal have been awarded Fred Van Rheeden, 27, carpenter's mate 1st class, for his work aboard the U. S. S. McCawley, a troop transport, when it was sunk in the Rendova Island occupation.

HESS REPORTED INSANE; HITLER STILL HIS IDOL

Thinks He's Persecuted; Loses Faith in Victory.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 1 [Wednesday].—Rudolf Hess, one time deputy Fuehrer of Germany, now is a paranoiac, suffering from a persecution mania, it was reported this morning.

Britain's strangest war captive spends most of his time in a room 20 feet square in a wing of a former insane asylum on the British countryside which in peace time was reserved for borderline cases, but has been taken over as a military hospital, it was stated.

Hess is guarded day and night by a special force of officers and men and is attended by six medical orderlies and two specialists, it was said. He arises at 10 a. m. and goes to bed after midnight. In the interval he reads, writes, and takes compulsory exercise. He speaks English well, but reads it with difficulty.

"Borderline" Case in Germany.

These details of what was described as the "authentic story of Hess' daily life in captivity" were published in the Daily Mail this morning for the first time. The writer contended Hess had been a "borderline" mental case before leaving Germany to parachute sensationally on Scotland two years ago. Shortly before his flight, his wife, Klare, was said to have taken a house in the Bavarian Alps to which he could retire to restore his broken nerves.

Hess was said to be "convinced that the people are in league against him, hears voices that do not exist whispering to him, now from this corner of the room, now from that, and fears there is poison in his meals." He refuses to eat until an officer shares his dish.

Hess suffers from sudden and intense stomach pains, but his physicians attribute them to his mental condition.

The only game he plays is darts. The writer said Hess does not throw the dart but hurls it with considerable accuracy, adding:

"But when he goes to collect the darts he will look around to see his opponent perhaps preparing to sight his shot and poised to throw. At that instant Hess will duck or dodge for cover."

His physicians were said to be convinced "he'll never recover," and to think his habit of worrying about the Fuehrer, his home, and his wife, "whom he misses with an ever increasing and sincere passion of loneliness and love," may further seriously impair his health.

Loses Faith in Victory.

Hess is "still Hitler's adorer," said the Daily Mail, but always regarded the remainder of the Nazi gang as "too tough for him." His present condition was attributed to the strain of opposing the other Nazis' growing power.

Since the collapse of Tunisia, Hess has lost faith in a German victory, said the Daily Mail, and does not discuss the progress of the war. He has not listened to the radio news since the fall of Sicily.

Hess was said to love the countryside. Those close to him described him as a "man of simple tastes and simple idealisms." He is fond of children "and has an eye for a pretty girl," but vigorously objects to rouge or lipstick.

Hess was said to write to his wife and receive letters regularly from her. He receives packages thru the German Red Cross.

PLANS FOR 3 POWER PARLEY ADVANCING; ROOSEVELT DECLARES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today that things were coming along pretty well with respect to a tri-partite conference with Russia and Great Britain.

The chief executive told a press-radio conference that he did not know where or when a three power conference might be held and would not tell if he did.

Asked whether he had "any information that Stalin will attend," the chief executive replied that things were coming along pretty well and that was all he could say.

BRACKEN LAUDS SOVIET RESPECT FOR ITS PACTS

Admits He's Thinking of Treaties with Britain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, praised Russia at a press conference this evening as a respecter of treaties, but he qualified it by saying he was thinking of treaties with Great Britain.

Bracken, who crossed the Atlantic to attend the Churchill-Roosevelt conference in Quebec, had just branded the suggestion that Russia might make a separate peace as an insult to an honored ally and had assured reporters that Russia has never broken a treaty, when it was called to his attention that the soviets once had nonaggression treaties with Poland and Finland.

"I'm thinking of treaties with us," the information minister replied.

Not Worried on Litvinov.

The British minister of information was quick to bolster previous official denials that the replacing of Maxim Litvinov as the soviet ambassador in Washington indicated any cooling in Anglo-American relations with Russia.

"Governments change ambassadors from time to time," he said. "I don't think it means anything to Russian policy."

"What about the German free committee?" Bracken was asked.

This is the organization in whose name—with the sanction of Stalin—was recently published what many regard as Josef Stalin's invitation for Germany to make a separate peace with Russia, on better terms than the unconditional surrender demanded by the United States and Great Britain.

"It might be connected with propaganda," Bracken answered without explaining his remark.

Expects Long War.

The information minister repeated his Quebec prediction that the war will be long. There is no possibility, he said, that any axis enemies will be destroyed this year. Asked if Italy might change sides, Bracken said:

"Italy came into the war for her own purposes. She was looking for trouble and found it. What she does now is not my concern."

The British minister of information, whose organization corresponds to the American office of war information, had kind words for both the OWI and its director, Elmer Davis. But they were discounted somewhat when the Briton was asked if his staff issues propaganda to keep up morale on the home front, as Davis' does.

"The British people," Bracken answered vehemently, "don't need the services of any organization to keep their morale up. It has been up since they took up this terrible war."

3 SPANISH SHIPS SEIZED; HIDDEN OIL UNCOVERED

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 31.—Three Spanish ships are being detained by the Brazilian authorities in circumstances which Spanish consular authorities apparently will find hard to explain, newspapers here said today.

The three ships being held at Recife, the Cabaribe, the Cabo Fidele, and the Margarida, had been equipped with false bottoms which were found filled with diesel oil and other supplies required by submarines, in addition to a large amount of contraband tobacco, it was learned.

It has been charged that Spanish ships have mothered axis submarines and have been cargoed with Argentina supplies.

F.D.R. DENOUNCES COLUMNIST AS A 'CHRONIC LIAR'

Follows Hull Blast at Drew Pearson.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—President Roosevelt today hurled the denunciation "chronic liar" at Drew Pearson, Washington columnist and radio commentator.

The chief executive declared that Secretary of State Cordell Hull was rather polite in branding Pearson as a circulator of "monstrous and diabolical falsehoods."

Mr. Roosevelt said he would not mince words, that he would say Pearson's whole statement was a lie and that Pearson is a chronic liar in his columns.

Column Accused Hull.

The statement referred to was a column in which Pearson charged that Hull and other high state department officials in the state department are opposed to soviet Russia and actually wish to see the soviet union bled white.

The charge was made in a defense of Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles, whose resignation was reportedly placed on President Roosevelt's desk because of disagreements with Hull.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked about the resignation and retorted he had no news on that and added that reporters would be informed when there is news.

Doesn't Mention Name.

The blast at Pearson was touched off when Mr. Roosevelt was questioned about the possibility of a tripartite conference between the United States, Britain, and Russia.

Altho he did not mention Pearson's name, Mr. Roosevelt made it clear he was adding to Hull's castigation.

He stated that the comments of this columnist on Russia were detrimental not only to the foreign relations of the United States, but also to the unity of the allied nations, and toward the winning of the war.

He then said he did not hesitate to call the column a lie from beginning to end and the columnist as a chronic liar. He added that this columnist was not the only one.

The denunciation was the most severe ever visited on a writer by the chief executive in the memory of those present. Mr. Roosevelt has blistered many newspapermen, but none so thoroly as he did Pearson.

Pearson Answers F. D. R.

Informed of the President's remarks, Pearson issued a statement which said in part:

"I am complimented to join the long list of newspapermen whom the President has attacked.

"However, the Russians, being shrewd diplomats, were fully aware of Mr. Hull's long and consistent anti-Russian attitude. It didn't take me to tell them about it.

"That's one reason why our relations with Russia have drifted to their present deplorable and dangerous impasse. Not only has there been no second front, but we have failed to consult Russia on Italian armistice terms.

"However, if the President needed a scapegoat, I am glad if anything I have said now forces the administration to make clear in words what certainly was not clear before in deeds."

EX-DIPLOMAT IN PANAMA JAILED IN REVOLT PLOT

PANAMA, Aug. 31 (AP).—Dr. Jose Pezet, former vice president in the regime of Arnulfo Arias, and several other persons were in jail tonight for abortive revolt against the government of President Adolfo de la Guardia.

Under Panama law, none of those under arrest may obtain bail until after three months, during which investigators are expected to exhaust all resources to determine whether they conspired to overthrow the government.

Pezet was reported to have told Judge Carlos Guevara: "I am the only person responsible for what has taken place."

POLES DEMAND SECOND FRONT, RUSSIA CLAIMS

Quotes 'Free' Newspaper Against Confederation.

MOSCOW, Aug. 31 (AP).—A new appeal for an invasion of western Europe and a protest against plans for a post-war confederation of eastern European states were published today by Pravda, official Communist party newspaper, quoting Volna Polska, organ of the Free Polish movement issued in the soviet union.

Reviewing the latest issue of the newspaper, Pravda said it "reproaches Polish emigre circles in London for having forgotten Polish national interests and for not urging a second front in Europe."

Assails Confederated States.

Pravda asserted "the policy of some emigre circles in London is not directed toward defense of the national interests of Poland. Frequently it goes in a diametrically opposite direction."

"This was the reaction of Volna Polska to statements made by the Polish press in London which raised the notorious question of 'Confederation states situated between the four seas, the Baltic, Black, Adriatic, and Aegean,'" Pravda continued. "The newspaper gave a sharp rebuke to the chauvinistic plans of feudal reactionary elements."

"Delay Adds to Deaths."

Pravda quoted Polish newspapers as asserting:

"The question of a second front is no less if not more significant for us than for the people of the other occupied countries.

"Every day of delay means deaths to hundreds and thousands of Poles and further devastation of our country. Since effective operations in the west are quite possible from the strategic point of view, the voices in defense of Polish national interests, the vital interests of our country ought to cry, 'It is time to act. It is impossible to wait any longer.'"

2 CHICAGOLAND WOMEN FLYING TRAINEES KILLED

Sweetwater, Tex., Aug. 31 (AP).—Two students and a civilian instructor from the women's flying training detachment at Avenger field, Sweetwater, were killed yesterday in the crash of a twin engine training plane 10 miles north of Big Spring, Tex.

The dead were Mrs. Helen J. Severson, 24 student, Brookings, S. D.; Margaret Seip, 27, student, Wauwatosa, Wis., and Instructor Calvin G. Atwood, 22, Bryson, Tex.

Both trainees were to have been graduated early next month, the field's public relations office said. Mrs. Severson was the wife of Lt. Robert A. Severson, now overseas. A graduate of the University of Illinois, she formerly was assistant manager of the Illini airport at Urbana, Ill.

ROOSEVELT PRAISES POLES FOR DEFIANT STAND AGAINST FOE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—President Roosevelt today gave renewed assurance of "justice and liberation" to Europe's subjugated millions. He exchanged messages with Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz, Polish president, on the fourth anniversary of the German attack on Poland.

Poland's "gallant and defiant stand" against the Nazi attack and her people's "continued resistance to their cruel oppressors are an inspiration to us all," and will help to "assure victory," President Roosevelt said.

The Polish president reaffirmed his country's "solidarity with the great American democracy in defense of our common Christian heritage." He expressed "unshakable faith that the noble principles of the Atlantic charter . . . will be fully realized after victory is achieved and will become the cornerstone of the coming world of peace, justice and human happiness."

POLISH PREMIER VOWS REVENGE AGAINST NAZIS

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP).—Premier Stanislaw Mikolajozyk, broadcasting to Poland on the eve of the fourth anniversary of Hitler's invasion, said tonight that "our government and the Polish nation will see that not a single German criminal in Poland escapes just and exemplary punishment." The head of Poland's government in exile called, however, for calm waiting for the word to rise against the enemy.

"You are fighting according to the plans of the directorate of underground fighting," he said. "Anybody who really has Poland's good at heart would not incite an unarmed nation to a premature general rising." He outlined Poland's claims for post-war recognition in these words:

"A strong and independent Poland, with all the territories which rightfully belong to her and with a democratic structure which will secure the existence of equal rights for all her citizens, irrespective of nationality or creed."

Six-Firm Bomber Pool Pays Off In World-Wide Air Offensive

Ploesti's Flames Highlight Mounting Tempo of Attack By Team-Built Liberators and Flying Fortresses

WASHINGTON—While the eyes of America focused on the Liberator raid against Ploesti, the Rumanian "gas tank of the Axis", Flying Fortresses and other Liberators were spreading devastation on all the war's far-flung fronts.

Behind the headlines is a story of Army-industry collaboration without which the record never could have been achieved; a story of pooling the resources of normally competitive firms to build the big bombers in numbers needed for global warfare.

Within 48 hours of the Ploesti raid, American pilots flew Boeing Flying Fortresses unescorted in a daylight raid to smash the Nazi aircraft plant at Oshersleben, only 80 miles from Berlin. This was the deepest American daylight penetration into Germany yet made. The same day they damaged a Focke-Wulf assembly plant at Kassel.

Meanwhile more Fortresses and Liberators combined with the RAF in the Hamburg assaults. Others were hitting at Italian airdromes, railroads, and troop concentrations.

In the South Pacific, Fortresses pounded Jap positions in the Solomons and made the long haul with Liberators to the Dutch East Indies. More Liberators bombed Munda; they hit at the Island of Wake; they battered Japanese vessels off the Chinese coast.

Blast the Way at Kiska

Still other Fortresses and Liberators defied the heavy fogs of the Aleutians to prepare for the landings on Kiska Island.

In the short span of 48 hours, the big bomber team of the Army Air Forces had made its vicious sting felt throughout the Axis-dominated world.

The production story began long before Pearl Harbor. Forward-thinking Air Force officers knew America was going to need undreamed of thousands of far-ranging heavy bombers.

Army officials and heads of Boeing and Consolidated got together and laid the groundwork for two big bomber pools. They enlisted the facilities and "know-how" of other producers of large aircraft to build the Fortress and Liberator.

Industry Pool Works Miracles

Boeing and Consolidated offered to provide their specifications, blueprints and engineering experience. Douglas, Vega, North American and Ford agreed to build the big bombers.

Today Boeing, Douglas and Vega are pooling their experience and resources to build Fortresses in ever-increasing numbers. Consolidated Vultee, Ford, Douglas and North American are rolling out Liberators.

Boeing and Consolidated, the original designers, have the heavy responsibility of acting as clearing houses for all production plans, design changes, and field service.

But all six companies in the pools are sharing in overall teamwork. Time-saving devices, production methods discovered in one plant are quickly made available to all.

The conception and development of the big bomber pools is an outstanding example of the military-industrial cooperation which is providing Allied armed forces with superlative tools of war.

Liberators are powered with Pratt & Whitney engines. Both the Liberators and Fortresses are equipped with Hamilton Standard propellers.

Thunderbolts Add Punch To Eighth Air Force Raids

LONDON—The Eighth U. S. Army Air Force on August 17th completed its first year of combat in a crescendo of air victories.

One of the factors contributing to these victories has been the advent of large numbers of Republic Thunderbolt fighters. Since spring the Thunderbolts have been escorting the Eighth's bombers on many raids.

This Pratt & Whitney-powered P-47 fighter, built around a highly supercharged 2,000-horsepower Double Wasp engine, can race up to extreme altitudes with a heavy load of armament, carrying fuel enough for long-range sorties.

In the birthday assault Army B-17 Boeing Flying Fortresses and B-26 Martin Marauders, escorted by Thunderbolts, raged over Western Europe, hammering about 20 Nazi air bases, where two-thirds of the fighters and one-third of the bombers in the Luftwaffe are concentrated.

The onslaught climaxed a year during which the Eighth vindicated the American conception of high altitude precision bombing by day.

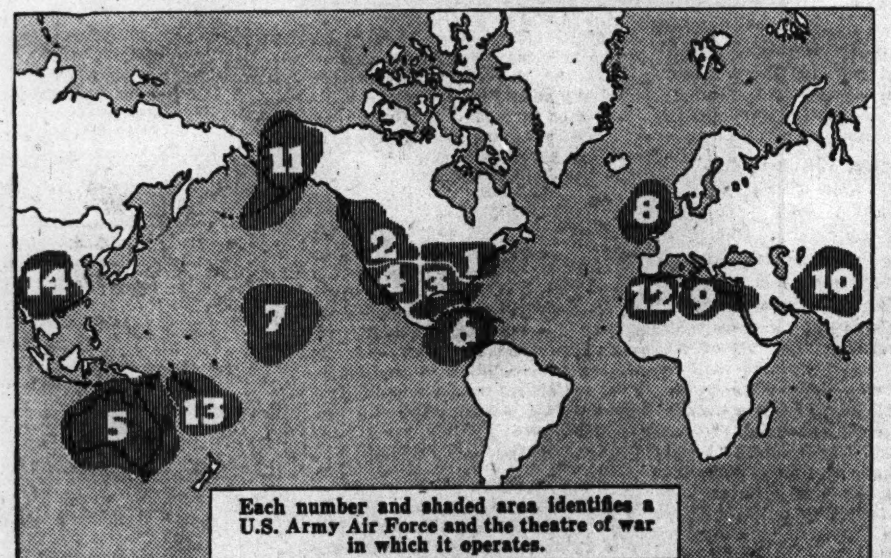
During the year the American bombers dropped 15,722 tons of explosives on Axis submarine bases, Luftwaffe bases, war industries and transportation facilities. In recent months, the Eighth's attacks came more frequently and more intensively, reflecting the increased flow of aircraft from American factories.

In carrying out these missions the big bombers, because of the effectiveness of their precision methods, were able to sacrifice bomb tonnage for the added fuel and armament needed for long-range operations.

Over the year, 1,728 Nazi planes were destroyed at a cost of 419 American bombers. Another 671 enemy craft were tagged as "probables" and 870 more "damaged".

How much the advent of long-range fighter protection has meant to bomber crews was expressed by one of their pilots, telling of a pre-Thunderbolt experience. "On one mission we were in a constant running fight for 2 hours and 20 minutes," he said. "We were attacked head on exactly 150 times. Maybe you don't think a bomber isn't shot up plenty on a party like that."

U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES NOW CIRCLE GLOBE



Each number and shaded area identifies a U.S. Army Air Force and the theatre of war in which it operates.

Army Hospital Transport Planes Save Lives of Wounded in Sicily

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA — American wounded in Sicily reached North African hospitals as quickly as 12 hours after they were hurt, thanks to the Army's big Douglas and Curtiss flying transports. Army doctors said that many lives were saved because soldiers received adequate treatment before wound infections got a head start.

Medical Corps personnel habitually rescued the wounded while they were still under fire. They were rushed to collecting stations where Douglas and Curtiss transports flew them to safety in Africa.

The Army C-53 Douglas Skytroopers flew paratroopers into Sicily for the attack. Later with the C-46 Curtiss Commandos and C-54 Douglas Skymasters they flew to save the injured. The aerial ambulances, which already had proved their worth by flying 18,000 soldiers and marines to hospitals in the South Pacific and many more thousands of soldiers in North Africa, were credited with the saving of many American lives during the conquest of Sicily.

Pratt & Whitney engines power all these winged hospital ships. Hamilton Standard propellers are used on the Skytroopers and Skymasters.

Capital Gets New Air Services

WASHINGTON — Two of America's largest airlines extended their services into the nation's capital August 16. They were United Air Lines and Transcontinental & Western Air.

United and TWA now give the war-busy capital through, direct, overnight aerial connections with many more important production areas.

American Airlines, Eastern Air Lines and Pennsylvania-Central Airlines have long operated out of Washington. The new schedules mean that Washington now has direct air routes to almost every important American war city.

All five airlines serving Washington employ Hamilton Standard propellers as standard equipment. United Air Lines use Pratt & Whitney engines on their Douglas DC-3 airliners.

War Bonds Yield 400% Profit

ENDICOTT, N. Y.—Students at the Union High School here have received word that the War Bonds they purchased to build a Bell Airacobra P-39 fighter plane have already paid a 400 percent dividend. In its first combat mission the "Endicott Special" was credited with three Japanese medium bombers and one fighter.

HELICOPTER PILOT BOARDS SHIP VERTICALLY

An Army Sikorsky Helicopter Proves It Can Use a Tanker Deck For An Airport

Sikorsky Helicopter, Infant Prodigy, Poses New Problems For Engineers

Sikorsky Aircraft Concentrates On Combat Types Asks Would-Be-Buyers To Await War's End

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—In September, 1939, while Hitler was overwhelming Poland with his regimented Luftwaffe, Igor I. Sikorsky, father of helicopters in this country, made aeronautical history the American way. After having risked his time and reputation to design the helicopter, he risked his neck to test it in flight.

It flew. A lifetime ambition was fulfilled. Individual initiative, backed by company resources, had proven the practicability of rotary-wing, direct-lift aircraft. And, at a crucial time in world history, a potential weapon was born for America's armed forces.

In May, 1941, the VS-300, Sikorsky's first successful helicopter, stayed in the air for one hour and 32 minutes to smash all world's records for sustained flight by a rotary wing aircraft.

Meanwhile the Army's Materiel Command at Wright Field had recognized the revolutionary tactical possibilities inherent in this new type of flying machine and in February, 1940, provided further funds for development.

In May, 1942, a two-place ship developed for the Army as the XR4A flew 761 miles in a series of cross country hops from Stratford, Conn., to Wright Field at Dayton, Ohio. It was the longest helicopter flight yet made.

Now that the principles of controlled helicopter flight had been established and the helicopter had shown further promise, first quantity orders were placed by the Army in December, 1942. In May, tests on Long Island Sound demonstrated the helicopter could land and take off from the limited areas of the deck on a tanker, opening new possiblities for its use as an anti-submarine weapon.

Today a separate division of United Aircraft Corporation is devoted solely to helicopter research, design and manufacture. Housed in quarters leased from the Crane Company in Bridgeport, Sikorsky Aircraft is in production for the U. S. Army and is collaborating closely with Nash-Kelvinator, whom it has licensed to build even more.

New Craft Poses Design Problems

In fixed wing aircraft, enough experience has been accumulated to be able to predict with some degree of accuracy just what problems will be met.

There is no such background of experience with the helicopter. In all history, only a few helicopters have been built that have actually flown. A great deal of research and experimental work lies ahead before all the perplexing and intricate problems of helicopter flight can be solved. To tackle these problems Sikorsky's staff of engineers, collaborating closely with Army experts, is devoting its energies on almost a 24-hour-a-day basis.

Likewise there are many production problems involved in tooling up for manufacturing a new and radically different type of aircraft. Sikorsky's own experts, working closely with Nash-Kelvinator's trained staff are bending every effort to cut the inevitable tooling-up time to an absolute minimum.

Enlisting Many Sub-contractors

Following United's production philosophy, Sikorsky makes extensive use of sub-contracting and it is probable that the Sikorsky helicopter will be more highly sub-contracted than any other product of United Aircraft Corporation.

The fundamental principles of helicopter flight have been established. There remain many problems of refinement to be solved. But those problems only present a challenge to Sikorsky Aircraft. The whole history of aviation has been the accomplishment of the impossible.

Mr. Sikorsky points out that he began experiments in 1908. There were only two reasons his first helicopter, built in 1909, never flew. They were, said Mr. Sikorsky: "One, insufficient power and, two, insufficient knowledge."

Helicopter Not Ready For Public

Meanwhile there has been a tremendous interest in helicopters for private and commercial use. Letters have been received from all over the United States and 24 foreign countries. More than a dozen companies have applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for commercial helicopter routes totaling over 75,000 miles.

But all private and commercial demands must wait until the end of the war. Every ounce of engineering and production resources at Sikorsky Aircraft's command must be devoted entirely to furthering the war effort.

EVEN SUBS COULDN'T STOP HIM

Hamilton Standard Propeller Expert at Work in Wilds of Eritrea

Equipment Torpedoed, Service Men Carry On

EAST HARTFORD, CONN.—Nazi subs sent a shipload of Hamilton Standard propeller equipment to the bottom of the Atlantic in February, 1942, but loss of tools and parts did not faze service men who went to Africa to keep the blades turning on the Allies' bombers, fighters and transports, it was learned from four men who have returned to the home factory here.

The propeller servicemen were part of an all-American industry repair team sent to the Douglas-built and operated Base 19, deep in Eritrea, 7,200 feet above sea level.

The convoyed trip to the base was made despite constant submarine threats. At one port, Lord Haw Haw warned the American technicians to enjoy themselves because they would not get much further. Three days later their ships dodged torpedoes.

They arrived in Eritrea early in March 1942. But the Nazis had made good on part of their threat. A shipload of Hamilton Standard propeller maintenance equipment and tools rested on the bottom of the ocean.

Not only were working conditions primitive, but living on the Eritrean base was no bed of roses. It rains all summer there. Dense wilderness closes in a few miles away.

Leopards, hyenas and wild camels were daily in evidence. There were stories of workers being torn apart by angry baboons.

Though they had nothing to work with but a few copies of service manuals and a scattering of pocket tools, the Hamilton Standard men set to work immediately to replace the torpedoed equipment.

They utilized angle iron and scrap abandoned by the fleeing Italians, who once operated the field. With their own hands they shaped wrenches, slings, pliers, twisting fixtures, and the many other tools needed to service a modern propeller.

With rough tools and rule of thumb tests, the men had to use their wits and lots of elbow grease to service hundreds of propellers. Laborious hand filing and sanding was routine. Bent blades were straightened by main strength. If they broke, the Hamilton Standard men had some extra parts.

For months on end, under the pressure of necessity, they managed to keep the blades turning on all the Fortresses, Warhawks, Skytrains and Skytroopers, Liberators, Hudsons, Liberator Expresses and Lightnings that came their way.

Crack Pilots, Fresh From Fronts, Train Navy Cadets In Latest Tricks

Air Heroes Bring Home Battle-Won Experience To Round Out Naval Training Program

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—Veteran pilots, winners of more than 65 battle citations, impart their combat experience to fledgling Naval fliers at this base. More veterans are on deck at all Navy flight training stations.

It is their job to see that future Navy pilots know the combat tricks before they fight. The Navy's pilots must be equal to the best when they finally meet the enemy.

To ensure this, the Navy doesn't even think of flight training until a cadet has weathered nine months gruelling mental and physical tests in flight preparatory school, civilian elementary flight school, and pre-flight school.

At primary school, the cadet flies his first Navy ship, the Boeing Kaydet. He learns simple acrobatics, sky discipline, night and formation flying.

The Navy's exacting teaching methods were vindicated when 110 cadets, some on their first solo, got caught in a severe rain squall. Visibility was cut half-a-mile, commercial pilots would have been grounded, yet every student got home safely.

But flying is only half the story at primary. He studies communications, navigation, gunnery and recognition — subjects he never drops, since the Navy expects each pilot to be an expert navigator, bombardier, gunner and radio man.

After primary, successful cadets go to intermediate school at Corpus Christi or Pensacola. In Link trainers and hooded planes they learn blind flying. They improve their aerial technique in the Vultee Valiant basic trainer.

Student Plans Own Career

Only then may a student indicate his choice of the combat plane he wants to fly—fighter, patrol bomber, scout, dive or torpedo bomber, or scout observation plane. The specialists, who have watched the cadet since the beginning of his training, make the final decision, but they usually find the student chooses for himself the plane he is best suited to fly.

In earning their gold wings and commissions, they have had to prove themselves again and again.

One fighter director, twice decorated for actions against the Japs, said: "I've seen men killed because they lacked that final touch of perfection that makes a great combat pilot. No man will graduate from this squadron unless I believe him eminently suited for fighter action against the enemy."

Graduation of a Navy pilot does not conclude his training. His next stop is operational school where he flies combat ships. Here he first meets the power and speed which make our warplanes so successful.

Veterans Teach New Tactics

Pilots who have been making simulated carrier landings in 600-hp North American Texans must now learn to do the same thing in Douglas Dauntlesses, Grumman Avengers and Wildcats, and Vought Corsairs. Fighter pilots, direct from war zones, teach the maneuvers that helped them down their prey. New torpedo attack methods are taught by men who developed them in action.

Patrol and scout bomber pilots are taught by experts, too. A Catalina squadron may be taught by one of the men who used his PBY as a dive bomber at Kiska. Scout observation pilots learn how to make catapult takeoffs and to land Kingfishers in rough water.

When the Naval aviator has had many weeks of this simulated combat flying, he is ready. He may be assigned as a replacement in a veteran squadron or he may become a member of a new unit. Veteran squadron members all act as instructors. They soon teach him the teamwork and tactics they use in battle. In short order he is as much a part of the squadron as if he had flown with it since its inception.

If a new squadron is formed it usually means waiting for a new carrier to be commissioned. The time is not wasted. Every minute of it is spent "teaming up" at air stations. By the time the new carrier goes to sea its fliers not only know each other's flying habits and characters perfectly but have developed the esprit de corps of a veteran organization.

How's Your Air I. Q.?

Q. What was the total weight of bombs dropped on Axis Europe by RAF, RCAF and American fliers during July?

A. More than 26,000 tons, surpassing the total Nazi bomb tonnage dropped on England during the three months blitz in 1940.

Q. How large was the American Army Air Force when the U.S.A. entered World War I?

A. The entire force consisted of 55 planes, 65 officers and 1,087 men.

Q. What is the size of the Army Air Force today?

A. August 2, on the 36th birthday of the Army Air Forces, the Army announced that it totaled over two million personnel and more than 75,000 airplanes.

Q. What is the greatest number of Allied planes reported over Europe in a 24-hour period?

A. Almost 3,000, August 18th, 1943.

Q. How are our airmen doing in China?

A. During its 13 months of operation the 14th American Air Force has destroyed 442 Jap planes while losing 51, according to Major General Claire Chennault.

Q. How long does it take to train a Navy pilot?

A. About two years.

Engine School Helps Officers Take Know-How To War Zones

BRAINARD FIELD, CONN.—In North Africa, Alaska, Sicily, England and the Pacific—wherever Army, Navy and Marine air forces are operating—more than 1,700 officer graduates of an engineering school run and financed by United Aircraft are transmitting the "know-how" of repair and maintenance to the men in the field.

The Brainard Field training school opened less than a month after Pearl Harbor. United Aircraft felt that because many of America's fighting planes would be powered with Pratt & Whitney engines or equipped with Hamilton Standard propellers, the company should train engineering officers in modern engine and propeller maintenance.

So United Aircraft leased the largest hangar at Brainard Field and converted it into a school capable of accomodating 300 student officers. The faculty came from plants of Pratt & Whitney and Hamilton Standard.

The course lasts eight weeks. Students may enroll in either squadron engineering or base overhaul, the former stressing problems of front-line operation. In the course they learn to tear down and assemble engines, and study line maintenance.

The engines are Pratt & Whitney Wasps, Twin Wasps and Double Wasps taken directly from assembly lines.

"That is one of the big advantages of our school," Furlonge H. Flynn, assistant service manager of United Aircraft Service Corporation, said. "The equipment they work on is the same as that which they will supervise at the fighting fronts."

Graduates of the school go into the field to become engineering officers of maintenance and overhaul bases.

CHANCE VOUGHT UPS CORSAIR PRODUCTION 96%

STRATFORD, CONN.—For four successive months production of the F4U Vought Corsair fighter has exceeded the tough schedule approved by the Navy, according to Rex B. Beisel, General Manager of the Chance Vought Aircraft division of United Aircraft Corporation.

"During the first seven months of 1943", said Mr. Beisel, "we have sent 96 percent more Corsairs to the Navy than in the last seven months of 1942. This record has been achieved by the complete cooperation of labor and management. Everybody here has only one aim—to get more Corsairs to the fighting fronts."

Men and women who build the Corsairs paused to cheer as one of their Zero-killing fighters rolled off the assembly line to mark a new high in production. Before getting its final coat of paint the plane looked like an autograph seeker's delight. Virtually every inch of its surface was covered with cartoons, jibes and initials of workers.

TYRANNY BY INJUNCTION.

The country had a taste of tyranny by injunction under the 18th amendment, and even tho the vast majority of the defendants were far from desirable citizens, the abuse of the process caused such revulsions as to be a principal cause of repeal. Today the same injunctive tyranny has been revived by the office of price administration. Its present victims are not bootleggers, but are often honest business men, trying their best to comply with the incomprehensible mandates of burocracy.

When one citizen seeks an injunction to restrain another, the courts require him to show that the defendant is doing something that will cause him irreparable damage if it is not stopped at once. The plaintiff is required to post a bond to indemnify the defendant in the event that he is unable to prove his charges.

There are no such safeguards when the government seeks an injunction against a citizen. If the citizen is unjustly injured, he either has no remedy, or at best, the tortuous and unsatisfactory one of prosecuting a claim against the government. In such instances the injunctive process should be surrounded with the greatest safeguards.

It is not. The District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals has just held that the courts are obliged to issue an injunction against a business man who violates any of the thousands of price regulations promulgated by the OPA, whenever the OPA asks it. The Appeals court reversed a District court, which had refused an injunction against the Hecht company, a Washington department store. The store had violated a price regulation, but the court found that it was virtually impossible for any retailer to be in complete compliance with the multitude of OPA orders, and even commended the defendant as having done a "remarkable job" of complying.

The Washington courts could have found further instruction in the complications of OPA regulations in recent proceedings in the federal courts in Chicago. Here OPA attorneys have sought to enjoin defendants from practices which defense counsel showed to be in perfect compliance with OPA regulations. Not only are the regulations so complex and changeable that no business man can be expected to comply with them, but they are so complex that even the lawyers engaged in enforcing them don't know them. Even so, the Appeals court in Washington held that under the price control act it is mandatory upon a court to grant injunctions when the OPA asks them.

Whether this is valid law under the Constitution is immaterial. The act is bad law, and congress should not permit it to stand any longer than it takes to pass an amendment. The condition under which burocrats can make regulations so complex that they themselves do not know their content, and then send men to jail for violating them, as they can thru the process of injunction, is the purest tyranny.

HOW TO STAY OUT OF THE ARMY.

Senator Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, has called upon the New Deal to explain why 840,000 men of draft age holding civilian jobs on the government pay roll should not be inducted into the army before fathers with heavy family responsibilities are drafted.

He mentioned Abe Fortas, the 33 year old undersecretary of the interior who got a draft deferment after Mr. Roosevelt wrote him a letter. The President said that Fortas was a lot more essential to Honest Harold than he would be to the army or navy. Fortas draws $10,000 a year and his wife gets $5,600 a year as a justice department attorney. They have no children. Fortas was reported to be willing to go into the army.

The reason Fortas and his 840,000 fellow burocrats won't be drafted is that anybody who draws a government pay check is essential to the New Deal. Everybody and everything bearing the administration label is double A-1 on the priority list.

There is no degree of essentiality in burocracy. The burocrat, the burocrat's press agent, his lawyer, his clerk, his office boy, and his janitor are sleeping soundly these nights, secure in the comfort of their essential status, even if civilian fathers aren't.

All the nonessential fellows live on the other side of the tracks in the detested economy of free enterprise. They get some consideration if they are in war work, but, after all, that makes them at least quasi-government employes. The boss signs the pay checks, but the dough comes from the treasury.

The essential burocrats are a piece of the good old party line. Commissars are essential to the commune and cannot be spared for the fighting, but everybody else can go to war. For the timorous boys in Washington horizons are unlimited.

A DEFECTIVE LAW.

Mrs. Agnes Peele, the operator of an establishment to which she gave the pretentious title of the Aristocrat Home for the Aged, has been convicted by a jury of beating a 91 year old man who was a resident of the home. She was charged with assault and battery, and the jury imposed the maximum penalty provided for that crime, a fine of $100 and costs.

The act of which the jurors convicted her is a particularly heartless one, and any one guilty of it should go to prison. The jurors, however, had no such option. The laws of Illinois draw no distinction between a blow struck in anger and a deliberate, cold blooded assault.

We have called attention to this deficiency before. An attempt was made to remedy it in the last session of the legislature. The bill was defeated, largely thru the influence of organized labor. It apparently was feared that it would result in the imposition of just penalties on labor sluggers, altho, as the Peele case demonstrates, those are not the only occasions on which the present law is inadequate.

Mrs. Peele's encounters with the law, of which the present one is by no means her first, also suggest that this state is regrettably lax in the inspection and regulation of private institutions which, for profit, undertake the custodial care of the aged, infirm, or incompetent.

COME, COME, MR. BRACKEN.

In New York Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, denounced as fifth columnists any who speculate on the possibility of Russia making a separate peace with Germany.

"It is highly insulting to Russia to suggest that she might drop out of the war," he said. "Russia has never broken her word since the soviet was established."

Mr. Bracken thus pins his faith on the Russo-British treaty of alliance concluded in June, 1942, in which the two nations pledged each other to make no peace or armistice with Germany without mutual consent. On the subject of Russian good faith, he might well have consulted Mr. Hull, whom he met at Quebec, before he spoke so sympathetically.

Mr. Hull is also the custodian of a Russian treaty. It was negotiated in 1933 by Mr. Roosevelt and Comrade Litvinov. We recognized the Stalin government and that government pledged itself not to interfere in our domestic affairs, nor to attempt to change our form of government, nor to give shelter and support to any organization [the comintern] which advocated or planned the overthrow by force of the American government.

Within a very short time Mr. Hull was put to the painful duty of protesting to the Russian government that this section of the treaty was being violated. The Russians evaded the charge, and continued the violations. They are still engaged in them. No one is under any doubt, after its behavior on the war, that the Communist party is an agent of Russian policy in this country.

Russia signed the Kellogg-Briand pact, renouncing war as an instrument of national policy.

She then made war on Finland, in 1939.

She extorted Bessarabia from Rumania, by threat of war.

In the same year, by threat of war, she forced Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia to sign so-called treaties of mutual assistance with the soviet union. Each of these treaties contained the promise that it would not disturb "the sovereign rights of the contracting parties, in particular their economic systems and state organizations." Within 10 months Stalin sent his armies into the three Baltic countries, overthrew their governments, liquidated their professional middle class by wholesale removals to concentration camps and amalgamated them with Russia.

These are not the only examples of Russian perfidy, but they are enough. Foreign Secretary Eden should take Mr. Bracken aside and tell him the facts of life.

PLANNED SHORTAGES.

Congressman Charles A. Wolverton of New Jersey, a member of the house committee investigating the newsprint situation, says that the way to remedy the paper shortage is not to print less news but to make more newsprint paper.

Of course Rep. Wolverton is right. The way to solve the beef shortage is to produce more beef. The way to solve the gasoline shortage is to make more gasoline. The American way to solve any shortage is to produce more of the thing that is short.

But the burocrats cannot do this. They do not know how to produce anything, unless it is confusion. The New Deal believes in a static economy. The party members divide up what we have. The less of anything there is the more burocrats they must have to supervise the dividing. If we produced such quantities that every one had plenty the burocrats would be out of a job. Thus we have shortages of paper, beef, gasoline, butter, and nearly every other item in our civilian economy except burocrats.

Editorial of the Day

WHILE WE DENOUNCE HITLER.
[Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City.]

Oklahomans may question the common sense of reducing gasoline consumption in the shadow of the refineries in order to increase driving 1,500 miles from the oil fields. But involved in this drastic order is something far more important than sectional favoritism or the abuse of war powers, and that is the one-man power made manifest in this drastic order. Not the President, not congress, and not the courts, but one individual burocrat said that Oklahomans shall have less gasoline in order that New Englanders presently shall have more.

All these years all of us have been denouncing the absolutism of the axis countries. We have been horrified because one man in Rome or Berlin or Moscow or Tokio possesses the power to order the lives of the people. Nothing like that could happen here. No, sir! We would gladly shed our good red blood before we would accept orders from any man ever born. But for all our bragging, it has happened here and it is still happening here with a vengeance.

This order was not issued by the President of the people. It did not come from a congress elected by the people. It did not come from the judicial department of the government. It came from a man who never has been elected by the people and whose very name is unknown to many of the people. While we have been cursing Hitlerism and shouting for an all-out war to destroy Hitlerism one burocrat out of our more than three million burocrats issues an order that is as absolute as any decree that ever came from Hitler's hand. Verily, verily, brethren, while our armies are destroying Hitlerism abroad we have an amazingly big lot of unfinished business right here at home.

We liked the Philadelphia Record's reaction to news that Bernarr MacFadden, on his 75th birthday, had stood on his head for reporters: "Now let's see him walk."—Detroit News.

Test Your Horse Sense
By George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 30.

1. Which one of these names is inappropriate in this general grouping?
   Ford Dodge Firestone Olds.
2. The word "lode" should make one think of which type of worker?
   Farmer Mule driver Steel worker Miner.
3. A relay track team usually consists of how many men? 2 4 6 8.
4. The anchor man on a relay team would run
   First Second Next to last Last.
5. An adult railroad ticket permits one to check how many pounds of luggage free?
   50 lbs. 100 lbs. 150 lbs. 250 lbs.
6. Certain types of food are popularly linked with certain countries. Try to match the foods in the left hand column below with the countries associated therewith. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.
   [a] Rice [v] Italy
   [b] Porridge [w] China
   [c] Sauerkraut [x] United States
   [d] Spaghetti [y] Germany
   [e] Ice cream [z] Scotland

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

"TYPICAL SMALL TOWN."

Every little while somebody discovers Madison, Ind., and falls into an ecstasy, saying, "Why didn't they tell me about this place?" The latest discovery comes out of a national survey by the office of war information, which proposes to make this picturesque old town on the Ohio river the heroine of a propaganda movie, for global distribution. Madison has been officially informed that it is "typical," and the Hoosier sense of humor, highly developed there, is enjoying a new birth of satire.

Madison runs true to type for towns of 8,000 inhabitants only because it has a Main street. Its commonplaceness ends there. Its election to the star's role in this federal project merely means that the Hollywood technicians know a glamor girl when they see one. Stretched in leafy grace between her great river and her lofty hills and dreaming of her almost metropolitan past when her population was 20,000, Madison is photogenic.

The first railroad fortunes of the middle west were accumulated there, and the memory of that prosperity is perpetuated by the Lanier mansion, now a museum—a more beautiful house than the garden clubs can find on their annual hegiras to Natchez. Thomas E. Tallmadge mentions it in his "Story of Architecture in America":

"Not in the east alone were there imposing mansions in the Greek style. In Madison, Ind., is the home of James F. D. Lanier, built in 1844 at a cost of $40,000—a noble building with a tetrastyle Doric colonnade and the unusual dignity of a great, round cupola."

That railroad, first west of the Alleghenies, is still first in one way. It has the steepest standard gauge track in the world. The cut thru the bluffs was an engineering marvel. Madison did things in a lordly way in the 1840s and the tradition lingers.

In literature Madison claims Edward Eggleston and David Graham Phillips; in the movies, Irene Dunne; in social life, for a part of her girlhood, Mrs. Potter Palmer. All over the country there are ex-Madisonians who have been talking about the old town ever since their departure.

Well, folks, reckon the mail for Madison, Ind., won't get misdirected to Madison, Wis., any longer.

FORTE, ROLLO! FORTE!

Gather around, all ye relatives, friends—
A treat is in store before this evening ends!
A chair for Aunt Susie! A chair for Aunt Annie!
And now watch young Rollo as he whops the pianny.

Rollo's had lessons for nearly a year,
And almost can play the piano by ear.
(To judge from the past—and the memory lingers—Rollo'd do better to stick to his fingers.)

He has, to be sure, a few technical faults,
Which are shown to perfection in "Twinkletoes Waltz."
He grips with three-quarter time; this, friends, is war!
But gamely he fights—chops it down to two-four.

He tackles the melody, kills it a fine way;
The battle is now betwixt Rollo and Steinway.
There can be but one victor, and that one is Rollo,
Our bloody, unbowed, pianofortic Apollo.

"Splendid, my child!" Now an encore we fear,
But he'll give one, or else risk a clout on the ear.
The piece is announced; it's "The Golliwog's Glen"—
Hold your hats, everybody! Here we go again!

Friends, it is said by insurance firms' lists
That amateur pianists are very poor risks.

Cholly.

Watching for the Mailman.

"Has the mailman gone by yet?" I called out to Ferdinand, my silver tabby, who lay hidden in the peony bushes.

"He's due to be late," he informed me. "Esquire comes out today and unless he walks slow he won't get to see all those cute Petty girls. The subscriber lives in the next block, you know. By the way, what are you looking for—rejection slips?"

"If we're going to get personal, my friend," I said haughtily, "what are you waiting for—fan mail?"

"Now don't get stuffy, my girl," he chuckled. "I only wish to be on the spot when history is made."

"History will never be made on a quiet residential street in this suburb," I sniffed.

"There's where you're wrong," cried Ferdinand. "You know that brown dog that always accompanies the mailman? Some day you're going to see a headline in the local paper: MAILMAN'S DOG BITES TAXPAYER IN LEG, because that, my girl, is NEWS." Eugenia Gerlach Stein.

THE MAGPIE'S MISCELLANY.
(A Brookfield Ballad.)

Some time when you are up a tree,
Peek in a magpie's nest and see
The strange, amazing things inside
And you'll climb down much edified.
For these birds bring home anything
That's not nailed down, like bits of string,
And spoons, and buttons, glass galore,
And useless trinkets by the score,
Until we safely may assume
The magpie has no elbow room.
(And that reminds me; there's no doubt
I ought to clean our attic out!)

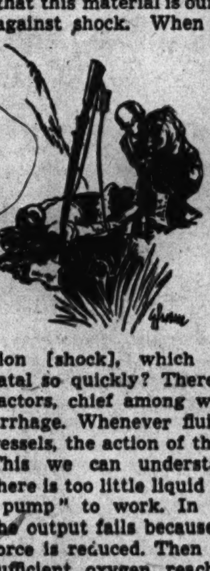
LIFE DEPENDS UPON THE PLASMA SUPPLY.

SOME of us may wonder why the demands of the Red Cross for blood donations continue to be so insistent. The reason is that this material is our best weapon against shock. When administered as plasma [minus the cells] the circulation is restored to normal. But it must be available immediately. Time is precious.



How do we account for this obscure condition [shock], which can become fatal so quickly? There are several factors, chief among which is hemorrhage. Whenever fluid leaves the vessels, the action of the heart fails. This we can understand because there is too little liquid to enable the "pump" to work. In consequence, the output fails because the driving force is reduced. Then it is that insufficient oxygen reaches essential parts. If this state is allowed to continue for several hours, a favorable outcome cannot be expected.

The answer is to recharge the circulation via a transfusion or by means of plasma. If this is done, vigor will be renewed. Thus the sufferer is lifted from that twilight zone between life and death. The very fact that, under such management, the blood pressure will begin to rise, points to recovery.

But bleeding is not the only way in which this indispensable fluid may seep away. In a severe burn, the damaged area acts like a sieve thru which serum may pour. In such circumstances, restoring the quantity to somewhere near average becomes a prime necessity. We can stop much of this leakage thru the employment of firm compression bandages. The same situation is presented by crushing injuries. Here again, oozing may occur from any raw surface that is not subjected to pressure.

We cannot forget the nervous system and its important rôle. Fear, pain, or powerful emotions may bring on collapse, with the patient exhibiting alarming signs. The skin is usually bathed in cold perspiration and a marked pallor is observed. These symptoms may follow only a slight wound. The first thing to do is to relieve suffering and apprehension. Thereafter, the victim can be wrapped in a blanket and given strong coffee, containing salt instead of sugar.

Finally, we must think of the possibility of severe fractures liberating tiny fat droplets into the blood stream which may plug the capillaries and interfere with the operation of vital organs.

The treatment of shock is refilling the veins. The needle is introduced directly into the most accessible conduit and the plasma allowed to flow. The systolic pressure can be watched and, when the level reaches 100, we may be reasonably certain that the patient is out of danger for the time being.

If the containers are at hand, the procedure may be carried out under extremely difficult conditions. Reports from Guadalcanal describe the injection of plasma during the evacuation of the wounded by airplane. Many a young hero was landed at the base hospital with a good chance to pull thru because somebody, somewhere, had responded to the call.

TOO TECHNICAL.

J. W. writes: In applying for work at a war plant, the industrial doctor said my blood pressure was 200 and I was turned down. I went to my family physician that night and it was 172. The next day I returned to the plant, where I was kept waiting for four hours and again my level showed 200. Don't you think these establishments are overdoing these examinations on older persons who want light work? Couldn't nervousness be responsible?

REPLY.

Your diagnosis is correct. Delay, plus nervousness, increased tension—which resulted in a high reading. All too frequently, examiners, technically expert, lack wisdom.

NOT COMBINED.

W. L. writes: What does "free" mean in the term "free hydrochloric acid"?

REPLY.

Uncombined—not linked with a mineral base.

COLOR OF BLOOD.

J. M. B. writes: What is the original color of the blood? If it is blue when one has a transfusion, does the blood get back to its proper shade?

REPLY.

"Blue" is a figurative term. It indicates several shades darker than the arterial scarlet. As soon as the fluid reaches the lungs, the hemoglobin will take on oxygen and become bright red.

MYSTERY.

M. J. writes: What brings on petit mal?

REPLY.

Altho this malady has been studied for a thousand years or more, no specific cause has been discovered.

Indelible Romance.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—Frank Sinatra, the moaning singer who has brought frustrated romance to the heart of every 15 year old girl in America, has left the combat zone of New York for Hollywood, but proof of his hold on young America remains, imperishable and startling, on the high cement walls of the stage door entrance to the Paramount theater in New York City. No greater home front sacrifice could any young girl make in war time than to write of her love in lipstick, and this is just what half the Marys, Ruths, and Effies of New York have done. Their scrawlings are as big as their longing hearts, their lipstick as red as their Sinatra-stirred blood.

"O, Frank Sinatra," wrote one anguished lass, who obviously had been hanging around the stage door all day, "we've waited so long." "Semper Sinatra," wrote another in paraphrase of her Girl Scout motto of "Semper Parata." "Frank Sinatra, why do you do this to me?" scrawled a third who boldly signed her name, Arline.

"Frank Sinatra Sunday, Monday, and always," one had written in beautiful backhand and flame lipstick. "O, Frank Sinatra," came another, in a more vivid carmine but a less grammatical outburst, "you thrill millions, but you more than thrill us. Mary and Loretta."

One, obviously an aristocrat, for her lipstick blood had a definitely blue tinge, wrote merely: "Frank Sinatra! [swoon]." One assumes she did.

Another, unable to endure longer the agony of not knowing whether Sinatra returned her love, brought her lipstick as near the entrance as possible and wrote, imperatively: "Frank Sinatra, call me up. Ask for Charlotte. Mo 2-9424. O, this love of mine!"

Wondering just how Charlotte was getting along without Sinatra and whether he ever had returned her call, we dialed this number. For hours it was busy, and we took it for granted that some 991 of the hundreds of soldiers and sailors passing the wall daily were trying to date Charlotte. At last a broken accent male voice answered. "Who dat? who dat?" he asked. "What say?" we made it pretty plain we were looking for Charlotte, an old pal, and he said they didn't deliver spare ribs on Tuesday. On that fine note of mutual understanding, the conversation was concluded.

Somehow, too, two recalcitrants managed to get their words upon that wall. Frank's admirers have tried to obliterate them, but lipstick and cement are an inseparable blend. One meanie wrote, in immense letters high above the others, "Dick Haymes is better looking than Frankenstein!" and another, a nasty little imp who didn't know cadaverous masculine beauty when she saw it, wrote: "Frank Sinatra, why don't you get a good meal?"

The latter was very daring. She signed her name, Effie. Beneath it, in redder lipstick and print made shaky by anger, one loyal romantic had replied, "You, Effie! who do you think you are, anyway?"

Just who are you, Effie?

Incidentally, a 52d street honkytonk now is advertising a Hank Sinatra, also a cadaverous crooner. As far as we were able to ascertain, he has not yet been mobbed.

And all this red writing brings to mind the tale about a war time ship captain who tried to unload his cargo on a small South Pacific island. He had hoped to hire natives to do the unloading, but the natives took one look at his American money, shook their heads, and went back to sleep. Finally he remembered three cans of red paint in his hold. Opening one, he summoned a bald pated native and dabbed red paint all over his head. The next morning 200 natives were clustered around the ship, pointing to their newly shorn heads and the gleaming red dome of their compatriot. The ship was unloaded by noon.

TO GUARD REPUBLICANISM.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 26.—Thanks for your recent editorial, "Mr. Medill on the Millionaires." It puts the finger on the Republican party's weak spot. The mugwump element saddled us with Mr. Wendell Willkie in 1940. It was able to do so only because it controls plenty of the sinews of war. To carry on a campaign the party must have campaign funds, and Messrs. Knox, Stimson, et al, have friends who are heavy contributors. Next year we may find that we have ditched the Barefaced Boy only to be captained by some equally grotesque "Republican." Some of us felt in 1940 that we were choosing the lesser of two weevils, and acknowledge that the issue was debatable.

What to do? Here is a suggestion: Let's form voluntary associations, pledging ourselves to contribute $1, $5, or $10 a month each to our committees. Subscriptions like these would have two beneficial results. First, with only a few hundred thousand pledges we could defy the eastern moguls before the convention, and the Democrats, United States treasury and all, afterward. Secondly, the contributors would again be reminded that they are citizens. They would watch the precinct, city, county, and state organizations to see that none but loyal Americans were put on guard. If we can organize in this way we can nominate a real Republican. With that candidate we can avert the peril of agreeing to support even One World after the war. At the same time we can remove the threat of Monarchy, Unlimited. After all, the Republican party was organized as the party of the common people and, in general, has remained so. J. A. O'HARA.

PRICE CONTROL IN MARYLAND.

Princess Anne, Md., Aug. 24.—Our state OPA director says price control just doesn't exist at Maryland's only summer resort, Ocean City, which has been doing the biggest business in its history, in spite of gas regulations—and no trains go there! But why should the director worry about gas grifters being soaked 40 cents for hamburgers and 70 cents for beer? Let him worry about those good Americans who stay on their jobs, stay home, and get their sun tans and exercise in their war gardens.

ISOLATION.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—The presence of infantile paralysis or "polio" in Chicago and Cook county suggests the isolation of children in small groups. I am informed that in a recent epidemic in Pittsburgh the health authorities required that children play and associate together in groups of no more than three, and always the same three. Perhaps our local health authorities may well take good example from Pittsburgh. CHRISTIAN C. ZILLMAN JR.

OR A CAPTIOUS CAPTAIN?

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 26.—So a jittery general in Hawaii proclaims his authority to kick any American citizen in the shins. If he gets away with it, what is to prevent a common colonel from following suit, or a silly sergeant, or a bully private? Americans who feel freedom is worth fighting for abroad had better start guarding it at home, too. ALBERT KLINGER.

FROM JUDGE HASTEN.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Your editorial, "Judges and the Law," apparently inspired by a recent letter in the Voice of the People, is based on misinformation.

The zoning case in question has been continued for further investigation and possible council action, and not dismissed. Consequently, the zoning ordinance has in no wise been affected.

I approve THE TRIBUNE's zealous campaign to safeguard our constitutional rights—but protest the reference to the writer; and I further affirm that I never have nor never will countenance the infringement of any individual's constitutional rights.

I, therefore, feel that an unjust reference has been made, thru some gross misunderstanding.

Note: The editorial in question stated that Judge Hasten refused to act, not that he dismissed the complaint in question.

A BIG INCH FOR OYSTERS.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 27.—For several weeks I have noticed a shortage of oranges. I am exceedingly fond of eating oranges. It has come to my attention that there seems to be an abundance of them in Florida, all of which does me no good.

Do you not think that the only fair way to handle the situation is to ration oranges in Florida? After all, we ration gasoline here. I suggest the same policy be adopted in regard to sea food in the east. If I cannot have scallops in the middle west, they can do without them in Baltimore or Washington. On the other hand, if they want to ease the situation, they can just build a great big pipe line and syphon oysters and scallops out of Chesapeake bay into Chicago.

Are not all of the policies on an equally sane basis? JOSEPH H. LESH.

CHARGES PILE UP ON 2 POLICEMEN IN SHOOTING QUIZ

Sailor They Wounded Is in Serious Condition.

While their victim, a young naval reservist, lay seriously wounded last night in County hospital, two policemen, stripped of their stars, sat in the lockup of the Sheffield avenue station. They face charges of assault with intent to kill, intoxication, disobedience to orders, conduct unbecoming officers, willful maltreatment of a person, and unlawful use of a weapon.

Their superior officer, Capt. John Howe, said the pair would be booked on the charges as a result of the shooting early in the day of Howard Darnell, 22 years old, of Detroit, Mich., who was to have reported for navy duty in Milwaukee at 8 a. m. He was inducted a week ago and was on a seven day leave.

Each Father of Two.

The policemen under arrest for the shooting, which occurred in the Tropical Nights tavern, 2430 North Clark street, are William Hogan, 3514 North Racine avenue, and Joseph Murray, 2517 Berteau avenue. Both are 34 years old, both are married, and each is the father of two children.

Hogan, who has been on the police force since Oct. 24, 1942, was made a detective only two days ago. Murray has been a policeman since June 16, 1942.

State's Atty. Courtney assigned one of his assistants, James Brown, to take statements from witnesses and to prepare for criminal prosecution of the accused pair. Courtney said the charges would depend on the outcome of Darnell's wound.

Balk Call to Police.

Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniform police, and Supervising Capt. John Ryan were assisting Capt. Howe in the investigation. They said witnesses agreed on the following account:

Hogan and Murray, both under the influence of liquor, ordered drinks, then refused to pay. The bartender, fearing trouble, threw off his apron and left, and Edward Morris, 2366 Damen avenue, the tavern owner, tried to call police, but the carousing policemen held down the receiver.

Explanation Ignored.

The pair then started a quarrel with young Darnell, who had come to the tavern to see Mrs. Emily McDonald, 2258 Lincoln avenue, a waitress in the place. The policemen demanded to see Darnell's draft card, telling him they were agents of the federal bureau of investigation.

Darnell explained he had been inducted into the navy, and was on his way to report for duty. The explanation failed to convince the policemen, who became abusive. There was a scuffle, during which Darnell gave a good account of himself.

Policeman Murray pulled out a pistol [an unregistered revolver, not a police service gun] and shot the young man in the chest.

Bullet Lodged in Lung.

At the County hospital, physicians said the bullet had entered Darnell's left shoulder and coursed down, lodging in a lung. They said it would be necessary to wait at least a week before attempting an operation to remove the bullet. Later naval physicians took charge of the case.

Lt. Russell Corcoran, who took a statement from Darnell last night at the hospital, quoted him as saying he had drunk two beers and three whisky sour cocktails during the evening. He said he did not believe, at the time of the fight, that the men were policemen.

UNCOVER PHONE CENTER IN LOOP HANDBOOK RAID

A handbook raid at 184 West Washington street yesterday by a squad from the police commissioner's office, led by Capt. Michael Naughton, led to the discovery of two telephone nerve centers, equipped with switchboards and loudspeakers for broadcasting race results.

The police first visited room 506 and arrested Louis Morris, 4322 West 14th street, and Milton Waldman, 1100 North La Salle street, and sent three patrons away. Tracing the telephone wires led them to room 510, where they found a 21 trunk switchboard, still warm from use, a loudspeaker and a registry of horses running in yesterday's races.

Still following telephone wires, the searchers found another switchboard and equipment in room 703. Equipment in the three rooms was confiscated.

Capt. Thomas J. Duffy and detectives also raided six alleged downtown handbooks, arrested 12 men, and dispersed 109 patrons. Places raided were 225 North Michigan avenue, sixth floor; 6 West Randolph street, fifth floor; 122 South Clark street, second floor; 29 South Dearborn street, first floor cigar store; 34 South Clark street, rear of cigar store, and 225 West Van Buren street.

TRACTOR DRIVER DIES; BELIEVED MURDER VICTIM

George Johnson, 44 years old, a tractor driver, died in St. James' hospital, Chicago Heights, early yesterday, victim of a suspected murderous assault on the old Dixie highway, route 1, south of Crete, Will county, where he was run over by an automobile as he lay in the road.

A hammer, with which police believe Johnson was beaten by a robber, and his right shoe were found in his automobile parked near-by.

Johnson, who had moved to Chicago Heights from Watseka, Iroquois county, three weeks ago, was run over on the highway by the automobile of Harry Keiper of Goodenow, Will county, on Aug. 27.

Johnson's head had been bashed in and there was a gash over one eye, which may have been caused by an assailant, State Police Lt. Harold C. Fewell said. His chest was crushed and his right leg broken, probably by Keiper's automobile.

BURGLARS TAKE GIRDLES.

Two-way stretch girdles, skirts, and slacks valued at $280 were taken by burglars from the shop of Bernice Skorcky at 749 Ashland avenue, she reported to police yesterday.

CHICAGO WARNED OF SHORTAGE IN TOP GRADE COAL

Rep. Johnson Puts Blame on Ickes' Orders.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—Rep. Calvin D. Johnson [R., Ill.] warned Chicago and St. Louis coal consumers today that they face a shortage of high grade bituminous coal from the Appalachian fields under the new regulations of Harold L. Ickes, solid fuels administrator.

Johnson called today on Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, to discuss the situation. The Illinois congressman said he hopes that Eastman and Ickes will arrange a conference at which the problems can be explored.

Johnson suggested that Chicago and St. Louis prepare to use lower grade coal from the Illinois fields. Smoke abatement authorities have previously said that Illinois coal may be burned, with proper stoking, under the present ordinances.

Johnson asserted that the Ickes order, issued Aug. 21, compels coal dealers to provide adequate supplies of Appalachian coal first to the iron and steel industry, and next to lake shipping until Nov. 15.

From the remaining, the Illinois congressman predicted that there will not be sufficient to furnish all the 11 million tons of Appalachian coal used annually in Chicago, or the 1 million tons a year required by St. Louis.

CITY BUILDINGS URGED TO BUY COAL AT ONCE

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, yesterday ordered city department heads in buildings where coal is used as a source of power and heat to stock up to the limit of their storage capacities immediately.

Hewitt said the city at present has in storage only 17,300 tons of coal, or 32 days' supply. He said the various buildings have a total capacity of 36,000 tons, or slightly more than 60 days' supply.

Of twelve water pumping stations, seven depend upon coal as a source of power. In addition, the west side pumping station uses coal and furnishes heat and light to the Bridewell, the Criminal courts building, county jail and the contagious disease hospital.

INDIANA ARMS FACTORY BLAST KILLS 1, INJURES 7

La Porte, Ind., Aug. 31 [Special].—One man was killed and seven persons slightly injured in an explosion today in the shell loading division of the Kingsbury Ordnance plant near here, Lt. Col. Stanley C. Shubart, commandant at the plant, announced.

The man killed was Noah E. Carpenter, 36 years old, of Culver, Ind., married and father of two children. Injured were Eugene M. Beaver, 37, of Michigan City, back injuries; Clyde A. Morris, 26, of Culver, face wounds, and Mass Hattie B. Simons, 19, chest injuries; and the following, all suffering from shock, Mrs. Annie D. Hinton, 19; Mrs. Eunice E. Hobbs, 18; Mrs. Katherine F. Johnson, 27, all of Gary, and Carlton G. McKenzie, 33, of La Porte.

Lt. Col. Shubart said operations are continuing without interruption and that an official inqury will be made into the cause of the blast.

2 MEN AND GIRL ORDERED TO FACE ST. PAUL TRIAL

John Pape, 23 years old, and George Heck, 23, said by the federal bureau of investigation to have escaped from a state training school near Monroe, Wash., and Gladys Kayser, 19, of Hatton, N. D., yesterday were ordered removed to St. Paul, Minn., for federal trial on a charge of transporting a stolen automobile across the Minnesota-North Dakota state line. The men, police said, admitted they kidnaped Sheriff Oscar Bang of Norman county, Minnesota, and his deputy, stole their car and left them tied to a tree near Twin Valley, Minn. All three were arrested here Saturday.

HELD IN HOLDUP, HIS 19TH ARREST IN 7 BUSY YEARS

Pisano at 24 Confronted by 3 New Charges.

William Pisano, 24 years old, 1336 Erie street, who has a police record of 19 arrests and seven convictions in the last seven years, was returned to the county jail yesterday when he was unable to raise $7,500 bond in Felony court in connection with the holdup of Martin Klos' drugstore and postoffice substation at 1256 Noble street on Aug. 16.

Judge Charles S. Dougherty continued the case to Sept. 10. Pisano, also known as William Pissani and Sonny Johnson, was charged with robbery, burglary, and carrying a concealed weapon. Police are looking for two alleged accomplices.

Pisano was arrested Saturday by detectives who noticed a gunshot wound in his arm. It had been reported that one of the three had been shot by police as they fled.

Robbery First on Record.

Pisano's police record began Sept. 28, 1936, when he was given a 60 day term in the Bridewell for robbery. He was arrested again on Nov. 29 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a child. On Jan. 29, 1937, he was arrested and discharged as a suspect in a shooting. He was given a 30 day Bridewell term on the contributing to delinquency charge Feb. 2, 1937.

After leaving the Bridewell for the second time, Pisano was arrested and discharged three times on disorderly conduct charges. He was placed under a year's supervision by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in October, 1937, in connection with a confidence game. On Jan. 7, 1938, he was given a 60 day term in the Bridewell for carrying a pistol.

Five Arrests in 1942.

Shortly after his release from the Bridewell in March, 1938, Pisano started a one year term in the county jail for burglary of an automobile. On his release a year later he was arrested for violation of supervision, but was discharged. Two one year terms in the Bridewell followed, one for larceny, starting in June, 1939, and one for burglary, starting in June, 1940.

Pisano next came to the notice of police Christmas eve, 1942, when he was arrested on two charges of robbery. The charges were nolle prossed in February. Three arrests and discharges on disorderly conduct charges followed in short order. His last record prior to the Aug. 16 holdup was last June 17 when he was arrested and discharged on a burglary charge.

BOY HURT BY FALL IN PARK.

Robert Swahborn, 10 years old, 1526 East 62d place, fell 10 feet from a tree in Jackson park while playing yesterday. He was picked up unconscious with a possible skull fracture and taken to Woodlawn hospital. Later he regained consciousness.

Church Janitor Gets 3-7 Years on Girls' Charges

Joseph P. Caylor, 49 years old, 7545 West 61st place, Argo, was convicted yesterday by a Criminal court jury of seven men and five women of taking indecent liberties with two 11 year old girls at the Nazarene church in Argo where he was janitor for 10 years. After overruling a motion for a new trial, Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro sentenced Caylor to three to seven years in the penitentiary. The two girls said Caylor enticed them to the church basement by giving them pennies and nickels.

ALL 3 PARTIES DUMP AURELIO IN N. Y. SCANDAL

Scorn Judiciary Deal, Name New Candidates.

noon and wept as he pleaded for his political future, but the 70 delegates, including his wife, turned him down.

Mrs. Aurelio, who is co-leader of the 8th assembly district, was spared the necessity of casting her legal half ballot when the committee decided on a voice vote.

Pleads on His Record.

Aurelio based his plea on his nine years as an assistant district attorney and 12 years as a magistrate. He asserted that he knew Costello only as a reputable business man and disavowed all knowledge of his alleged criminal background.

District Atty. Hogan had charged that the magistrate had telephoned Costello to thank him for helping to obtain the nomination and had pledged his "undying loyalty" to the gangster.

Stand's resignation was announced by Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the athletic commission, who said he met Stand at the latter's request and confronted him with Hogan's charges. Gen. Phelan said he gave Stand three alternatives: to acknowledge the truth, to deny them, or to resign.

Held Post 18 Years.

Hogan had charged that Stand "was in daily touch personally and by telephone" with Costello prior to the Aurelio nomination. Stand had held the $5,250 secretary post for the last 18 years.

Among those repudiating Aurelio was Edward J. [Paving Blocks] Flynn, Bronx county Democratic chairman and former chairman of the party's national committee.

Flynn's repudiation of the magistrate reminded observers of the time last February when he himself failed to pass a United States senate test for fitness to hold public office. He had been nominated by President Roosevelt as minister to Australia and special ambassador to the Southwest Pacific, but when a battle ensued in the senate over his record, he asked the President to withdraw the nomination.

Favored Dutch Schultz.

Flynn, it was charged, had used New York City paving blocks and employes in paving a Belgian courtyard on his country estate. Another charge was that while he was sheriff of Bronx county, N. Y., he had appointed the late Dutch Schultz, notorious gangster, as a deputy sheriff.

Tammany, headed by Michael J. Kennedy, showed that it was alive to the seriousness of the scandal by designating Impellitteri as an independent candidate. This will be the first election in the long history of Tammany in which the organization will urge voters not to vote the Democratic choice.

Aurelio, in appearing before the Tammany committee, declared his intention of running for the office on his duly nominated candidacy. He had been asked to withdraw, but refused.

Meanwhile, George Thompson, an anti-New Deal Democrat, asserting that Costello had been operating politically in the 12th assembly district for years, announced that he would take legal steps to set aside adoption of rules by Tammany leaders which squeezed him out of his election as leader of the 12th district Democratic organization. He said he would file a conspiracy action against Kennedy, Stand, James H. Fay, chairman of Tammany's executive committee, and William J. Connolly, who was named leader of the 12th.

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

PORT STEWARD OFFICER.

The army can use men between 30 and 48 years of age who have been employed as a chief steward or purchasing agent in the general offices of a large steamship company or in any similar capacity where they have gained qualifying experience in the procurement of ship's stores, foodstuffs, and general steward supplies and personnel. These men are needed to supervise operations pertaining to the purchasing, allocating, and loading of subsistence stores aboard vessels departing from a port of embarkation.

They must prepare requisitions for food supplies and ship's stores, make periodic inventories to ascertain that normal levels are maintained, allocate supplies to vessels in accordance with requisitions, supervise loading operations, and see that stores and perishables are properly stowed. These men are required to obtain from appropriate outside sources all steward personnel for port and vessel duties and maintain complete records of port steward activities and prepare reports. Apply Chicago Officer, Procurement District office, 20 North Wacker drive.

O. L. I. writes: "When I went to my draft board to find out why I had been reclassified from 3-A to 1-A, they told me the 3-A classification had been eliminated. Is this correct?"

ANSWER: No, but as the registrants are reconsidered, they will be given other classifications and thus eliminate the 3-A classification.

C. H. Writes: "I would appreciate any information you can give about victory tax. My understanding is that service men are exempt from this tax. However, I am still receiving checks from the firm I worked for as back commissions and the tax is deducted according to the rules of the treasury."

ANSWER: Every one earning in excess of $624 must pay this tax—even a service man. However military pay is subject to the exclusion of $1,500 before computation is made as to victory tax net income. Money paid by a former employer is subject to both the victory tax [if paid prior to July 1, 1943] and to the 20 per cent withholding tax from July 1, 1943, after exemptions are made.

T. J. G. writes: "Our club, which has over 200 members in the service, contemplates sending a cash gift to each service man at Christmas. Are there any postal or military restrictions which might prohibit us from doing this?"

ANSWER: When the men in service told us what they liked most for Christmas a year and a half ago, cash headed the list! It would be advisable to transmit such a gift by "domestic postal money order." Our "Gift List for Yanks" might help you discover a number of personal gifts which would be as suitable. "Gift Suggestions for Women in Service" has been added to our revised gift list available on request accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelope.

FALL COSTS ROOFER'S LIFE.

Elmer Deer, 35 years old, 6831 Halsted street, a roofer, died yesterday in Michael Reese hospital as a result of injuries received Monday when he fell off a roof at 504 East 37th street.

MOTHERS FIGHT TO SAVE RICKETY BRANCH SCHOOL

Thirty-five mothers of first and second grade pupils rushed to the Prussing branch school at Melvina avenue and Strong street yesterday to protest against its dismantling by five employes of the Chicago board of education. The building still stood last night, and the mothers have been assured a hearing in two weeks before the board.

The main building of Prussing school is at Wilson and Menard avenues, more than a mile from the branch school. The branch school has no inside toilets, no electric lights, and no central heating. But the mothers said they would rather send their children there, especially on wintry days, than to the distant Prussing school.

The board of education said the pupils, beginning next week, may attend either Prussing or Smyser school, which also is more than a mile from the branch school.

Don C. Rogers, district superintendent in charge of textbooks and building surveys for the board, defended the proposed dismantling as an economy measure. He also said the children would have better educational facilities at a larger school.

HAVE TROUBLE KEEPING "REGULAR"?
TRY THIS HEALTH DRINK FIRST
Juice of 1 lemon in glass of water first thing on arising
Has a natural laxative effect for most people, and it aids digestion, supplies needed vitamins, builds resistance, too!
Here's a surprisingly simple way to avoid the usual harsh laxatives.
Most people find that the juice of one lemon in a glass of water, taken first thing on arising, is all they need to insure prompt, normal elimination—gently. And lemon and water is good for you.
Lemons Build Health! Lemons are among the richest sources of vitamin C, which restores energy, helps you resist colds and infection. They're the only known source of vitamin P (citrin) and supply valuable amounts of B_1. They alkalinize—aid digestion. Millions not troubled with constipation take lemon and water daily just as a health builder.
Why not keep regular with this refreshing morning drink that builds health too? Try it ten days, first thing on arising—see if you don't benefit!
P.S.—LEMON & SODA · Some prefer juice of 1 lemon in half glass water with ¼ to ½ teaspoon baking soda (bicarbonate) added. Drink as foaming quiets.

The inside story of the Liberator
—THE 4-ENGINE, LONG-RANGE BOMBER THAT CARRIES A HEAVIER BOMB-LOAD FARTHER AND FASTER THAN ANY OTHER AMERICAN BOMBER NOW IN ACTION
The Liberator (B-24) bomber really has two inside stories.
The first is shown above. Here you get a hint of what makes this giant bomber such a deadly aerial slugger. It's the biggest American bomber now in action—with a speed of more than 300 m.p.h.—and a range of over 3000 miles. It can carry more than 10 tons of high explosives. From nose to tail-turret it fairly bristles with .50 caliber machine guns.
Now for the second inside story—the men inside the Liberator.
For, no matter how great a bomber may be, its combat performance depends on the greatness of the airmen who fly and fight it. And when it comes to the quality of its crews, you could search far, wide, and high without finding the equal of the fighting teams that man the Liberators!
You can scarcely pick up a newspaper without reading an inspiring account of their courage, their precision teamwork, their unselfish heroism, their consistently successful forays against key Axis objectives.
These are the men who make a great bomber greater!
Together, these fighting teams—pilots, bombardiers, navigators, radio operators, engineers, and gunners—are turning in a performance record that makes you proud you can say, "They are American boys!"
Here are just a few of their most recent exploits, picked at random from over-seas communiques:

Liberator Sinks Sub From 8-Foot Altitude—Submarine, lying on surface in wait for Allied convoy, blasted and sunk by depth charges from low-flying Liberator.

Liberators Over Rome—Large force of Middle East Liberator bombers make 2000-mile round trip to carry out their now-famous high-altitude bombing attack on Rome—dropping 700,000 pounds of high explosives with pin-point accuracy and devastating effect.
Liberators Blast Rumanian Oil Region—Coming in over the target as low as 10 feet, a formation of Liberator bombers explode vital Ploesti oil refineries and storage tanks, vulnerable points in Axis economic armor. This mission, called one of the most successful of the war, required a round-trip flight of 2400 miles for these "longest-reaching" American 4-engine bombers.
Liberators Raid Surabaya—Flying a total of almost 2500 miles, a large formation of 4-engine Liberators smash important objectives in Java's second-largest city, the Japs' main base in the Dutch East Indies.
Liberators Strike at Japan's "Pearl Harbor"—Liberator bombers make first attack of the war on important Jap naval-and-air base on Paramushiru Island in the Kurile group, sometimes referred to as Japan's "Pearl Harbor." This important target lies only 1200 miles north of Tokio itself.
Liberators Bomb Wake Island—For the second time in 3 days, Liberator bombers attack distant Jap-held Wake Island, scoring many hits and damaging air field.
The tens of thousands of men and women who build this Consolidated Vultee bomber are proud of the Liberator. Prouder still of the American boys who fly it!

JURY TO PROBE LA GUARDIA BID TO OPEN PRISON

Law on Jail Deliveries Is Cited by Judge.

New York, Aug. 31 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's plan to allow workhouse inmates to relieve the man power shortage by working in the central courthouse in Brooklyn in civilian clothes got a jolt today in the County court of Judge Franklin Taylor.

Judge Taylor ordered the Kings county grand jury to make an investigation of the mayor's plan and called for the prosecution, under laws dealing with jail deliveries, of officials responsible for it if it is placed in operation.

The judge said workhouse inmates found at work in civilian dress under such circumstances should be dealt with as escaped convicts.

Visit Spurs Plan.

The mayor's plan was announced Aug. 25 after the mayor and Commissioner of Corrections Peter F. Amoroso visited Rikers Island penitentiary. La Guardia said he was advancing the plan as an experiment and that to begin with it would involve no more than 50 men.

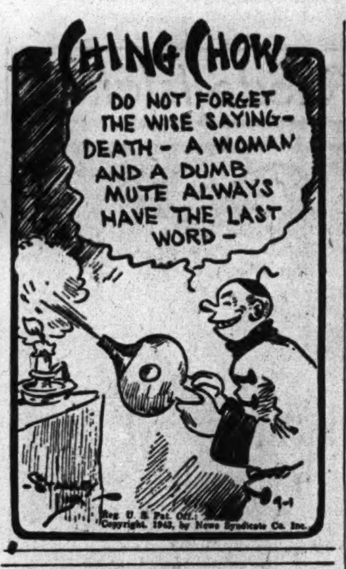
"I believe the mayor is sincere when he says that he knows nothing about penology or about the legality of his proposed plan," the judge said. "Yet, until becoming informed on these essentials he should have refrained from holding out false hopes.

Puncture Balloon, Jury Told.

"Possibly the statement was issued as what, in modern parlance, is known as a trial balloon for the purpose of getting the public reaction. Let your response puncture the balloon."

The judge thereupon advised the grand jurors to write Amoroso for full information and to subpena public officials as witnesses in the event the commissioner should fail to reply with "a complete and unconditional disclaimer."

Judge Taylor extended for a month the services of the grand jury for the investigation, adding: "If the city administration wants to know how to get laborers, here is the answer: Weed out the home relief fakers and thousands of husky, tho lazy, people will be looking for jobs."



400 FIRE CHIEFS TOLD BUROCRATS HANDICAP WORK

Fire chiefs of the nation were told yesterday how one of their special war committees, headed by a Milwaukeean, had bested four federal agencies that sought to impose regulations which the firemen felt would put unnecessary restrictions on their efforts.

Chief Peter Steinkellner of Milwaukee, chairman of the war co-operation committee of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, which is holding its 70th annual conference in the Palmer House, reported how, one by one, his group had combated the federal agencies and won its points.

The Milwaukee chief listed the war production board, the office of civilian defense, the army, and draft officials as impeding fire fighters by curtailing their supplies and men. More than 400 fire chiefs heard his address.

Among the speakers was Alvah Small of Chicago, president of the Underwriters' Laboratories, who talked on "Cutting Corners to Meet War Needs."

The sessions opened yesterday will end Friday morning with the installation of Art J. Baker, chief of the Lewistown, Mont., fire department, as president. Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan of Chicago is host to the conference.

Cupid Losing Ground; Marriage Licenses Drop

Marriage licenses issued during August totaled 3,536, or 368 below the number issued during August last year, County Clerk Michael J. Flynn reported yesterday. Since Jan. 1, 27,641 couples have obtained licenses. This is 2,933 behind the total for the first eight months last year.

DUBINSKY RAPS LINKING A. L. P. TO 4TH TERM MOVE

Hillman Accused as Key Figure in Scheme.

New York, Aug. 31 [Special].—David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union [AFL], today accused Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee, of "rank, unadulterated opportunism" in aligning with Communists to use the American Labor party as "a football" and "a convenient makeshift" to promote a fourth term for President Roosevelt in 1944.

Dubinsky said that Hillman's proposal to reconstitute the A. L. P. by broadening its base to admit the return to the A. L. P. fold not only of Hillman's own Amalgamated Clothing Workers [CIO] but of other unions as well will result in "a wrecked and dismantled labor party."

Writing in the Sept. 1 issue of Justice, ILGWU official organ, Dubinsky in an editorial attack led the way to what is presaged as an eventual knock-down and drag-out fight between the leaders of New York's two great needle trades unions.

Fits into Pattern.

Hillman's plan, the editorial states, fits well into the pattern of the CIO political action committee which "has taken the field to stimulate and organize labor political interest for the 1944 Presidential campaign, altho it is frankly opposed "to any permanent labor political parties."

The plan was so timed, according to Dubinsky, as to be "fervently exploited in the recent primary campaign by the A. L. P. left wing and the Communist press" in the attempt to wrest the party's control from the labor-liberal coalition."

Called Bid to Reds.

Dubinsky's attack, in which he said Hillman "stands four square with the Communists," was interpreted in labor circles here to signify official A. L. P. rejection of the CIO proposal for a reorganization which Dubinsky claims automatically would turn the A. L. P. over to the Communist domination.

The Hillman program, Dubinsky said, would bring back into the A. L. P. many unions "with the Communist taint, or under outright Communist control."

It also would mean, he said, "the elimination from the party's government of the large, liberal, and progressive element which is not affiliated with any union" and making use of the A L. P. as "a convenient makeshift suited to the attainment of certain temporary political aims."

BODY TAKEN FROM LAKE.

The body of Clement Prozynski, 32 years old, 852 North Hoyne avenue, a laborer, was taken from the lake at 8th street yesterday.

OUSTED LAWYER GETS BACK ON ILLINI PAY ROLL

Sveinbjorn Johnson, who lost his job as counsel for the University of Illinois after Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett disclosed he had been holding a lucrative federal job while drawing $9,000 annually in state funds, returned to the university pay roll yesterday as a professor of law. The trustees, in their monthly meeting here, made the appointment and said Johnson again would receive $9,000 a year.

The campaign by Barrett to divorce Johnson from one or the other of his jobs started in 1942 and the first result was Johnson resigning his federal post—paying approximately $6,500 a year—as state director of the office of government reports, the New deal agency that was combined with the office of war information.

The trustees also decided to establish the position of business manager at the university, a job that President Willard said probably would pay $10,000 or $12,000 a year, and named Dr. Fred H. Turner, dean of men, to the position of dean of students, a newly created post.

The Illinois trustees approved a record budget of $13,114,348 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944. The amount is $1,660,443 above the last budget with $7,640,962 provided from state tax money and the remainder coming from student fees, federal grants, and union and residence hall revenues. Pay increases of 10 per cent for employes earning less than $3,000 a year were ordered and selective adjustments for some getting above that rate were voted.

SEPT. 15-OCT. 15 SET FOR MAILING GIFTS OVERSEAS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—In anticipation of handling an estimated 10,000,000 Christmas gift packages for soldiers overseas this year, army postal service officials today issued a plea for public cooperation in its efforts to get the gifts to the men on time.

They asked the mailing public for strict observance of the following mailing regulations:

1. Mail all packages to men overseas before Oct. 15.

2. Be positive the package contains the soldier's full and correct address.

3. Restrict packages to 5 pounds in weight, 15 inches in length, and 36 inches in length and girth combined.

4. Wrap the packages securely, but in such a manner that they may be easily opened for army inspection.

The war department has requested that overseas Christmas mail be posted between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 at the earliest date possible. Packages mailed before the deadline will reach the remotest outposts before the holidays, officials anticipate.

In advising that the senders be positive they have put the soldier's full and correct address on the package the postal service reiterated that it should include: 1. The soldier's full name. 2. His rank. 3. His army serial number. 4. His service organization and unit. 5. His A. P. O. number and the respective port of embarkation postmaster.

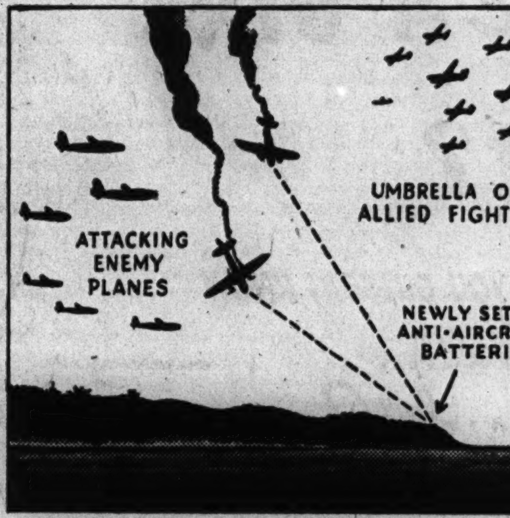
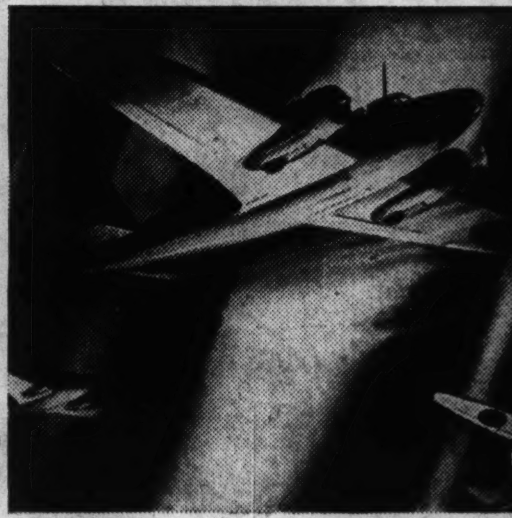
How the Allies protect invasion troops from Air Attack

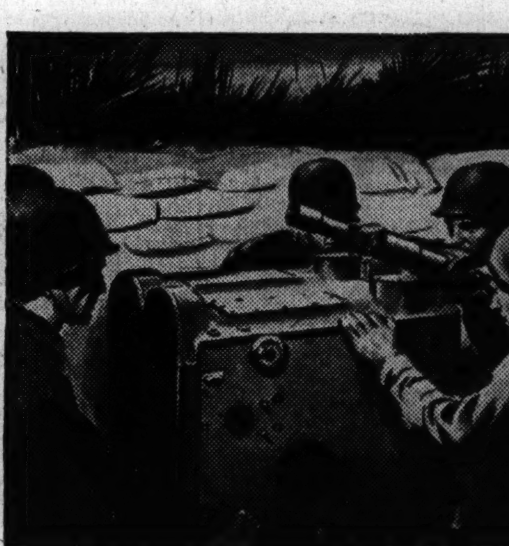


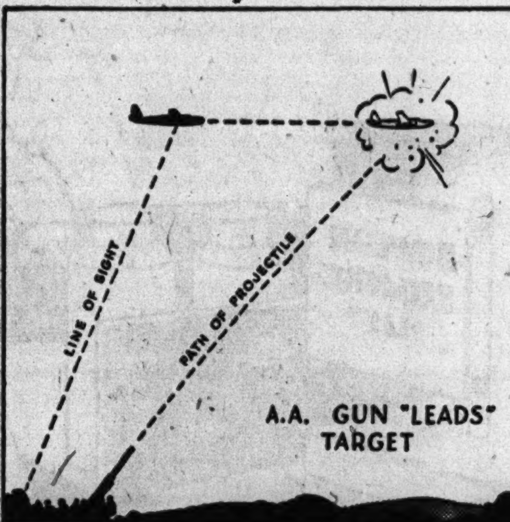


1. After our warships and bombers have knocked out enemy shore installations in an invasion operation, there comes the tough job of consolidating the positions of our attacking land troops. Though enemy land forces may be destroyed, enemy air forces must still be met to prevent our men from being wiped out or pushed back into the sea by bombing and strafing.

2. There are three ways to take the sting out of enemy air power, and invading Allied armies use all three. First, bombers attack enemy air fields. Second, an umbrella of fighter planes goes after attacking enemy planes. Third, as soon as possible after primary landings have been effected, anti-aircraft batteries are set up. These batteries are mechanized and the mechanisms seem like magic itself.

3. Approaching enemy planes are detected and their position and direction of flight determined. At night this data is transmitted to the Sperry searchlight which spotlights the raiders, sending its inescapable finger of dazzling light up to follow them across the sky. This "blinds" the enemy pilots and makes their planes perfect targets.





4. As the enemy planes come nearer, the Sperry anti-aircraft Director goes to work. This mechanism instantly and continuously solves the problem of where to point the guns, and also determines the time of flight of the projectile so that the aircraft and projectile will arrive simultaneously at the same spot.

5. This accurately computed information is in turn transmitted automatically and continuously to the guns. Here Vickers "hydraulic muscles" come into play. They automatically move the guns in accordance with the Director's orders ... "leading" the plane just as a duck hunter leads a flying duck. The fuse is timed automatically so that the shell will explode at the exact range to do the most damage to the enemy plane.

6. Good as this equipment is, it is worthless without a tough, well-trained team of men to operate it. A nervous glance at the sky, when a man should be adjusting a dial, means the difference between a hit and a miss. Demonstration of what a gun crew can do with these devices occurred on Guadalcanal. There a single battery of guns bagged Japanese planes at the rate of better than one plane per minute.

7. Let us make it clear that although most of the devices which aid our anti-aircraft gun crews were developed by Sperry, we didn't do this job alone. We worked with the Army and Navy at every step.

And right now, while thousands of Sperry workers are laboring day and night to turn out these instruments, Army and Navy specialists are working with our inventors, research men, and engineers to perfect still further improvements.

More than 138 subcontractors in 12 different states help our Gyroscope company produce the Sperry Director.

The Ford Motor Company also is making these directors under non-royalty-patent licensing agreements.

Our Vickers company supplies the hydraulic mechanism which moves the guns, and 48 subcontractors supply parts.

In short, producing the equipment for our anti-aircraft batteries requires the same kind of teamwork you find in the gun crews who man them.

This work also requires exceptionally fine craftsmanship and minds that are always searching for "a better way to do it" ... qualities that characterized Sperry in its peacetime work before the war, and qualities that will characterize its peacetime products after the war is over.

80 Joyful Campers Back Home as Algonquin Closes Season

A turtle named Myrtle and a snake called Joe were among the odd bits of animal life that accompanied 80 children yesterday on their return to Chicago from the United Charities Camp Algonquin, marking the end of the camp's 34th annual season. The children were the last of 1,200 boys and girls from Chicago's poorer districts who spent two weeks each this summer at the camp on the Fox river.

Most of the children were greeted at the North Western station by their mothers or by older brothers and sisters. They displayed with youthful joy a two week collection of camp souvenirs.

A small boy of 9 greeted his mother with a certain reserved detachment, which changed to bright enthusiasm when he saw that her reaction was not too cold to the three pet garden snakes he had snared.

The occasional rainy days at camp resulted in the production of a series of letter holders, tie racks, and beads made from clay and wax. A few of the children sported bracelets of braided oilcloth.

Mary, who is 7 years old, greeted her mother with a belt she had made of walnut shells. Her 9 year old brother brought home a family of toads. But the champion turtle catcher of the group was a 10 year old boy from the stock yards district. He said that he caught 10 turtles. His interest, he added, was more financial than personal, for he disposed of them all at two cents each. He said he had difficulty in arriving at a selling price, but set it at 2 cents when one of the camp aids said that sum hardly would be a violation of OPA price ceilings.

This final camp group was preceded by the arrival of 80 boys and girls, the last of the Harlowarden group. The latter are the undernourished children who are permitted to stay at camp for a month.

Two brothers in this group added a total of 13 pounds, for the largest gain of the season. The total weight added by the 80 boys was 176 pounds. The same number of girls gained 68 pounds.

Contributions from readers of THE TRIBUNE provided vacations for these children. The campaign to collect funds for next year's vacations already is under way. Gifts should be sent to The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Plant and Water Lily Display Will Open at Garfield Park Today

A display of 40,000 plants and more than 50 different varieties of water lilies will open today for a month long outdoor garden and water lily show at Garfield park.

Justin Ham, horticulturist at the park, will answer questions on the different varieties of blooming plants from 2 to 4 p. m. each day. William C. Blaesing, chief horticulturist of the park district, and Frank Balthis, assistant, will be present to describe unusual blooms to visitors.

Many rare types of water lilies are expected to be at their peak in the first two weeks of the month. Some of the lilies are standing two to three feet out of the water, and blossoms range in color from pink to red and blue and creamy white.

A Dressmaker's Form Will End Tiring Fittings

BY REA SEEGER.

To see yourself as others see you suggests a mirror, but you can do it also with a finished dressmaker's form fitted to your own individual specifications. Average home dressmakers achieve a most professional smoothness with such a dressmaker form. One of the best buys for any beginner or veteran dressmaker is a dummy made by molding the figure lines of the individual. Thus the struggle of getting in and out of excessively basted and pinned materials during the fittings will be over.

The brief time required for standing in for the molding process and the moderate cost of the finished figure represent a small outlay for such a comfort and aid. Allow an hour for the skilfully molded shell and a two week period for the finishing. When you go to have it made wear your smoothest and best girdle, corset, or all-in-one combination.

You are measured completely, encased in a knitted skin-fitting cotton sheath, and cautioned to stand erect and naturally with shoulders straight and heels together. Then the heated taffy colored magic stuff is clapped to your form and smoothed out by expert fingers to cool while you count 10. Four separate pieces of the heated material are applied, two for the front and back hip section and two for the front and back upper halves of the body.

The shell is then removed, stapled together, expertly finished and painted a handsome bronze shade, delivered to your home two weeks later ready for the home sewing binges that always start, come cooler weather and a new season for fashions.

British Women Campaign for Equal Rights

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A nation-wide campaign designed to compel the government to enact a new bill of rights for British women which will declare all citizens to be equal members of the state, will open with a mass meeting in London on Saturday.

The meeting will be held under auspices of the Women's Publicity Planning association, which supports a bill providing for equal citizenship and the amendment of at least 30 laws and regulations which the association contends discriminate between men and women.

The association has been investigating the problem for six months and has published for distribution among members of parliament a booklet detailing the inequalities in legal rights of women in this country.

"We shall call upon the government to make our bill of rights part of the immediate post-war plan," said Miss Dorothy Evans, a spokesman for the association. She protested against women being "treated as chattels or on an inferior scale to young boys," and cited as an instance the factory law prohibiting women from cleaning machinery in motion.

"The inference is that women are inept, clumsy, and unskilled," she said. "But a boy 18 years old may do the work."

The association seeks also a readjustment of the nationality laws affecting women. An alien married woman cannot apply for British nationality under present laws and a British woman marrying an alien loses her British nationality, Miss Evans said.

She complained also that women are not yet granted equal pay with men for equal work and that industrial health bills, national insurance and the government pensions policy as well as the present income tax system, all operate unfairly against women.

A demand for recognition of women as men's equals came also last night from women engineers. Supporting the men engineers' decision to strike in a wage dispute, the women at a mass meeting at Barrow passed a resolution which said, "We are convinced that many of us are in the industry to stay, so we pledge our fullest support to follow unionists in any industrial struggle.

"Recognizing that women have an ever increasing part in affairs, we urge the district committee to look on us as fellow members and trade unionists and not merely as 'our female members.'"

New Chicago Director of Girl Scouts Takes Over Her Post Today

Mrs. Thomas Charles McClintock of Wilmette today will assume the executive directorship of the Chicago Girl Scouts. She will succeed Mrs. Morton Bassett of Plainville at the Chicago office. Mrs. McClintock has been head of the Evanston Girl Scouts for 13 years.

As the Chicago Girl Scout leader Mrs. McClintock will direct a program in which more than 10,000 girls in 414 troops and approximately 900 adult troop leaders will participate.

To assist the community in combating the wartime rise in juvenile delinquency Mrs. McClintock's first task will be to extend Girl Scouting activities, making the program available to hundreds.

Agnes MacMeekin Club Entertains with Dinner

Members of the Agnes T. MacMeekin club, an organization of associate matrons of the Eastern Star, entertained associate patrons of their respective chapters yesterday at a dinner in the Top of the Town restaurant. Mrs. MacMeekin, worthy grand matron elect of the order in Illinois, was a special guest. The dinner was a prelude to the grand chapter installation, which will be held next month.

Fight Fatigue by Simplifying Home Chores

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A letter received the other day from a friend of mine who is visiting another friend may prove helpful to many mothers who read this column.

"You know how I hesitated to make this visit," she writes, "because Myra, only two years ago, was so bogged down and weary with the care of her house and family I didn't want to add to her burdens. But my fears were quite groundless, for Myra met me at the railroad station looking simply blooming and as if she hadn't a care in the world.

"She tells me she decided one day shortly after they moved here that she'd simply have to do something about her chronic state of weariness. So, she began by cutting out all unnecessary steps and duplication of chores thru mistakes in not planning ahead, and by clever manipulation got the coöperation of her husband and three children to take over their share.

"Out went all the unnecessary knick-knacks and small decorations on mantels and tables that required constant dusting. A place was found for everything and everything put and kept in its place, as far as was possible. Cupboards, shelves, bookcases, and boxes that could be tucked into surprisingly small spaces here and there were put into service, and gradually orderliness came into being, orderliness which is so restful, and which helps to make work easier. It took self-discipline to maintain that orderliness!

"Next, Myra tackled the question of laundry, so necessary in these gas rationed days, and decided that seersucker clothes for the children in the summer would save hours of ironing and they would always look clean and neat. Sheets, pillowcases, and towels were folded down for use or lightly ironed when returned damp from the laundry. Paper napkins fitted in for breakfast and lunch, and paper towels were placed at strategic points for the children's use.

"Young Ted and Bob, and even 3 year old Mary, have been taught to help their parents and themselves. Everybody helps and it's all done in the friendliest atmosphere."

There's sound sensible advice in this letter for tired mothers. Let me add just another word of advice: Lie down yourself when your children are resting or sleeping. A break in the day makes you over, and you'll find that you'll feel refreshed and more able to carry on when you get up again.

Wedding

Wearing the wedding gown and veil in which her sister, Mrs. Bruce W. Kenyon, was married, Miss Barbara Watkins became the bride of Lt. Robert Scholze Long at 8:30 o'clock last night in the Lake Shore drive apartment of her mother, Mrs. William Wynne Watkins. Mrs. Kenyon was her sister's matron of honor, and another sister, Mrs. Geoffrey Cook, came from Ballinger, Tex., for the ceremony. Also here from out of town were Lt. Long's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Perry Long of Chattanooga, Tenn.; his sisters, Mrs. William Richardson, Mrs. George Mixter, and Miss Sylvia and Miss Nelsie Long, and their uncle, George Scholze. Mr. Long served as best man, and the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Harold Wampler. Lt. Long and his bride will be at home temporarily at Fort Sill, Okla.

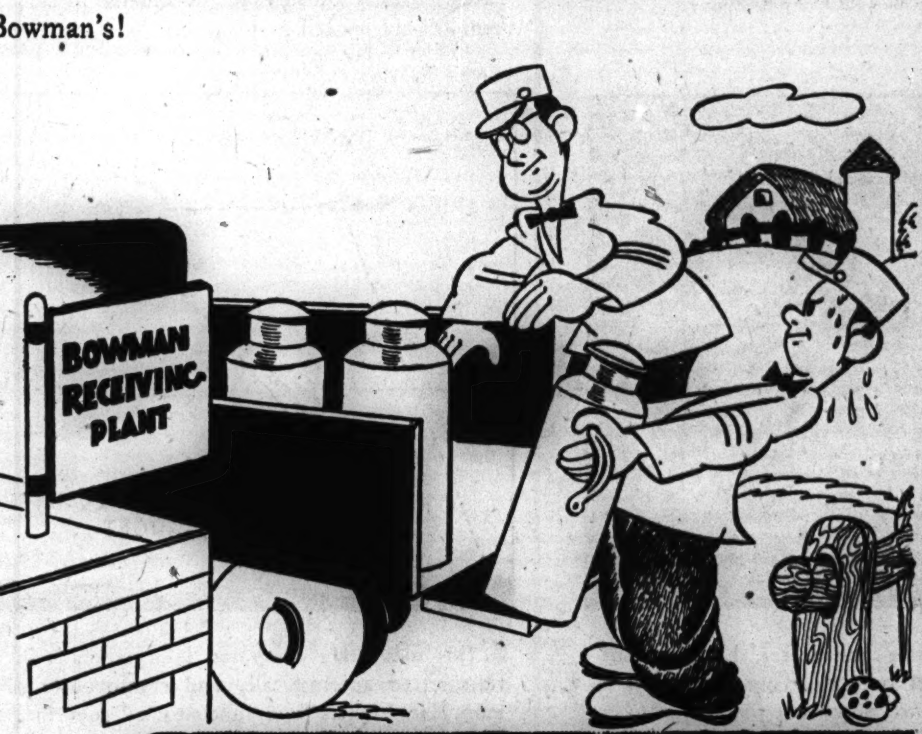
IS Methylene Blue A GIRL OR A COLOR?

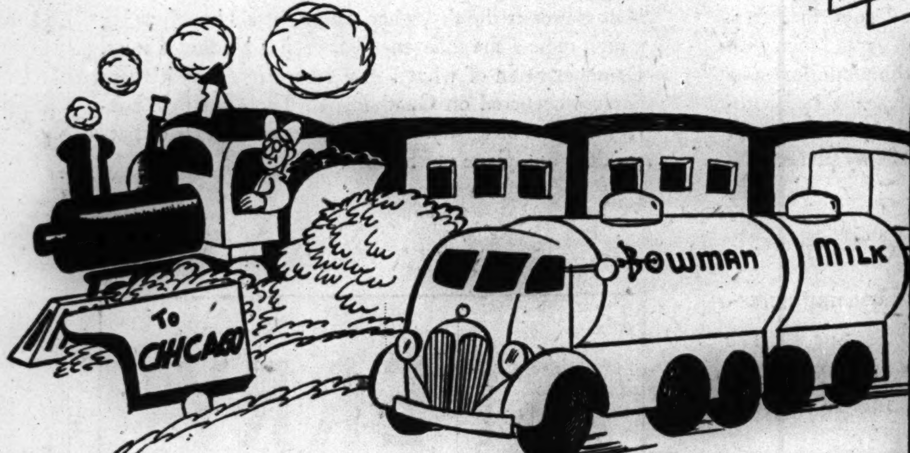
YOU GUESS, I KNOW
Bud Bowman

IT'S NEITHER. Methylene Blue is the name of a very exacting test . . . one of the 10 scientific tests all Bowman Milk must pass. You see, Bowman Milk has to be richer, purer, better-tasting than the official standard for fine milk. Otherwise it wouldn't be Bowman's!

GETTING BACK TO Methylene Blue, this is a bacterial test given when milk first comes in to the cool, clean Bowman receiving plants in the heart of the rich dairyland hereabouts. Tells us conclusively whether the milk is absolutely fresh . . . in good keeping condition.



THEN, AFTER BOWMAN MILK is cooled—it's quick-hurried into the city for pasteurizing and bottling. There, Bowman laboratory scientists again check on freshness—scientists of the largest laboratory staff maintained by any local dairy.



SO IN ALL, every bottle or carton of Bowman Milk is 10 times tested. Only thus can our president, Doctor Peck, know for a certainty it's your best food at its best. How about ordering always-richer, always-purer, always-country-fresh Bowman's today?

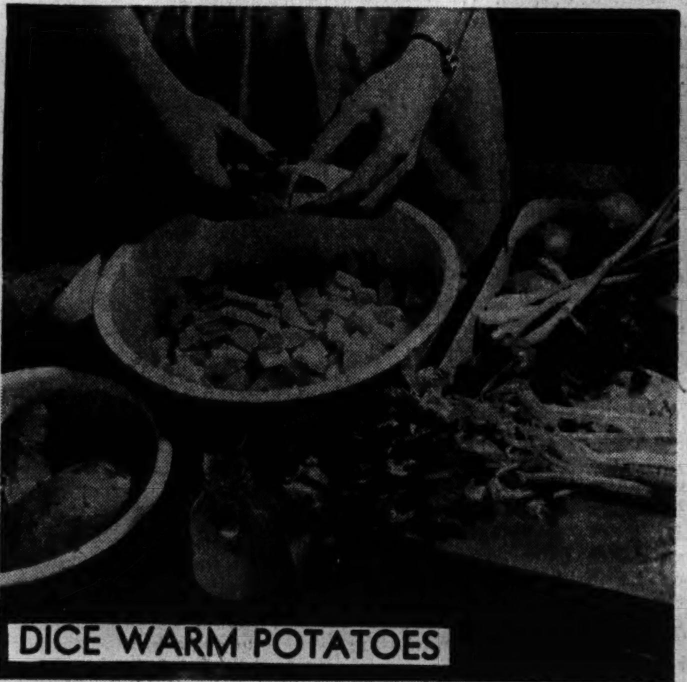
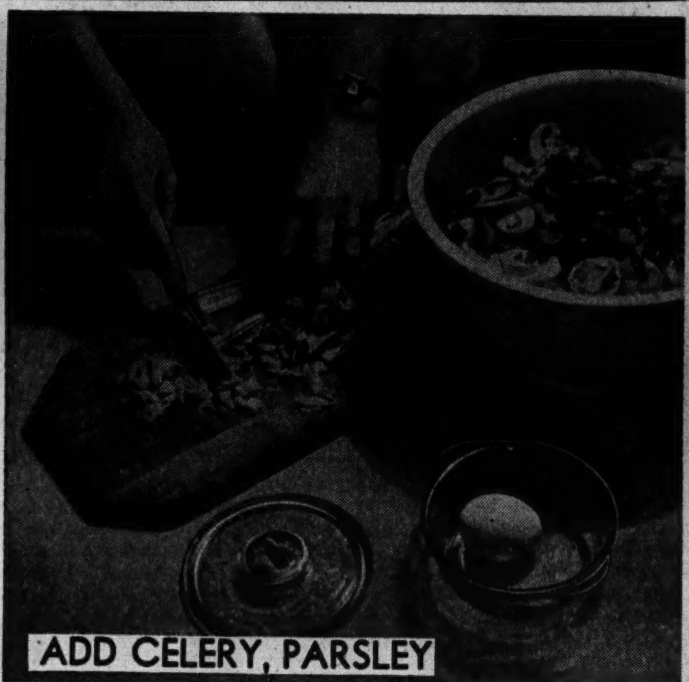
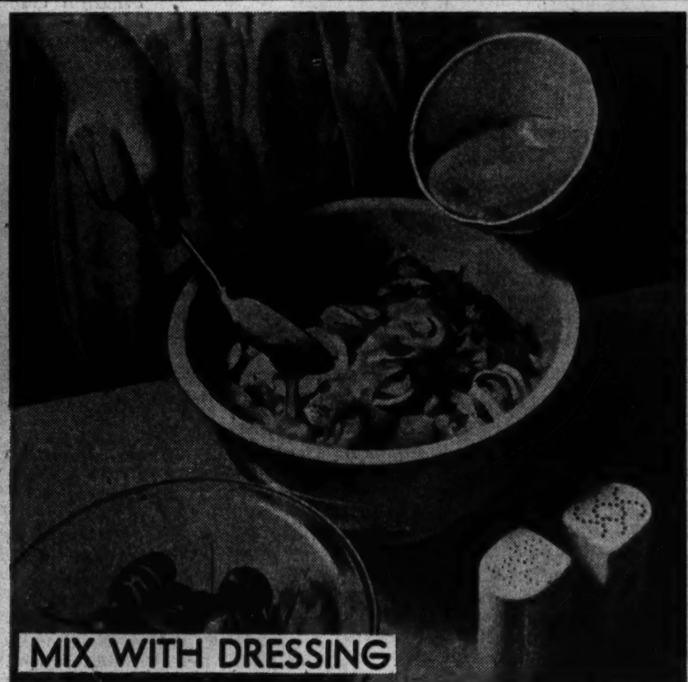
Mary Meade Demonstrates in Pictures How to Prepare Picnic Potato Salad



1 Boil potatoes in their jackets and cool before dicing. If they're slightly warm, they'll absorb dressing better. Pour a small amount of French dressing over potatoes and let stand a few minutes before adding other ingredients.



2. Add diced celery for crispness of texture, chopped parsley for color and flavor. Most potato salads need a little minced onion to bring out the best in them. And several diced hard cooked eggs will not be amiss. [TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]



3 The dressing is important. Mix 1 cup mayonnaise with 1 cup soured cream, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons or more pickle "juice" or vinegar, and salt and paprika or white pepper to taste.

4. Use enough dressing to make the salad creamy. Chill for several hours to blend flavors. Garnish with radishes and carry this salad to your next picnic in a covered jar. Take along extra radishes and onions. (Prepared by Mary Meade.)

Problems Face Duck Hunters for '43 Season

BY JUDITH CASS.

ALTHO the duck season does not open until Oct. 15 in Illinois, hunters are busy on three problems. Of principal interest is figuring out how to get shells for shooting, with ammunition rationed under the WPB. Then comes the difficult problem of getting clubhouses and shooting lodges back into shape after the damage done by record breaking floods. Third is the work on Ducks Unlimited's "Lake Illinois" project to raise $20,000 for a big lake and slough in Saskatchewan, a duck growing program in the Canadian marshes that is being financed by hunters in Illinois only.

The fact that many members of various duck shooting clubs are away in service is adding to the burdens of those remaining who are faced with repairing the damage left by the floods. The Grand Island club, near Bath, one of the oldest and largest along the river, had 5 feet of water in the clubhouse, which itself is on pilings 7 feet high. Of its 25 members a number are in service, including Thorne Donnelley, a commander in the navy; Lt. Dexter Cummings of the navy, and Hulburd Johnston of the army.

Crane Lake Club.

Stuart Logan, John B. Drake and his son, William Drake; William D. Cox, John G. Curtis, Henry N. Rowley, and W. Oliver Burton all plan to shoot at the Grand Island this fall. James R. Offield is president of the club.

The Crane Lake club is in better shape as far as the membership goes, for its members are older men, mostly, but the spring flood swept away the porches on all the cabins, which were under water from 5 inches to 5 feet. Members of this 35 year old club have their own cabins instead of a big clubhouse. The work of repapering and painting has just been finished, and the club will open on Oct. 15. Walter and Robert Peacock, Wallace Cook, Judge Warren Orr, Otto Doering, Col. Charles Jacques, and John W. Embree will be shooting at Crane lake this fall, but Edward F. Swift Jr., now a lieutenant in the navy, will be missing.

One of the largest duck hunting spots on the Sangamon river, Cuba Island, privately owned by Louis H. Barkhausen, Illinois state chairman of Ducks Unlimited, was hard hit by the flood, but damage has been repaired. Mr. Barkhausen lost 200

White Collar GIRL

The Office Manager.

Why do I like him? Sometimes I wonder
If I haven't made a regrettable blunder
In taking this job; in working for one
Whose favorite pastime is poking fun
At my expense. Whose thwarted humor
Leads him to start an unfounded rumor
Like "Emily's getting married quite soon."
[I'm not!] Or else he'll choose a tune
I most dislike and hum it all day.
But somehow or other he has a way
With him—for he is quick on the "yesses."
Why do I like him? [You get three guesses!]

Wise Up the Girls.

"Perhaps you would be kind enough to 'wise up' the girls on the switchboard and others who answer the telephone in an office in regard to office etiquette.

"Ours is a friendly place where first names are used. However, when customers call up and ask for Mr. Smith, I do not think it makes the proper impression for the girl who answers the phone to turn to Mr. Smith and say: 'Bill, you're wanted on the phone.'

"Bill may not be important around the office, but if he is sufficiently important to be consulted by a customer, it seems to me it would be in the company's best interest to give him the dignity of 'Mr. Smith.' For, it is natural that customers want to do business with top people and therefore it is not flattering to a customer to discover suddenly that Mr. Smith, whom he has respected as an efficient member of the organization, is—after all—just 'Bill' to the gal who answers the phone.

"Older employes in the office are seldom the offenders. It is the new crop of girls of little office experience who have not learned as yet that the camaraderie which exists within an office should not be piped to the outside world to the detriment of the organization." J.

U. S. Youths Surpass British as Jitter Bugs, Says Mary Churchill

Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., Aug. 31 (AP).—Youthful Britons still turn from their war duties to normal recreational outlets, bright eyed, laughing Mary Churchill said today, but, she admitted, British jitterbugging just isn't up to American standards.

Miss Churchill, the youngest daughter of Britain's prime minister, Winston Churchill, and an officer in her country's anti-aircraft service, was here to visit with a portion of the women's army corps, the American counterpart of her own auxiliary territorial service.

Good naturedly answering rapid fire questions in a brief interview, subaltern Churchill said "Of course, we are still having fun" in England.

Jitterbugging? "Surely," she answered, "but we don't do the steps nearly as well as you Americans."

Miss Churchill explained that she did technical work in a mixed anti-aircraft battery where she and fellow members handle devices used in aiming and firing the guns.

Women in War Work

—By Kate Massee—

Thirty WAC officers will be sworn in as regular army officers at 11:30 a. m. today at the 6th service command headquarters, 20 North Wacker drive. To celebrate the event Mrs. Allan Hurst and Mrs. Georgia Hunt, directors of the Officers' club in the Hotel Knickerbocker, will give a dinner and dance at the club. Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, members of his staff and their wives, and a group of army officers have been invited to the party.

The civil service commission is busy recruiting hundreds of clerical workers to help staff two government bureaus situated in Chicago. The bureau of the public debt, in room 631, Merchandise Mart, needs 500 more workers, and the army service forces [formerly the centralized field offices], at 366 West Adams street, require the services of 200 civil service clerical aids.

The bureau of the public debt offers work on three different shifts, and officials there say that students and housewives also may avail themselves of the opportunity to work short hours on a part time basis for the bureau.

Civil service positions of this type pay $1,440 a year, plus overtime, amounting to approximately $146 a month for a 48 hour week. Jobs include those of statistical coder, security comparer, stamp and bond examiner, bond stub examiner and filer, and numerical coder. The bureau, which handles all details of the nation's war bonds, will train accepted applicants.

Work in the army service forces offices is much the same as that for the bureau of the public debt, since the former handles war bonds of service men. Women with bookkeeping and accounting experience are needed especially, as well as those who know typing, filing, and other office detail.

Minimum requirements for all these jobs are as follows: High school diploma or evidence that the applicant has successfully completed 14 units of high school study; minimum age 16, with no maximum; applicants must be citizens of, or owe allegiance to, the United States. The appointments for both offices are known as war service appointments and generally are for the duration of the war plus six months. Applications are not desired from persons now engaged in war work of another type.

Applications are being accepted now in Chicago headquarters of the civil service commission, room 1048, postoffice building, 433 West Van Buren street.

The following is another in a series of letters from 1st Lt. Alice Fraser MacDonald of the marine corps women's reserve, describing her job as public relations officer in Washington headquarters:

"There's a tradition in the marine corps that marines can do anything. If you don't believe it, I suggest you 'jine up' and see.

"I'm a procurement officer. That sounds simple enough—much simpler than digging Japs out of Munda or parachuting down behind enemy lines. Yet look at the range of what I do.

"Oh a recruiting trip I may be my own advance agent, booking agent, as well as the show itself. I may make five or six talks a day, plus a radio broadcast or two. Talks may be speeches to 200 women or informal talks with 10 or 20; while for the radio I will write the script as well as do the broadcasting.

"Afterward, or in between, come luncheons with interested groups and—always—the answering of innumerable questions. That's recruiting.

"Then there's the other side of the procurement picture, the 'inside' work in the office—the answering of letters of inquiry, interviewing of applicants, swearing in of enlistees, checking of birth certificates, letters of recommendation, educational transcripts, and applications.

"And that isn't all. There's a third aspect of procurement—the odd job phase. It may be a troop train to escort to a military base; it may be the writing of a newspaper article. Whatever it is, it convinces you of one thing: A marine can do anything!"

Women's Draft Threat Grows; Battle Forecast

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—Women may not want it, labor does not want it, management presumably does not want it, but the women's draft is just around the corner.

Unquestionably, the draft will not go thru without a tremendous fight. Opposition to it is widespread, but the administration wants it, the army and navy want it, and those with long memories will recall that as long ago as 1941 Mrs. Roosevelt advocated it.

The nearness of it is one of the leading topics of discussion in Washington. Production is lagging, and women are said to be leaving war jobs at aircraft factories in ever increasing numbers. If it comes, women between the ages of 18 and 50 will be drafted for war plants, farms, and, if the need becomes imperative, into the women's military services.

The women's draft has been bobbing around Washington like a bad apple for more than a year. It came into prominence last February when the Wadsworth-Austin bill to draft men and women for war jobs was introduced. The bill went to the military affairs committee, where both Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox testified in its favor, and has never emerged from the hearings.

When congress reconvenes Sept. 14 either a revised version of the Wadsworth-Austin bill, which termed itself the national war service act, will be introduced, or bills affecting women only. Many variations are being drawn up.

The women's bureau of the department of labor is flatly opposed to such a draft. It feels it is both impracticable and unnecessary at the present time, for reasons such as these given today by a spokesman for the bureau:

It might require mass migrations of women workers from such states as Montana and the Dakotas, which have few if any war plants, to vital areas already ominously handicapped by inadequate housing. It would require intricate examinations for physical fitness. [A woman with varicose veins could not stand at a lathe all day.] It would require federal trainings courses, for the great mass of American women do not have recent work experience. Moreover, the 17,700,000 women now working [2.3 millions of whom are on farms] represents an increase of only five million over the normal woman labor supply. Labor has just begun to tap the housewife reservoir and can get an adequate supply by voluntary means.

The national management-labor committee of the war man power commission opposed the measure a year ago and has not revised its stand. It feels that the lag in production is due not so much to man power shortage as to a shortage of materials and to improper utilization of workers by industry, which has not completely hurdled the task of fitting a job to a person rather than a person to a job. It feels that voluntary recruitment is preferable.

The war man power commission

"Luck of the Devil"

By Elizabeth York Miller

Copyright: 1943: by Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS: On the beach at Dunkirk, Ronnie leaves a wounded soldier for dead, after robbing him of his note cases. Upon Ronnie's arrival in London he deserts, takes possession of Alan Conyers' flat in Emberley court, assumes his identity, and engages in a romance with Maria de Santos, a wealthy Argentine widow, who lives next door. Ronnie goes to see his adoring mother, learns the military police are after him, also that Goldie, the wife he has deserted, is repaying her for the money she borrowed for their child's funeral. June Merrill, Alan Conyers' English cousin, calls to make the acquaintance of her American relative, and invites him for the week-end at Priory cottage. Ronnie is captivated. Maria bursts in upon them and creates a jealous scene. Meeting his lance corporal, Ronnie bluffs him into believing he is Alan Conyers. With his usual luck, Ronnie succeeds in withdrawing Alan's money from the bank. At the Merrills' he courts June. After loaning John Merrill 50 pounds, he claims a kiss from June, who is resentful. The real Alan Conyers appears at Priory cottage, his memory gone. The only clew to his identity is the name and address of John Merrill. Mention of the real Alan's home town upsets the sick man. Returning from Priory cottage, Ronnie sees Mario who has arranged for their early marriage and sailing. One morning Ronnie orders a breakfast tray sent up, and Goldie is the new waitress who brings it. She knows of Maria's plans and demands cash, which Ronnie is forced to give her. Ronnie leaves Emberley court and takes quarters at an inn near Merrills. June visits the real Alan. Ronnie is infuriated and says the man without a memory is an absconding bank clerk from his home town. Ronnie visits Alan at the hospital and announces his engagement to June.

INSTALMENT XXI.

FALSE MESSAGE.

Alan Conyers sat up as tho something had stung him intolerably.

"Married—who is going to be married?" he asked.

Ronnie considerately concentrated his gaze upon the wooded grounds of Belhampton's park.

"Why, June and me," he said. "Maybe she didn't happen to mention it to you."

"No—no, she didn't," the other replied. "But there was no reason why she should, really. I congratulate you, sir. You—you have won a lovely bride."

"You're telling me," said Ronnie. "But I always was lucky. By the way—I almost forgot—she sent you a message. She's going to be pretty busy, what with her clothes and one thing and another, and she mightn't get a chance to come along to see you again. In fact, we're all going to be busy. I've given up my 'digs' in London, and moved to Twickenham so I can be nearer to lend a hand. And nearer June, too. I'm a kind of a jealous cove and can't bear other chaps having a try to cut in on me."

Ronnie had spoken with what seemed the utmost good humor, but there was no mistaking his meaning.

"You see—" he added— "June's so soft-hearted and she just can't bear to hurt anybody's feelings."

"Yes, I can understand that," the other said, after clearing his throat.

"Oh, you! I wasn't meaning you when I said I was jealous," Ronnie told him. "You're a lame dog, and that's different . . . Well, best say good-by, now."

"No, don't trouble to come again," the other replied. "Thank you all the same. Just a moment—you'd better take these books back to Miss Merrill. Thank her for bringing them—and tell her I wish her all the happiness."

As soon as he had gone, the real Alan Conyers rang for a nurse.

"Here's some things I don't want," he said, handing over the cigarettes and the box of grapes. "Give the cigarettes to somebody else in the ward, and keep the grapes for yourself, if you'd like them."

"Yes," said Ronnie, "I almost felt sorry for the chap when I started to quiz him about Plattsfield. He got the wind up all right when I said his face was familiar. In another minute he was telling he he's being transferred to a hospital in Hampshire, and he asked me to say good-by to you, June and gave me these books you'd lent him only yesterday."

Mr. Merrill shook his head ruefully.

"I have to own I was misled by the rascal," he said. "Even now I keep asking myself how he happened to have my name and address. Can't make that out to save my soul."

"I'll own it's had me flummuxed," Ronnie admitted. "But to change the subject, Cousin Jack. Do you own this nice little house you've got? I hope you don't mind my asking."

"I guess you've got every right to ask," the old man replied. "I don't exactly own it. I guess you know your father took out a mortgage on it. I hadn't got around to paying him the interest, when he died. But he'd already told me he was leaving it in his will to forgive me all my debts to him. Not that I had so many."

"Yes—that's right," said Ronnie.

"We'll come to that later," he said aloud. "And apart from the cottage, how much have you got to live on, Cousin Jack?"

The old man looked rueful. He hated the accusing eye of June fixed on him so steadily, and completely misunderstood her alarmed expression.

"Well, it would amount to about four pounds a week," he admitted. "But of course there's the income tax."

"The reason I'm asking," Ronnie said, "is because June and I are talking about getting married. What would you say to that, Cousin Jack?"

"Dear me," her father exclaimed, "this is a surprise!" But he beamed. "If it suits you and June it suits me. In fact it's a fine idea. Looks like I'll be going to America after all. I wish old Tom could know about this."

"Well, that's what's bothering me a bit," said Ronnie. "When I first mentioned the subject to June, I made a joke about taking her to live on one of those islands like where it's all palm trees and little mud huts. The truth about it is, my business is really taking me to the West Indies. You know, Cuba and Jamaica and places like that."

"I'd like to see those places," said Cousin Jack.

"We'd be moving about a lot," he said, "and my traveling allowance wouldn't run to the extra expense. Besides, it would be our honeymoon. No, we'd have to leave you behind, Cousin Jack. Until after the war, maybe."

Tho keenly disappointed, Mr. Merrill took it very well. He could hardly make much of a fuss in the circumstances; and as for June, submerged, practically overwhelmed by the train of events just for a brief mad moment she felt there was no possible way out of the situation.

And also—these being modern times—why shouldn't she marry the man she was now forced against her will to believe was an absconding bank clerk? He hadn't asked her, of course, but she knew perfectly well that he had fallen in love with her, just as she had with him.

Cousin Alan said that this man to whom he had given such a bad name was being moved to a hospital in Hampshire, or at least said he was. It seemed to her that she must see him again; that it was likely her whole future depended upon it.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is not cause for rejoicing to be dealt a hand containing only one jack, and the situation is scarcely brightened by the opponents climbing gaily to a slam. Yet, on an amazing number of occasions, the holder of the "bust" can strike a telling blow for his side. The vital thing is to cast off discouragement and stay alert to every possibility, however remote. Note today's hand.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
6 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Obviously, North and South were not timid bidders! North's three no trump bid should have been two no trump, and South might well have bid only five instead of six diamonds. But perhaps North or South, or both, knew that they would be able to pick up a trick in the play.

West opened his fourth best heart. The ace won and the diamond jack was then led. East covered and the king won. The club 10 now was led toward dummy, and West, for some unaccountable reason, failed to cover. Perhaps he felt that covering would permit declarer to finesse against the nine spot later, but whatever his reason, his analysis was bad, and declarer proceeded to take full advantage of the situation.

Declarer figured from East's double that the spade suit was banked against him. In that case one discard on a club would do no good, hence he played for two discards by letting the club 10 ride. [It should be noted that even if this lost to the jack in East's hand, declarer would lose nothing, since he could later send the club king thru East's marked ace.] When the club 10 drove out East's ace, it was all over. Declarer ruffed the heart return, drew trumps, led a spade to the king, discarded two spades on the king and queen of clubs, and successfully finessed against the spade queen for the fulfilling tricks.

If West had put his lone jack to use, declarer would have been able to discard only one spade on dummy's clubs and would have ended up a trick short of his contract.

Problems Face Duck Hunters for '43 Season

feet of a big levee on the river, and water got into his beautiful clubhouse.

That Lake Forest group of Austin Niblack, Howard Linn, and others, who did not operate their club at Henry last fall, will open it this season as the shooting ground is right on the edge of the little town and easy to reach, requiring little gasoline to get to the blinds. Philip F. W. Peck has joined this group of sportsmen, who will commute to their club by train.

The federal law this year permits duck hunters to keep ducks in possession 45 days after the close of the season, a regulation that is in keeping with the idea of utilizing wild game meat for food. Ten days was the previous limit.

Debutante News.

The John D. Allens' daughter, Joan, who is of debutante age but for whom no debut plans have been made, is to have two parties next week, however. Her parents are giving a luncheon at their Allendale farms on Monday, to which they are inviting 10 midshipmen from the naval reserve school at Northwestern university, and an equal number of Miss Allen's friends, and on Tuesday Mrs. Allan D. Clement will give a luncheon at the Woman's Athletic club for Miss Allen. Included among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Clements' granddaughters, Joan and Nancy Clement, subdebutante daughters of the Franklin Clements. Miss Allen was graduated from Ferry Hall, at which Nancy has been a student, and will enter Carleton college this fall. Nancy Clement will enter Farmington, and her elder sister will go to Dobbs Ferry this year.

Mrs. John T. Metcalf and Mrs. Jules DeLescaille have decided on the afternoon of Dec. 21 for an informal tea for their daughters, Miss Mary Eleanor Metcalf and Miss Elizabeth DeLescaille. Only the debutante crowd and friends of the two young women will be invited to the party to be given in Winnetka, where the two families live. Miss Metcalf is a student at Bradford Junior college. Miss DeLescaille has decided against returning to Sarah Lawrence college in favor of taking a defense job.

Here and There.

Lt. and Mrs. John J. Borland II. [Margaret Hutchins] are being congratulated on the birth of a son, their second child, on Monday at the Michael Reese hospital. The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hutchins and of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Borland and will be named Bruce after his paternal grandfather. Little Bruce has a sister, Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cummings' Lake Forest household and the stag lines of the debut parties over the Labor day week-end will be enlivened by the presence of two of Mr. and Mrs. Cummings' sons, Walter Jr. of Washington, D. C., and Lt. Edward Cummings, who is stationed in the east with the navy.

Mrs. James R. Addington will return after Labor day from a three week visit with her husband, Maj. Addington, at his army post in Edmonton, Alta., Canada.

Miss Janet Ingram, daughter of the Carl Ingrams, will leave Sept. 13 for Smith college.

The Kimball Salisburys' subdebutante daughter, Joy, returned yesterday from Colorado Springs, Colo. It hasn't been decided where she will go to school this fall.

Engagement.

Mrs. John C. Spencer of North Lowell avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen, to Lt. Francis P. Mathews Jr. of the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathews of Omaha, Neb. The engagement news was told at an informal party last night for Lt. Mathews' sister, Miss Patricia Mathews, who is here visiting her future sister-in-law. Miss Spencer attended the Sacred Heart convent and Trinity college and was graduated from Rosemont college in Pennsylvania. Lt. Mathews, who received his commission while at Georgetown university, is stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Thru the Looking Glass

[For information telephone Eleanor Nangle, Superior 0200. Inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for written reply.]

Starting earlier than usual, we have plaintive requests from lots of women for help in getting rid of that end of summer sallowness, or the sun tan hangover. . . . Regularly as clockwork women find out that a good coat of tan is lovely while it can be maintained but that its remains, once the vacation is over, are just plain dingy. They also find that the sun that felt so good while they were worshiping it has a nasty trick of making the skin dryer and coarser than it ought to be if they're to look presentable during the long months that follow the two week vacation.

For them we can suggest wholeheartedly a cream that kills two beauty birds at once. It lubricates marvelously, restoring the parched skin to the degree of satiny smoothness that every woman wants and needs for her fall and winter face. In addition, it helps to whiten the skin, to banish that muddy look. It's not a strong bleach, we want you to understand. Heaven forbid. You can't expect a strong bleach to be a lubricant, too. This is an unusual emollient, pink and gooey, and loaded with efficient lubricating oils, to which a bit of a skin clarifier has been added. Don't expect it to make you a Snow White overnight! But you can expect it, applied nightly, to make your skin softer almost immediately and fresher looking in a matter of days.

This is a cream you can depend on for just one job. It's not a cleanser nor a foundation nor a trick cream in any sense. You use it at night, "nibbling" it in, to help restore the oils that sun and wind and the mere passage of the years inevitably remove. It helps banish the tan hangover, too, which makes it a good choice for many women right now. We should also add, as a war time thrift note, that it's an economical cream.

Anti-Palestine Move Is Hit by Jewish Parley

New York, Aug. 31 [Special].—The American Jewish conference today adopted by a rising vote a resolution accusing the American Council for Judaism of an "attempt to sabotage the collective Jewish will to achieve a unified program" by its statement, made public in Philadelphia yesterday, opposing the creation of a Jewish national state.

This action was taken after four rabbis, including spokesmen for the Central Conference of American Rabbis, the Rabbinical Assembly of America, and the Rabbinical Council of America, organizations respectively of reformed, conservative, and orthodox rabbis, had denounced the American Council for Judaism in the strongest possible terms.

When other speakers tried to gain the floor, Henry Monsky of Omaha, Neb., chairman of the executive committee which convened the conference, and president of B'nai B'rith, explained that the general committee of the conference had decided to limit the discussion to the four rabbis and to a statement by the chair.

Monsky then read the following statement:

"The American Council for Judaism, a body of 100 men speaking for themselves, has seen fit to issue a statement in the name of 'Americans of Jewish faith' at a time when the American Jewish conference, democratically elected body, representing every major Jewish organization and community in the United States, is seeking to unite American Jews on a common program for the solution of the tragic problems confronting world Jewry.

"The timing of this action must be characterized as unsportsmanlike and reprehensibly impertinent. It is calculated to confuse American public opinion and to disrupt the American Jewish community.

"Today the delegates here assembled, representing every point of view, are united in their repudiation of this attempt to sabotage the collective Jewish will to achieve a unified program."

upholds the latter contention by citing results obtained thru its door-to-door, day-by-day recruiting canvass done in worker shortage areas. In April, May, and June more than 2¼ million men and women were induced to enter war work by this method.

The man power commission believes the woman turnover can be traced to many clear cut causes, the most dangerous of which is the psychological effect of America's recurrent "it's in the bag" talk. The Tunisian victory had a remarkable effect on war work; many workers gave up their jobs, believing the war was won.

Other causes are believed to be: Women are [or were] unprepared for the discipline of their war jobs; they took them on without adequate training; they made hasty, emotional decisions to go to work when war broke out and now are repenting; marriage or pregnancy; housing shortages and inadequate nutrition and child care facilities; fatigue, which, the commission believes, could be offset by means which industry has not explored.

Miss Margaret A. Hickey, head of the women's advisory committee of the war man power commission, said today that the government, management, and labor should give immediate attention to factors both on the job and in the community that affect recruitment of women for war work.

"The hours that are lost thru fatigue and accidents, thru domestic and home problems, nutritional deficiencies and social dislocation growing out of boomtown conditions—those are the problems that cause absenteeism," she said. "And they are being neglected.

"Our woman power program is a voluntary program—yet. Women should beware of that 'let the girl down the street do something' attitude. It's every one's personal responsibility to decide where she can be of greatest help.

"What American women should remember is that staying on the job is all important right now. It's going to take plenty of old fashioned stamina to stick, just as our grandmothers had to stick."

Great Britain, incidentally, had been at war a year when it drafted women, using the word "service" instead of "war work" and "directed" instead of "drafted." The British began to worry about drafting women in the 40 to 45 age group at the time the United States began considering drafting fathers. Women up to 45 now are drafted in England and given their choice of farming, munitions making, or military service.

In May, 1942, Great Britain had 5½ million in war jobs; by February of this year the number had increased to seven million. Women now compose a third of the total labor force in England.

The Wadsworth-Austin bill provided for the registration of all American women between the ages of 18 and 50. Under its provisions no service would be required of any woman with a child or children [living with her or under her care] under 18, of any woman whose personal care was required for invalids or aged, or of a state political officer or employe.

Looking at Hollywood .... By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 31.—Head men of Twentieth-Century-Fox are coming down with a case of stork jitters. The way the studio's glamour gals have been increasing the population has the bosses jumping sideways and looking around for sedate character actresses to sign up. And here are the facts:

Betty Grable is about to join the ladies in retirement, with baby due in late spring; Alice Faye's toddler is keeping her away for several more months; ditto Joan Bennett; Gene Tierney's heir is scheduled for pretty soon now and no pictures until next year; Cobina Wright Jr., a bright stellar prospect, also is expectin' and soon, and Maureen O'Hara is hoping like anything!

Comes now Gale Robbins, a new glamour gal just shoved into the Grable spot in "Something for the Boys," saying pouf pouf to stardom and thinking only of getting hitched to her Yale boy, Bob Olson. Darryl Zanuck and Joseph Schenck are in stitches. They remember the case of Brenda Marshall, who found herself thus and so in the midst of "Paris After Dark" soon after she was signed. Well, all I've got to say is that if the country looks to Hollywood to set it an example, we've done worse!

Not a Bite to Eat!

Joel McCrea raises 185,000 pounds of beef a year on his ranch, but he, Frances Dee, and the family dine off ration cards even as you and I. . . . And Bill Eythe, Twentieth's new star, is being loaded with fattening food at the studio's Cafe de Paris because his part in "Eve of St. Mark" calls for a well upholstered torso. . . . Arthur Hornblow is ogling Orson Welles for the role of Nero in "Quo Vadis," but Orson's afraid he won't have time to learn to fiddle. Thought you were a magician, Orson. . . . And look for Laraine Day to play Lydia for Hornblow—if De Mille will let her off the set of "Dr. Wassell" long enough for tests.

Glamour Girdle.

Hear several majors are warm on the trail of 15 year old Coleen Townsend, who was voted "Miss Los Angeles, 1953." The television workshop, where she toils at an acting career, is being besieged by studio talent scouts. . . . Flora Robson, headed for Britain, postcards from New York that back there they knit like this: "Knit one, remember Purl Harbor two," etc., etc. . . . The stories that got around about how Frank Sinatra has bought himself back from Tommy Dorsey and Dorsey's manager are all haywire. What happened was that the music corporation took over the Dorsey interest, and Frankie's right back where he started from. Sinatra, who did all right without singing lessons, is telling the bosses at RKO that he doesn't need acting lessons either. Ho hum—I've heard that song before, too.

Hair-Growing Derby.

Five Warnerites have a new gambling gag. They're Humphrey Bogart, Philip Dorn, Helmut Dantine, Peter Lorre, and George Tobias—all with shaved pates playing convicts escaped from Devil's Island in "Passage to Marseille." Each week their new hair is measured with a micrometer scaled to ten-thousandths of an inch and the winner cops a sizable pool. . . . Bob Hope sent Big Crosby a post card showing a wrecked and deserted African village. "Your picture 'Holiday Inn' is playing here," Bob scrawled, "doing a smashing business."

Sincere with S. A.

My Metro operative grapevines that Greer Garson's "Madame Curie" is really somep'n to shout about, but that the grave and reverend gentlemen of the French academy will sure waggle their beards when they view it. Greer, incidentally, is enjoying an incognito vacation at Carmel. . . . Milton Berle, who can't get into the army, has become a blood donor, quipping: "If you can't be a private, be a corpuscle." . . . Romo Vincent says the reason why Tommy Manville marries so often is to satisfy his altar ego. . . . Rosalind Russell is going around in circles these days, what with starring in Columbia's "Ten Per Cent Woman" day times and hurrying over to RKO nights to prepare for "Elizabeth Kenny," soon to start. Sister Kenny, about whom the story was created, is having a tough time getting over an automobile accident, but is making it. . . . Michele Morgan's wish has come true—she's playing comedy for the first time in RKO's "Higher and Higher," and Charlie Koerner is going around pinning ribbons on himself saying, "I knew she could do it." Well, Charles Boyer could have told Charlie that Michele's a natural comedienne. Those French actresses learn gagging in a tough school. "I hope I never have to play another weepy role," Michele told me with enthusiasm.

Hospital Baby Party Draws a Record 660, Plus a Late Arrival

The 14th annual baby party yesterday on the lawn of Sherman hospital, Elgin, for infants born in the institution since Aug. 31, 1942, drew the laragest attendance in the history of the event—660 babies and their mothers. The number rose one more when the youngest of this year's crop was born at 2:45 p. m., 45 minutes after the party started. He was John T. O'Brien Jr., son of Lt. O'Brien, army air corps pilot of a Liberator bomber in New Guinea, and Katherine Hams O'Brien of Palatine. A ring and a rattle, the same gifts that the other babies received, were put aside for Johnny.

Charles A. Lindquist, managing officer of the hospital and originator of the baby parties in 1930, presided at yesterday's event. Among the guests were five sets of twins. A dozen of the mothers were alumnae of the hospital school of nursing. With yesterday's guests, a total of 8,030 babies have been honored at these annual parties each of which is for infants born in the hospital during the preceding year.

Speakers at the fete were Mrs. George R. Thompson, president of the Elgin Woman's club, which founded the hospital in 1888 and has operated it since, and Mayor Walter E. Miller of Elgin. It was Mayor Miller's birthday.

REDS BEAT CUBS, 3-2, ON WALTERS' TRIPLE

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

ANDY PAFKO and Johnny Ostrowski, Los Angeles kid outfielders, will get tryouts with the Cubs next season. . . . Each has been rejected for military service, Ostrowski because of a perforated ear drum and Pafko because of high blood pressure. . . . Some of the old timers on the Los Angeles team believe Ostrowski, a Chicago boy, will become a better player than the more publicized Pafko. . . . One year, so the report goes, Don Hutson was putting the pressure on Coach Curly Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers for a juicier contract. . . . Curly called the lank end into his office, produced a blank contract and asked Don to write in his own figure. . . . Don made it $12,500 and Curly accepted the document without comment, whereas Hutson later upbraided himself for not making it $15,000. . . . Johnny Moore, former Cub outfielder, operates a bowling alley in Sarasota, Fla., in the winter time. . . . Sam Snead, the golfer, who is attached to the naval training station at San Diego, Cal., is a Friday night regular at the fights. . . . P. K. Wrigley's All-American Girls Professional Softball league has been so successful in Kenosha, Racine, South Bend, and Rockford that the setup will be transferred next winter to the Los Angeles area for a 90-day stand. . . . Tony Blazine, line coach at the University of Illinois, refused to be lured out of retirement by an offer from the Chicago Cardinals on a basis of just showing up in time for the kickoff. . . . Every fan who pays his way into Wrigley field in Los Angeles leaves an average of 50 cents at the concession counters.

Rudy York is making his amazing late season home run production with an Elmer Valo model bat and Dick Wakefield, Rudy's Detroit teammate, is using a York model bat in his battle with Luke Appling for the American league batting championship. . . . Wakefield says the toughest pitcher he's gone up against is Thornton [Lefty] Lee of the White Sox. . . . After a College All-Star player's block put the Washington Redskins' Willie Wilkin on his bloomers, as Otto Graham got under way for his 97 yard touchdown run, the huge tackle cracked: "Thanks, pal, now I don't have to chase that so and so!" . . . When Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific, suggested a year ago to Alonzo Stagg that perhaps football should be abandoned, the veteran coach replied, "Mr. President, the College of the Pacific will continue to play football!" . . . Dr. Knoles tells this story on himself and he's looking forward to watching the team the 81 year old Stagg will put on the field this season.

In Love with Life.

There is a blue tone to the sky
today—
A blue as of sapphires melted all in one—
And nacre clouds go billowing away
As if to follow after the setting sun.
There is a winy tang that fills the air
With some contagious spirit filled with zest,
Imparting to all lovers everywhere
A sense of living life at quite its best.
And I am caught by some infectious thing
That fills my heart down to its very core
With love for life so that I want to sing
The hours away—and then to sing
some more.
O, who can blame me when all earth conspires
To fill my heart with living's sweet desires?

CUBS WILL TAKE OVER SEVERAL ANGEL PLAYERS

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 31 (AP).—The Chicago Cubs will take over six or seven members of the Los Angeles club, far out in front in the Pacific Coast league, for possible 1944 duty.

Clarence Rowland, president of the Angels, said these players probably will go to the Cubs: Shortstop Bill Schuster, Second Baseman Roy Hughes, Outfielders Andy Pafko, Johnny Ostrowski, and Rip Russell; Catcher Billy Holm, and Pitchers Red Lynn and Jodie Phipps.

The Angels may make a deal with another club involving one or two of the players, especially if the sum offered is higher than the Cubs make, said Rowland.

All other members of the Los Angeles team will be for sale or subject to the player draft except Billy Sarni, 15 year old catcher, whom Rowland took from the sand lots for a $10,000 sum to the lad's parents. Sarni is not eligible for the draft and will be kept for at least another year of seasoning.

Amateur Baseball's Cuban World Series Threatened

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 31 (AP).—The sixth annual world series of amateur baseball, scheduled in Havana at the end of September, was threatened today by an official announcement that air lines would not have priorities to transport players from the American nations. Nevertheless, Cuban officials indicated the series would be played even tho only one team arrived to compete against the Havana entry.

MADIGAN OPENS GRIDIRON DRILL TODAY AT IOWA

55 Given Uniforms; More Expected.

Iowa City, Ia., Aug. 31 [Special].—Fifty-five players, 34 of whom already have checked out uniforms, are expected tomorrow when the University of Iowa opens its fall football practice. Coach Edward P. [Slip] Madigan, pleased with the number of men who were issued suits today, said he knew definitely of 10 or 12 more candidates.

Two drills are scheduled for the Hawkeyes tomorrow, one in the morning and another in the afternoon. Thursday they will begin holding one-a-day drills. Iowa opens its schedule Sept. 25 at Great Lakes.

Only three of the squad, Ends Bill Barbour and Harry Frey, and Guard Bob Liddy, are veterans of last year's team. All but nine are freshmen, altho 11 of the 34 were out for summer drills.

BADGERS SPEED DRILLS.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 31 [Special].—Wisconsin's football hopes took another jump upward today when it was learned that Gene Walgenbach, veteran guard who did not play last fall due to a physical ailment, probably will rejoin the Badgers this week. Walgenbach must first pass a physical examination, but he is confident this will be successful.

The Badgers stepped up the pace in this second day of drill and Coach Harry Stuhldreher, well pleased with the turnout thus far, announced that it will be full speed ahead from now on.

MARINES SHINE AT PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 31 [Special].—Marine V-12 students predominated on three different back field combinations on Purdue's practice field this afternoon. The Boilermaker coaches continued to assay ball carrying material for the opener with Great Lakes at the Naval Training station two weeks from Saturday.

Ed Cycenas, Purdue's lone holdover major letter man back field prospect, and William Stuart, a reserve last fall, were the only Navy V-12 men in the trio of ball lugging foursomes. The remainder were Marines.

Tony Butkovich, elusive Illinois ball carrier who turned in a 77 yard run against Ohio State's champions last season, headlined a trio of full back candidates which included Leo [Rocky] Milla of Missouri and Bernard Tetek of Tulane.

ILLINI HURL PASSES.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 31 [Special].—The Illinois football squad concentrated on forward passes today while Coach Ray Eliot warned the players they had only eight practices left before the first game with Camp Grant here Sept. 11.

Eddie Bray of Utica and Don Johnson of Charleston, freshmen, and Don Greenwood of Chicago and Eddie McGovern, Terre Haute, Ind., transfer students, alternated in pass throwing.

MICHIGAN WORKS ON PUNTS.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 31 [Special]. — Michigan football coaches today sent the backs thru a lengthy punting drill and worked others on the rushing and protection of kickers.

Tom Kuzma, now in the army, handled most of the Wolverine punting last season and Coach Fritz Crisler is seeking a replacement. Half Backs Elroy Hirsch, Bill Daley, Paul White, and Bill Culligan, and Full Back Bob Wiese are possibilities for this assignment.

BUCKEYES READY FOR ACTION.

Columbus, O., Aug. 31 [Special].—With 68 reporting for duty, Ohio State university's football team planned to start training for the 1943 season with two workouts scheduled tomorrow. All the preliminary work was completed today, such as newspaper pictures, physical examinations and uniform fitting.

60 READY AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 31 (AP).—A squad of 60 candidates is expected to turn out tomorrow when Dr. George Hauser, head football coach at Minnesota, starts fall practice. Included will be many trainees for the navy. Dr. Hauser is expected to set a schedule calling for two practice sessions daily, with the morning sessions for the 17 year olds who are still civilians and the afternoon sessions for the polishing of plays.

SOX TRY THEIR LUCK ON GOLF COURSE

The White Sox, having no baseball labors until tomorrow night, had their annual golf outing yesterday at Elmhurst Country club and here's the hilarious result. Three Sox huff and puff, but can't blow the golf ball into the near-by cup. Left to right: Orval Grove, Guy Curtright, and Bill Swift.

Dykes' Dogs Bark, But He's on His Feet After 18 Hole Match

The American league umpires should have had a convention at the 17th or 18th holes at Elmhurst Country club yesterday. They would have seen their old pal of the baseball diamond, Jimmie Dykes, in such a state of exhaustion that even their presence couldn't have given him enough energy to speak up at them.

The White Sox manager, who with 10 of his players toured the course yesterday as guests of Elmhurst and Ron Kennedy, managed to last the 18 holes, but it was a photo finish. He did everything from the 14th hole on in but try to thumb a ride, he was that tired. Dykes can give a picturesque description not only of the course but of the immediate vicinity. He was in Salt creek twice and in the woods so much the other players thought he was on a picnic.

Skipper's Dogs Barking.

In the words of Coach Herold [Muddy] Ruel, "Ye old skipper was dragging his dogs at the finish."

Hero of the ball players' outing was Jim [Skeeter] Webb, utility infielder whose 79 enabled him to retain the title he won last year. Jim was out in 40 and shaved a stroke off that total on the final nine. Ruel came in second among the Sox with an 85, altho a member of the baseball party, Phil Villani, checked in with 83. Pitcher Buck Ross reported with an 89 and Dykes settled for 91.

Team With Members.

Two ball players teamed with two members of the club. Fred B. Snite, president of Elmhurst, donated prizes. Some of the Sox came away with fancy sport shirts which should last an entire road trip without attention from the laundry. Snite shot 89, getting a 43 on the outgoing nine. He had a deuce at the water 13th hole.

Dr. August Pecaro, with 78 on rounds of 40 and 38, led the members in scoring. He was followed by Bob Landees, who had an 81, and Terry Dillon, with 86.

HUNTING SEASON ON MANY BIRDS TO OPEN TODAY

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 31 (AP).—The hunting season on doves, rails, gallinules, and sora opens thruout Illinois tomorrow.

At the same time the squirrel hunting season, now open in the state's southern and central zones, is extended to the northern zone. It closes in the south Oct. 15, in the central zone Oct. 30, and in the north Nov. 15. The daily bag limit on squirrels is five and the possession limit is 10.

Mourning doves may be taken until after Sept. 30 with both daily bag and possession limits set at 10. The possession and daily bag limits on rails and gallinules [except coots] are 15 of either kind or 15 in the aggregate of all kinds. The season ends Nov. 30. Sora may be taken until after Nov. 30, with daily bag and possession limits 25.

8 MARQUETTE VETERANS FACE KEEN OPPOSITION

Milwaukee, Wis., Apg. 31 [Special].—Letter men predominated on the tentative varsity lineup as Coach Tom Stidham staged a dummy practice on plays at Marquette university's football drill today.

There are eight letter men on the current Marquette roster, but all face tough fights for regular positions. Young freshmen and navy trainees are in the majority on the squad,

Two transfers already loom as strong contenders for the first string end positions. They are Charles Benkendorf, who played at Carroll college the last three years, and Bill Combs, former Purdue and Philadelphia Eagle star.

MRS. RADEK AND MISS HART WIN IN CITY TENNIS

Mitzi Radek, Illinois state champion, and Marian Hart advanced into the semi-finals of the women's division in the Chicago city tennis tournament yesterday at the Fullerton Tennis club. In the quarter-final matches, Mrs. Radek defeated Leone Balke, 7-5, 6-2, and Miss Hart beat Vivian Greenberg, 6-1, 6-2.

Howe Atwater, who won the state interscholastic singles title for New Trier High school last spring, and captured the Wisconsin men's and junior's singles and doubles crowns only last Sunday, opened his bid in the men's division yesterday by defeating Joaquin Magante, 8-6, 6-0.

Four second round matches in the men's class were played off yesterday evening in which John Kritenstein defeated Bill Rosenthal, 6-3, 6-4; Charles Shostrum beat Walter Harnish, 6-0, 6-2; Gene Vash whipped Guy Bertich, 6-4, 6-4, and Jerry Evert advanced over Sol Gould, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

BOMAR HIGH IN FAETZ TOURNEY WITH 1,349 PINS

Buddy Bomar averaged 224 pins a game to win the Faetz Recreation sweepstakes last night from a field of the city's leading bowlers. His total for the six game event was 1,349.

Rudy Habetler, with 1,331, was second and Paul Krumske was third with 1,277. Other leading scores: Leroy Zender, 1,246; Eli Maricich, 1,239, and Pete Peterson, 1,218. George Calder shot high game of 251.

Armstrong's Match with White Is Off

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 31 (AP).—Now that Henry Armstrong has reconsidered his decision to retire from the boxing game and decided to go thru with his scheduled 10 round match here Sept. 18 with Luther [Slugger] White of Baltimore, White's manager, Sam Lampe, says the deal is off.

"I positively will not let White fight a blind man, and that is just what Armstrong is," Lampe declared today. "Furthermore, I don't believe a boxing commission in the country would pass Henry as fit for the ring.

"Armstrong was guaranteed 40 per cent of the gate for the Sept. 18 fight and White took 20 per cent to get the match. Right now, Armstrong isn't worth 10 per cent. He wouldn't draw $20,000."

Lampe said he had wired Bob Montgomery, recognized in some quarters as the lightweight champion, offering him a guarantee of $15,000 to take over the White match.

Joe Lynch, promoter of the Armstrong-White fight, threatened court action against Armstrong when the Los Angeles Negro announced his retirement last week after Ray Robinson beat him decisively in New York.

BREWER BACK AT ILLINOIS; SIGNS AS INSTRUCTOR

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 31 [Special].—Mel Brewer, Carbondale, captain of the 1939 Illinois football team which upset Michigan, 16 to 7, will join the University of Illinois physical education faculty tomorrow. He replaces Noble Thomas, Mt. Vernon, who enlisted in the navy Monday.

After graduating in 1940, Brewer acted as line coach at Wabash and DePauw and in 1942 entered the navy. He was recently given a medical discharge. Brewer will study for his master's degree while teaching.

Winsor Brown, varsity golf coach and assistant to Director Seward Staley of the physical education school, leaves Saturday to become chief announcer for WMBD, Peoria. For the last year Coach Brown has been a part-time announcer over WILL, University of Illinois station.

Indiana Prison Nine Loses Its First 'Outside' Game

The Indiana State prison baseball team making its first appearance outside the prison walls, lost a 3 to 1 decision to the Michigan City Cubs in Ames stadium last night. Southpaw Wally Ogiego of the Cubs, after yielding a run in the second inning, held the prison team well in check. Score:

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 31. — Paul Derringer held the Cincinnati Reds to five hits tonight while the Cubs were making nine off Bucky Walters, but the fifth hit off Derringer was a triple by Walters, who scored his second and his team's third run in a 3 to 2 victory for the Reds on an out. The Reds never got a man on base after Walters' swat — and obviously they didn't have to, even tho the Cubs later made five hits and got momentary aid from Lonnie Frey's first error in 213 chances.

The Cubs were the first to score. They got a run home in the second on Ival Goodman's double and Lennie Merullo's single. The Reds tied the count in their half of the second on Estel Crabtree's double and Steve Mesner's single. In the third Walters drew a pass at the start of the inning, went to third on a single by Frey, and scored on Bert Haas' infield out.

Walters' Triple Decisive.

From the third inning to the end of the game, not a member of the home nine got on base except Walters on that decisive triple at the start of the fifth.

With two out in the sixth the Chicagoans got busy on the production of their final run. Peanuts Lowery doubled with two down and scored on Mickey Livingston's single.

The Cubs had a big chance to tie in the eighth. Goodman singled with one out, stole second and went to third while Lowrey was reaching first on Frey's error. Then Livingston grounded into a double play.

Sixth Straight Night Victory.

It was Walters' sixth straight victory under the Crosley field lights. He hasn't won a game here in the day time this season. It was his 12th victory of the season, his third in five decisions in Cub competition. It was Derringer's third defeat at the hands of his long time buddies. He has beaten them once.

The teams will be at it again tomorrow afternoon—with Claude Passeau facing Ray Starr.

SOX TO CLEVELAND TONIGHT

The White Sox will reach the end of a three day vacation tonight when they assemble for a train ride to Cleveland, where they are scheduled to resume their unhappy relations with the Indians tomorrow night. The series also includes a single game Saturday and one on Sunday, following which James Dykes will lead his boys, by boat, to Detroit for a Labor day double header. From Detroit the Sox will return home for another three day loafing spell before proceeding to St. Louis for four games, one an electric light affair.

CARDS DEFEAT PIRATES, 4 TO 2, ON HOMER IN 9TH

Walker's Hit Breaks Up Tie Contest.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP).—Harry Walker's ninth inning home run inside the park, with Relief Pitcher George Munger aboard, brought the champion St. Louis Cardinals their third victory in four starts over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 2, tonight.

The Pirates, who got 11 hits off Max Lanier and Munger, had tied the count in the eighth at two apiece.

Bob Klinger gave the Cards nine hits, but a double by Lou Klein in the third and a walk and two singles in the fourth set the stage for Walker's game winning hit.

SPORT CLUBS TO HELP FUND FOR LAKE ILLINOIS

Members of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs will contribute thousands of dollars to the fund now being raised by Ducks Unlimited for the establishment of Lake Illinois, a vast duck growing project in the Canadian marshes, Carl Myers, president of the federation, announced yesterday. Some of the chapters and clubs in the federation, a state-wide organization, have subscribed $500 to the Lake Illinois fund. Others have agreed to raise $300 by Oct. 3 when sportsmen from all over the state will get together for an open air "Lake Illinois" meeting, an outdoor jamboree in Riverside. Tony Novak is chairman of this event. The goal of the Lake Illinois project is $20,000.

LEOS, ST. CYRS WIN GAMES IN K. OF C. TOURNEY

The Leos and St. Cyrs, champions and runners-up in the 1942 Knights of Columbus metropolitan softball league, won first round games in the 1943 round robin tournament which opened last night in Sparta stadium. The Leos defeated St. Patricks, 11 to 9, and St. Cyrs beat the Cardinals, 8 to 5.

In the remaining games, the Kettlers defeated De Sotos, 16 to 6, and the Americus won a first round consolation game from the University club, 7 to 4.

Tonight's schedule: 7:30, St. Francis vs. St. Philip Neri; 8:30, Leos vs. Kettlers; 9:30, winner of the 7:30 game vs. St. Cyr.

BUCK NEWSOM.

An Old Story: Newsom Goes to Senators!

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 31 (AP).—Louis [Buck] Newsom, who came to the Browns in mid-July with the promise of pitching them to a pennant, instead will leave a scene of bitter and humiliating defeats to join the Washington Senators. Buck was sold today for an undisclosed cash sum, Vice President William O. Dewitt announced. However, the transaction was believed to be at the waiver price of $7,500.

It will be much-traded Newsom's third term with the Senators. He will join the club immediately, apparently in a late season gamble by the Senators to hold second place in the American league.

Knocked Out Nine Times.

In his third and shortest tenure with the Browns, Buck was knocked out nine times while winning one game and losing six. He appeared as a relief pitcher in a 10th contest and was hit hard.

At the time Newsom was obtained from Brooklyn by the Browns in trade for Southpaws Archie McKain and Fred Ostermueller they were trailing the Yankees by only 7½ games. Then they hit a downward dive that has put them 20½ games off the pace.

Buck's Defiant Now.

Neither the Browns nor Newsom expected the saddening turn of events. President Donald Barnes and Manager Luke Sewell frankly admitted the temperamental veteran was obtained to pitch the team to a pennant.

In fact, the 35 year old right hander said confidently to Barnes, "I'm just the guy that can win the pennant for you."

His words of late have been defiant:

"I'm all right on that mound. Had some bad luck lately, but old Buck can take care of himself."

MADISON BOXERS FIGHT TONIGHT AT FORT CUSTER

An amateur boxing team representing the Madison Athletic club will meet Fort Custer in a series of bouts tonight at Fort Custer. The team's services are being donated by Walter Buescher and Alexander Balm, co-promoters of the weekly shows in the Madison-Cicero outdoor arena. Those making the trip include:

Ray Lonergan, 118 pounds; Johnny Starbeck, 126; Sammy Sanders, 141; Art Brown, 148; Stanley Sheehy, 154; Julius Glenn, 165; Robert Walker, 175, and William Hayes, heavyweight.

Kola Kwariani will meet Ole Olsen in the windup bout of Fred Kohler's wrestling show this evening in Rainbo Fronton, 4836 North Clark street. An Australian tag match also on the card will pit Eddie [Bad Man] Lewis and Emir Badui against Ivan Kamikoff and Charles [Gorilla] Grubmyer.

CARDINALS LOSE RAMSEY; DUGGAN, CURRIVAN ARRIVE

The Chicago Cardinals yesterday lost the anticipated services of Garrard Ramsey, star guard from William and Mary, who is scheduled to report to his navy board in Virginia today. The Cardinals, now in training at Waukesha, Wis., had counted on Ramsey as a starting player.

Don Currivan, who, like Ramsey, was a member of the College All-Stars who defeated the Washington Redskins last week, has reported to the Cardinals. He is an end. Another arrival at Waukesha is Gilford [Cactus Face] Duggan, starting tackle of the 1942 team.

Minneapolis, Springfield Meet in Legion Final

Miles City, Mont., Aug. 31 (AP).—The Minneapolis Richfields moved into the finals of the American Legion world series tonight by defeating the New Orleans Jax, 9 to 6. The southern club was eliminated. The Richfields will meet Springfield, O., for the title.

PACKERS' COACH PHILOSOPHICAL OVER 1943 TEAM

Squad Equally Divided with Veterans, Rookies.

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 31 [Special].—The Green Bay Packers' football squad of 1943 is almost as evenly divided among veterans and youngsters as an apple halved for twin brothers. And those newcomers must be an impressive lot, for Coach E. L. [Curly] Lambeau said this afternoon that he is satisfied with the team which Sunday afternoon will meet the Washington Redskins in Baltimore, Md., in an exhibition game.

You couldn't say that Curly is optimistic, but rather philosophical. "It looks pretty good," said the candid fellow, who has been with the Packers since their start in 1921, "if we can just hold what we have rounded up. We realize all the other clubs have lost many men. We're not kicking. No sir!"

The Green Bay citizens, who are wrapped up with the Packers as one big family, like Lambeau, are hopeful that before the team opens the championship National Football league season with the Chicago Bears here on Sept. 26, Cecil Isbell, their prodigal pass pitcher, will Nebraska.

Isbell Doubtful Starter.

Isbell so far has kept clear of Lambeau's eloquence aimed at inducing him to reconsider his decision to quit the Packers after five seasons. The fellow who holds nine league passing records is at Purdue, his alma mater, helping coach football.

"It's very doubtful if we'll have Cecil this season," Lambeau said today, "but we're still trying to talk him into coming back."

Lambeau succeeded a few weeks ago in breaking Don Hutson's resolve to retire after eight seasons. If Isbell actually stays out of uniform, the Packers are well fixed for fellows who can throw to Hutson, who only asks that the ball be in his immediate vicinity anyway.

Triple Threat Rookie.

Tony Canadeo, released by the army, has been the team's No. 2 passer the last two seasons. Irv Comp of Milwaukee and St. Benedict's college is one of Lambeau's choice rookie possessions. Irv, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighing 210 pounds, is a triple threat artist whom Curly has been touting since last fall. A third passer is Andy Uram, the old Minnesota speedster.

The most important addition to the Packer line is Chet Adams, 235 pound tackle, who starred with Cleveland four seasons. Green Bay obtained Adams in the draw for the immobilized Cleveland club's players. The Packers are well fixed for tackles, what with Baby Ray, 245 pounds; Paul Berezney, 220 pounds, and Tiny Croft, the 300 pounder from Ripon. Lambeau has hopes that Dick Wildung of Minnesota will play at least a few games before going into the navy. A newcomer at tackle is Paul Newell of Nebraska.

Larry Craig Back Again.

Nine of the 16 returning veterans are linemen. Of these four—Hutson, Harry Jacunski, Joel Mason, and Dick Evans—are ends. Others, in addition to the three tackles mentioned, are Center Bob Flowers and Guard Bill Kuuisto. A second center is Forrest McPherson of Nebraska and the Los Angeles Bulldogs. There are three new guards—Sherwood Fries of Colorado State and the Bulldogs, Pete Gaudauskas of Murray [Ky.] State Teachers, and Glen Sorenson of Utah State. A fifth end is John Wilson, a husky youngster from Milwaukee with semi-pro experience.

Larry Craig is back for his fifth season at quarter, or blocking back, and has Ben Starrett, starting his third campaign, as a running mate. Canadeo and Uram are holdovers at left half. Joe Laws, the sturdy Iowan, is ready for his 10th season at right half. Another veteran at that spot is Bob Kahler of Nebraska.

Ted Fritsch, who was a sensation in 1942, will be at full back, helped by two newcomers. These are Don Perkins from Platteville [Wis.] Teachers and Tony Falkenstein of St. Mary's [Cal.]. Another freshman prospect is Bill McWilliams, a Chicago boy, who has had a previous tryout with the Detroit Lions.

Lambeau's veteran assistant, Richard [Red] Smith, has left Charlie Grimm and the Milwaukee Brewers to help Curly get the team ready for its 23d league campaign.

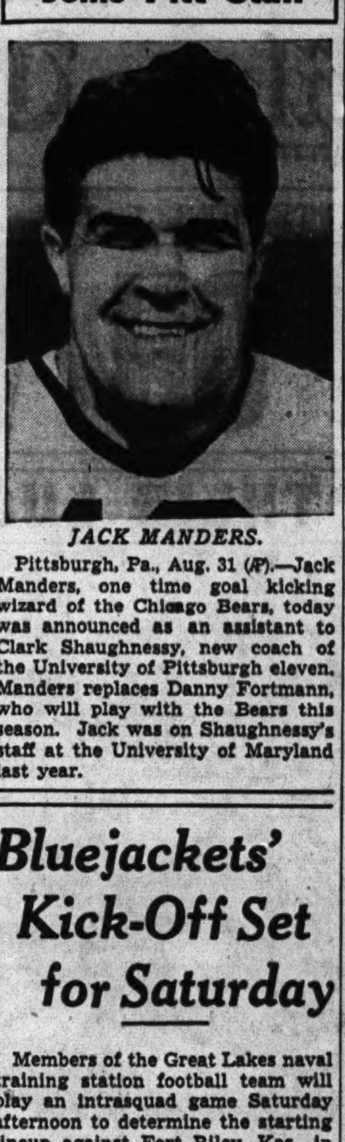
Joins Pitt Staff



JACK MANDERS.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP).—Jack Manders, one time goal kicking wizard of the Chicago Bears, today was announced as an assistant to Clark Shaughnessy, new coach of the University of Pittsburgh eleven. Manders replaces Danny Fortmann, who will play with the Bears this season. Jack was on Shaughnessy's staff at the University of Maryland last year.

Bluejackets' Kick-Off Set for Saturday

Members of the Great Lakes naval training station football team will play an intrasquad game Saturday afternoon to determine the starting lineup against Fort Riley, Kas., in the opening game of the season at Ross field Sept. 12. The contest with the soldiers is the first of seven scheduled to be played at the base this fall.

Lt. Paul D. [Tony] Hinkle, who last season directed the Bluejackets to the national service championship, has an entirely new squad this year. The stars of the 1942 team, which won eight games, lost three and tied Notre Dame, have departed for sea duty elsewhere in the United States.

Among 36 players who left Great Lakes were Bruce Smith, the Bluejackets' leading ball carrier from Minnesota, who now is a naval aviation cadet on the Pacific coast; Vic Marino, Ohio State guard, who recently returned to the United States after being wounded during the invasion of Sicily, and Jim Daniell, also of Ohio State, who now is a gunner aboard a destroyer in the Pacific.

Lt. Hinkle's No. 1 back field in practices to date includes two midwesterners. The quartet is composed of Half Backs Steve Juzwik, Notre Dame, and Buist Warren, Tennessee; Paul Anderson, Western Reserves, and Ken Roskie, South Carolina. Twenty members of the 1943 squad have never played varsity collegiate football.

Schroeder to Miss National Tennis Meet

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—The navy turned good neighbor today and removed the principal barrier to a victory for Francisco Segura in the national tennis meet, which begins tomorrow at Forest Hills.

Ensign Ted Schroeder, the defending champion, received navy orders that will take him out of the district and withdrew from the tournament because he could see only a remote possibility of being able to play thru to the finals next Monday. Schroeder previously had expected to leave his afternoons free for tennis by standing his watches during the night.

Segura Seeded No. 2.

The withdrawal of Schroeder left Segura, the two fisted swinger from Ecuador, as the player to beat among the 32 men's singles entries altho he was seeded second to Frankie Parker, runner-up to Schroeder last year. Pancho was beaten by Parker in the 1942 semi-finals, but he has been playing regularly this summer and has won every tournament he has entered. Parker, who joined the army in January, has been absent from tournament play all season.

Betz Rates No. 1.

The seeded list for women's singles is topped by Pauline Betz, Los Angeles, and Louis Brough, Beverly Hills, Cal., winner and runner-up last year, followed by Margaret Osborne, San Francisco; Doris Hart, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, Miami, 1941 champion who did not compete last year; Helen Bernbard, New York; Mary Arnold, Los Angeles, and Dorothy May Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal.

CHAMPIONS OF DISTRICT MEET ON LINKS TODAY

Will Play 36 Holes at Bob o' Link.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The annual interleague championship of the Chicago District Golf association, bringing together the winners of the North Shore, West and South leagues, will be determined today over the rugged length of the Bob o' Link club in Highland Park. Play will be at 36 holes, with the No. 1 man of each league winner teeing off in threesomes with his rivals of the other two groups, and continuing on down thru the No. 6 swingers. With a point each for morning and afternoon rounds, it thus will be possible for one man to win four points.

Mel Hill Out of Contest.

Westmoreland, which recently captured the North Shore league title for the third consecutive year, will be represented by C. W. Allen, J. H. Buchanan, Fred Fisher, Burt Gibson, E. W. Lane, and Frank Swirles. Mel Hill, captain of the team, is out of the city, and will not compete. Glen Oak, winner of the West District league crown, will send Hunter Brown, Jim Cutler, Bob Grimm, Oscar Miller, W. H. [Bud] Brown, and Earl Drechsler after the trophy which the west siders won several times in the era of the Dawson brothers. Flossmoor, which took the South District honors in a single day competition, will have a team composed of Henry J. McElroy, William T. Woodson, H. L. Kemp, H. P. Maxwell, A. J. Castle, and S. W. Osgood.

Good Competitive Golf.

The interleague argument annually produces good competitive golf, as witness the 1942 triumph of Edgewood Valley, West District champion, which took the trophy with 40 points against 36½ for Westmoreland and 31½ for Ravisloe of the South District.

George S. May, the Tam o' Shanter impresario, who will arrive from the east this morning, is expected to make an announcement of a United States championship match between the two Philadelphia professionals, Sam Byrd and Harold [Jug] McSpaden. It is understood the two will play a Saturday-Sunday match for a $1,000 purse at Tam o' Shanter, with free admission to the public.

The 11th annual golf tournament of the Central Motor Freight association, one of the outstanding trade competitions of the golf year, will be held today at the Ridge Country club. In addition to more than 100 executives of the trucking industry, a number of top flight players, including Johnny Bulla, Jim Ferrier, Mike Turnesa, Chick Evans, and Wilford Wehrle will take part in the event. John Viking and Walter Mullady are tournament and prize chairmen, respectively.

Tomorrow Skokie, home club of Tom McMahon, president of the Chicago District Golf association, will be host to the annual club relations day of the C. D. G. A. The tournament is the occasion for the yearly reunion of officers, past and present, of the association and all of its member clubs. Main event of the team trophy to be awarded to the low net by any twosome composed of a club president and any one of his present or past officers or directors. The club relations trophy, which goes on a year's possession basis to the foursome of officers and directors from any C. D. G. A. club will be defended by a Glen Oak quartet consisting of John R. Hackett, W. H. [Bud] Brown, John Senne, and Oscar Miller.

Mrs. Edith Duvall, who recently won the annual pro-ladies title with John Revolta as her partner, yesterday captured the Evanston club championship for the second consecutive year with a 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. W. L. Taylor. The annual caddy championship was won by Robert Klumpp with a 93, Stewart Monroe's 94 taking second place.

7 ELIGIBLES FOR $50,000 EVENT TO RACE TODAY

$5,000 Drexel Handicap Draws Select Field.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Seven eligibles for Monday's $50,000 Washington Park handicap are entered in today's $5,000 Drexel handicap, a gallop of a mile, at the Homewood course. Thumbs Up, King's Abbey, Marriage, Rounders, Contradition, Georgie Drum, and Take Wing all may go to the post this afternoon in a final tuneup for the Labor day stake, which will be the concluding feature of the long summer meeting at the south side track.

A number of these have been highly successful in previous stakes during July and August. Rounders and Marriage share honors as the winners of the two $50,000 handicaps which have been run to date, and both are expected to be in good condition to make a bid for supremacy by taking the last of the big three. Rounders scored in the Stars and Strikes and Marriage took the Arlington handicap. In his most recent trial for the Labor day engagement Rounders found a track just to his liking and won the $5,000 Dark Secret purse last Friday.

Won Two Stakes.

Georgie Drum has taken two recent events—the Sheridan handicap and the Emerson F. Woodward Memorial. Several days ago Contradiction ran the best race since his comeback began, beating Sun Again when the latter was at 3 to 5 odds.

Both Sun Again and Contradiction are elgible for the six furlong $7,500 Homewood handicap tomorrow, so there's some question as to which stake they'll race in. Occupation and Cabin Creek also are eligible for both events.

In his last effort at a mile Occupation was beaten by Bold Captain, the horse which went on to run second to Askmenow in last Saturday's American Derby. His handlers may hold him out for tomorrow's shorter sprint.

Princequillo to Run.

Word was received from the east yesterday that Princequillo, latest claimant for high ranking, was being shipped here for the Washington Park handicap. He already has the Saratoga cup and the Saratoga handicap to his credit. Brookmeade stable will send out a juvenile, Pressure, to run in the Washington Park Futurity on Saturday. At the same time Lazy F. Ranch's Royal Nap will be shipped for the handicap. All are due to arrive today.

Parasang Wins Feature.

Parasang, which has been improving slowly but steadily in recent attempts, won the main event on yesterday's program, a gallop of a mile and a furlong. After he had set the pace from the start, he was caught in midstretch by Blueberry Pie. This horse, the 6 to 5 favorite, forged ahead and seemed to have the race won. Then he faltered and gave way badly. Parasang, meanwhile maintained a firm stride and came on again to win by a length and a half. Shot Put was third, four lengths behind Blueberry Pie.

Witt Hanleys Take Lead in Major Softball Series

The Witt Hanley Yankees last night defeated Eddie's Service, 5 to 3, in the first of a three game series to decide the major division championship of the Chicago District softball tournament in Rheingold stadium. In the commercial division, American Gear beat Elcor corporation, 7 to 1, while the Bridgeport Zephyrs beat Illinois Hobbs, 11 to 10, in 11 innings in the free-lance division. The same teams will meet tonight in Hilburn stadium.

Rock-Olas, Parichys Win in Metropolitan Softball

Gene Newkirk pitched the Rock-Olas to a 2 to 1 victory over the Rheingolds last night in a Metropolitan Chicago Major Girls' softball league game in Rock-Ola stadium. In other league games, the Parichy Bloomer Girls defeated the Gold Crowns, 11 to 1, and the Tungsten Sparks beat the Benda Coals Co-eds, 9 to 7. Tonight's schedule:

Parichy vs. Rockola in Rock-Ola stadium; Tungsten vs. Gold Crown in Shewbridge field, and Benda vs. Rheingold at Rheingold stadium.

MRS. ROOSEVELT VISITS A GEYSER IN NEW ZEALAND

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 31 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Zealand tour brought her today to Rotorua, where she viewed the famed thermal attractions at Whakarewarewa.

With a Maori guide she saw pools of boiling mud and water and exclaimed, "Well, now, that's really beautiful!" When the Pohutu geyser, playing to a height of 60 feet, shot up boiling water and steam the crowd sang, "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

She visited one of the leading farm districts and expressed keen interest in the work of the land girls. She saw them milking and mustering cattle and driving horses and tractors. She posed with three of the girls, each holding a lamb.

TAX ON TRIBUNE CHARCOAL FUEL POSES QUESTION

State Uncertain of Basis for Computing Levy.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 31.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE tire test and motor fuel research project today tendered to the state of Illinois its first collection of a motor fuel excise on charcoal used on a public highway as a substitute for gasoline. John A. Kelley, superintendent of the motor fuel tax division, temporarily declined to accept a payment.

"The payment will not be due until Sept. 20," Kelley said. "In the meantime, I'm trying to devise a sound basis for computing the amount of the tax. We can't measure charcoal by the gallon. It's a complicated problem.

"With America's petroleum reserves reportedly on the wane, the future is likely to see an assortment of motor fuels supplementing gasoline supplies, including charcoal, butane, and alcohol. We are trying to establish an equitable basis for taxing all motor fuels so that all vehicles will pay equally for their use of the highways."

¼ Cent Per Pound Suggested.

For lack of a better gauge, THE TRIBUNE'S research road crew suggested a levy of one-fourth of a cent a pound for motor fuel charcoal. According to the M. and R. Products, Inc., manufacturer of the charcoal burning apparatus, the performance from 12 pounds of charcoal is the equivalent of performance from one gallon of gasoline. The state gasoline tax is 3 cents a gallon, and one-twelfth of three is one-fourth.

"The problem is not as simple as that," Kelley said. "Some one might contend that the charcoal is not the motor fuel, but that the motor fuel is the carbon monoxide and hydrogen developed by burning the charcoal in the apparatus carried on your truck. If this contention were to be sustained, we would have to compute the tax from the gas produced by the special equipment.

"There's an increasing use in trucks of butane, the common cooking gas, bottled in steel cylinders. It's a by-product of the refining industry. In May, the latest month for which we have complete reports, Illinois collected a motor fuel tax on 96,668 gallons of butane.

Butane Levy 3 Cents a Gallon.

"Our levy on butane has been at the rate of 3 cents a gallon. It's a liquid in the pressure cylinders in which it is dispensed.

"The taxation of butane is being reviewed, bearing in mind that the purpose of the motor fuel levy is to compensate the state for use of the highways. The excise was tacked onto gasoline as a measurement of highway use. An equivalent rate should be charged vehicles using substitute fuels.

"The distillate burned in Diesels is, of course, the most common substitute for gasoline. We're studying our tax rates on this fuel also."

THE TRIBUNE'S test truck is equipped to operate either with gasoline or charcoal. Gasoline is being used for most of the mileage because of its greater convenience. A passenger automobile also on the tour originally was equipped with a trailer to carry apparatus to burn charcoal.

The first trailer was too frail and placed too much weight on the car. Another is being built by M. and R. Products, Inc., at its Kalamazoo, Mich., research laboratories.

In the meantime, the two vehicles are adding mileage to Trib-buna tires—made of standard government specification synthetic rubber except that the main ingredient, butadiene, was made from alcohol at THE TRIBUNE'S pioneering waste sulphite liquor distillery at its Canadian woodpulp mills. Government butadiene is made from petroleum or from alcohol from grains.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

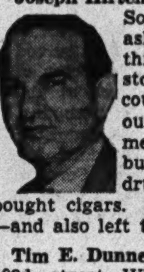
THE QUESTION.

What errand did you bungle for your wife?

WHERE ASKED.

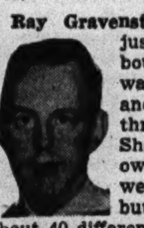
Insurance Exchange building, 175 West Jackson street.

THE ANSWERS.



Joseph Hirtenstein, jeweler, Hotel Sovereign—My wife asked me to get some things from the drug store. She said I could take the baby—our first—along with me. I parked his buggy in front of the drug store while I bought cigars. I forgot my errand—and also left the baby.

Tim E. Dunne, manager bond de- 102d street—When I run errands for my wife I usually overdo it. She asked me to get a few fresh vegetables and I got such huge quantities it was anything but a help to her.



Ray Gravenstine, insurance adjuster, 2817 Logan boulevard—My wife was sewing a dress and wanted me to buy three buttons for it. She told me to use my own judgment. There were so many fancy buttons, I bought about 40 different ones. There was none she could use.

William Whitecloud, bus dispatcher, 1015 North Clark street—I promised my wife I would drive her to a friend's home right after I left the office. I worked overtime that evening and decided I'd stay in town all night. I forgot all about my wife. She didn't forget it soon.

Winston S. Bartlett, baggage master, 937 Fletcher street—Before I bought the steak for dinner I thought I'd stop at the hardware store first to look at some tools. While I was having a good time buying the things the market closed.

George J. Ward, merchant, Elkhart, Ind.—When my wife sends me to the bakery to get a pumpkin pie I usually come home with a hot mince pie. That's deliberate, because I prefer mince. Once she sent me to the dry goods store to get five yards of gingham. I bought calico.

BARE FCC PLEA FOR AID, 24; HE DISLIKED ARMY

Draft Deferment Policies Told at Hearing.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—The federal communications commission was accused today of fighting for an occupational draft deferment for a 24 year old former soldier whose Americanism had been questioned by his local draft board.

The charge was made by Fred R. Walker, counsel to the Cox committee, as the committee concluded two days of hearings on the commission's draft deferment policies.

Walker did not identify the individual involved but said he had served three years in the army prior to his employment by the FCC in May, 1942, as a radio operator in New York. The month after his employment, Walker testified, the commission sought deferment on the ground that he was performing "highly confidential" work.

Warned by Draft Board.

The chairman of the employe's local draft board, Walker told Rep. Louis E. Miller [R. Mo.], who conducted the hearing as a one man subcommittee, notified the FCC that the board viewed the case with "concern" because of the applicant's attitude and his answers to draft questionnaires.

Walker read excerpts from a letter written by the employé in which he said he was "ashamed" of his uniform while in the army and had to restrain himself from "batting in the nose" some of his fellow soldiers whose conduct he deplored.

Joins Merchant Marine.

After the hearing, Charles Denny Jr., FCC counsel, said the employé recently joined the merchant marine.

The case was among scores listed by Walker and other committee attorneys and investigators in an effort to show that the FCC had obtained draft deferments for a high percentage of its draft age male employes, many within 10 to 30 days of their employment.

Report Vatican Engineer Is on Way to America

MADRID, Aug. 31 (AP).—Enrico Galeazzi, engineer of the Vatican, arrived in Madrid today by plane from Rome, en route to Lisbon, whence, it was said, he may go to the United States in connection with negotiations for declaring Rome an open city.

POPE'S BROADCAST TODAY TO BE HEARD ON WMAQ AND W-G-N

Pope Pius XII. will broadcast a message from Vatican City at 6:15 a. m. today, with WMAQ the only Chicago outlet carrying the talk at that time. The National Broadcasting company program over WMAQ is expected to include a translation in English immediately after the Pope speaks.

W-G-N will broadcast a recording of the address at 9 o'clock this morning.

The first of a series designed to familiarize the British people with American life will be broadcast at 11:15 p. m. today over WMAQ. The initial episode is entitled "An Englishman Looks at Chicago" and it tells the story of a typical 24 hours in this city from dawn to dawn.

Geoffrey Bridson, British Broadcasting corporation writer and producer, has been commissioned by the BBC to tour America and prepare this series. The programs will be transcribed, as will others in the series, and sent by bomber plane to England for rebroadcast to Britishers.

$95,000,000 TIRE EXPANSION PLAN GETS A TRIMMING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—A "substantial reduction" in the proposed $95,000,000 tire factory expansion program was agreed upon today by more than 50 rubber company officials and labor leaders in a meeting with Rubber Director William M. Jeffers. Jeffers said after the session that an immediate boost in synthetic tire production is possible "thru better coöperation and more attention to details on the part of both the men and the management."

Informally, Jeffers told reporters his aim was to boost passenger tire output well beyond the 5,000,000 synthetic casings previously scheduled for production this year. Next year's goal is 30,000,000.

The building of new plants away from present sites had met strong opposition from the CIO United Rubber Workers union, whose locals are established in existing production centers.

CIO Grave Diggers' Strike in Brooklyn Called Off

New York, Aug. 31.—A strike of 47 CIO grave diggers which held up 10 burial services at the Holy Cross cemetery, Roman Catholic burial ground in Brooklyn, yesterday, ended today. The workers were promised that their dispute would be submitted to arbitration.

GUNMEN ROUSE 11 GIRLS IN DORM, ESCAPE WITH $39

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 31 (AP).—Two robbers, with pistols and a flashlight, broke into a Radcliffe college dormitory where 39 girls lay asleep between 4 and 5 a. m. today and roused 11 girls in 10 rooms, demanding the contents of their pocketbooks, before the outcries of one of the students attracted a night watchman and sent the holdup men fleeing.

None of the girls was harmed, Assistant Dean Mildred P. Sherman said. The gunmen got $39.

Among the girls whose rooms were entered were Caroline Greene of Princeton, N. J.; Elizabeth Bibb of Lake Bluff, Ill.; Evelyn Grantham of Evanston, Ill., and Ann Matlack of Philadelphia, Pa.

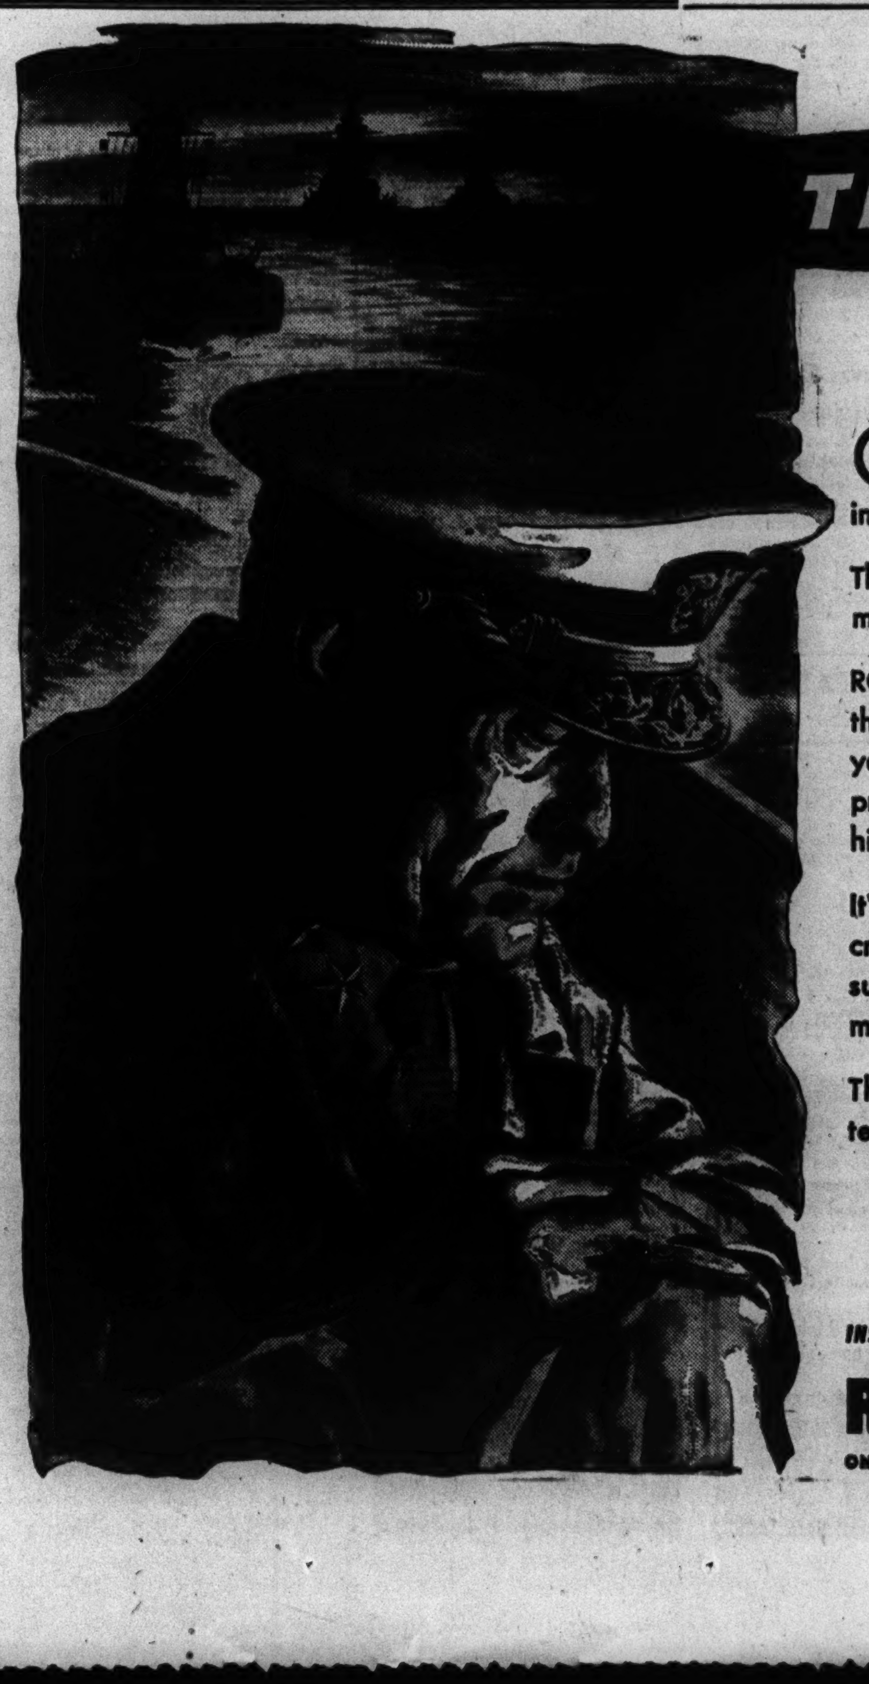
TIME - 23:59...



ONE MINUTE to midnight! Tomorrow is almost here and America's forces are ready . . . at sea, on land, and in the air . . . plans for the new day are complete.

The railroads of America are also ready with plans for tomorrow, despite today's titanic war transportation task.

ROCK ISLAND'S Program of Planned Progress has proven the wisdom of planning. It has gone steadily forward for years, improving engines, cars, right-of-way, facilities . . . progress that has made possible the movement of traffic in hitherto undreamed of volume.

It's a crucial test . . . of men and equipment . . . but, even more crucial will be our task when peace dawns, and we will supply victorious America the transportation she and her millions of courageous sons will require and deserve.

This railroad is planning for that other tomorrow too . . . determined to become ever greater and more efficient, for . . . as yesterday, and today, so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

ILLINOIS LEGION BACKS MOVE TO TEACH HISTORY

Delegates Lined Up for Americanism Plan.

Illinois delegates to the American Legion national convention at Omaha, Neb., Sept. 21 to 23, have been instructed to vote unanimously for the adoption of a resolution calling for compulsory teaching of American history in all elementary and high schools thruout the country.

At the final session of the Illinois convention of the Legion in the Hotel Sherman Monday night, state delegates unanimously adopted a similar resolution and mandated their national delegates to vote for the resolution when it reaches the floor at Omaha, and to do all in their power to seek its passage.

Survey Shows Ignorance.

The groundwork for the program of compulsory history study was laid last May in Indianapolis when the American Legion's Americanism committee reported that a survey of 7,000 students in 36 universities revealed an appalling ignorance of United States history. A new Illinois law, enacted at the last session of the legislature, requires teaching of American history in all state schools.

The Americanism committee at Indianapolis reported that an endowment fund was necessary for a proper Americanism program and named Roane Waring, national Legion commander, to appoint a committee to study the situation and submit recommendations at the Omaha convention.

Elliodor Libonati, Illinois chairman of the Americanism committee, was one of the originators of the history study program. At the state convention meeting Monday night he was successful in getting its unanimous adoption and will go to Omaha to seek its approval by the national organization.

Plan Educational Campaign.

William E. Keith, assistant Illinois adjutant in charge of the Chicago office of the American Legion, said that acceptance of the program would result in a subscription drive by the Legion to raise funds to advance the program. He said that the Legion hoped to raise 20 million dollars a year for the educational campaign "to teach Americanism in all its phases as a bulwark against the growing threat to the free enterprise system and the American way of life."

REPORT 35 MORE POLIO CASES IN CITY IN 24 HOURS

Altho an all-time high of 35 new cases of poliomyelitis was reported yesterday by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, physicians thruout the hospitals reported the disease receding. They also said there were fewer emergency calls. In the county, outside Chicago, Dr. E. A. Piszczek, health director, listed four new cases and one death. He said the "situation was clearing."

Dr. Bundesen listed four deaths for the 24 hour period ending at 9 a. m. yesterday. The fatalities were two boys and two girls under 12 years of age. Since the outbreak began, there have been 365 cases and 37 deaths in the city and 111 cases and 10 deaths in the county.

At Cook County Contagious hospital, 725 South Wolcott avenue, and the Municipal Contagious hospital, 31st street and California avenue, authorities reported the number of patients has leveled off.

IDENTIFY 21 OF 27 DEAD IN WRECK OF FAST TRAIN

2 Chicago Women Injured; Many Scalded by Steam.

Wayland, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP).—Twenty-one of the 27 persons who lost their lives in the wreck of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western's Lackawanna Limited were identified tonight.

Railroad and local officials continued trying to identify the others, many of whom were scalded almost beyond recognition in the crash of the passenger train, carrying 500 passengers on a New York-Buffalo run, with a switch engine near the Wayland station yesterday afternoon.

Fifty-six of the 150 injured were hospitalized.

Among the injured were Mrs. Pearl L. Jones, 519 East 42d place, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary J. Scapardine, 67 years old, 8209 Harper avenue, Chicago.

Also injured was Fred R. Swanson, 1923 2d street, Rockford, Ill.

Meanwhile, the state public service commission and the interstate commerce commission launched an investigation into the accident, one of the worst catastrophes in American railroading. The railroad announced it would open its own inquiry tomorrow.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN COUNTY CLIMB TO 38 IN AUGUST

Altho the 1943 toll of automobile deaths in Cook county continues substantially below a year ago a rise in fatalities was recorded in August, Coroner A. L. Brodie said yesterday. Thirty-eight persons were killed in August, compared with 24 each in July and June. Thirty of the deaths were in Chicago and eight in the county outside the city.

The toll for the first eight months of 1943 is 291 deaths. During the same period in the preceding year 467 deaths were recorded.

The last victim of the month was Frederick Rowens, 79 years old, a Negro, 6150 Aberdeen street, who died of injuries suffered in an auto crash about a year ago.

ASK U. S. TO LET FIRMS PREPARE FOR PEACE JOBS

Fix Definite Policy, Industry Urges.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Prompt adoption of government policies that will permit industrial plants to shift to civilian production without delay after the war was urged yesterday by the Illinois Manufacturers association.

The organization announced that a committee of leading Illinois manufacturers now is engaged in drawing up specific recommendations dealing with the problems of industrial reconversion that will be submitted to congress and government procurement agencies.

It is essential, the association said, the shift back to civilian production be accomplished within the framework of the free American industrial system with minimum reliance on government loans and controls.

Many Concerns Worried.

The declaration of the manufacturers' association brought into the open a problem that has thousands of large and small manufacturers much worried. They are engaged almost exclusively in the production of war goods, devoting all their physical and financial resources to attaining the production asked by government procurement agencies. Many of them, perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of the smaller war contractors, have their working capital so tied up in the job of producing war goods that the sudden termination of their government contracts would leave them so crippled financially that they would be unable to shift their operations back to civilian goods.

A large number of other concerns engaged in war production, perhaps the majority, have invested in emergency facilities and inventory a larger portion of their working funds than ordinary business prudence would condone. These developments occurred under the stress of getting maximum production in the shortest possible time when government procurement agencies were pleading for all possible speed.

Impact Already Felt.

The impact of contract cancellation is already being felt in industry. Surpluses of some war products have been piled up and outright cancellations or drastic cutbacks have been made by government procurement agencies. These shifts in the production program are causing serious difficulties for many manufacturing companies but they can only suggest the full impact of wholesale contract termination when the war ends, government procurement officials assert.

Government agencies are making confidential surveys in the industrial field to determine what policies should be adopted to make possible an orderly conversion of industrial facilities to civilian lines when the demand for war goods lets up. A number of proposals, it is learned, are under consideration in Washington. For the most part they contemplate the extension of credit to war contractors either by direct government loans or guaranteed bank credits to permit plants to finance the shift in operations.

[A plan to extend government guaranteed working capital loans to war contractors upon termination of their contracts was announced last night in Washington. Purpose of the plan is to prevent lack of working capital from retarding war production. Story in adjoining column.]

Loans Held No Real Cure.

The Washington proposals, many manufacturers believe, do not promise a real solution of the reconversion problem. Temporary loans, with or without government guarantees, will be needed in a great many instances, but the application

Widen V Loan Plan to Cover Lost Contracts

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—An industrial credit program to make working capital available to war contractors if their contracts are suddenly canceled was announced today.

The details were given in a joint statement by the army and navy, maritime commission and federal reserve board. Under the plan, war contractors will be able to obtain government-guaranteed "V-loans" on a much broader basis than heretofore possible.

Aimed to Remove Fears.

The aim is to prevent any lag in war production thru fear on the part of the contractors that their working capital would be tied up in the event changing war needs made it necessary to cancel contracts, the announcement explained.

In the past, V-loans have been restricted to working capital needed to finance immediate war production. The broadening of the credit regulations will permit contractors to obtain the use of most of their own capital immediately after contract termination. Banks will be enabled to make such advances at once, with a minimum of red tape.

The joint announcement emphasized that contract cancellations do not mean the beginning of a general curtailment of war production. On the contrary, it said, the needs of the allied offensives change rapidly, necessitating shifts in production.

Guarantee Rules Modified.

The procedure for obtaining the new V-loans is exactly the same as in the past, except that in the event the contractor intends to free his own working capital on cancellation of his contracts, two changes in the present guarantee agreement will be invoked:

1. The bank will be required at all times to have a participation in the loan, and, accordingly, the original percentage of guarantee specified in the agreement will not be increased by reason of contract cancellations.

2. The bank must share with the government any commitment fee, which may not exceed ½ of 1 per cent per annum of the undisbursed portion of the credit, in the same proportion that the guarantee fee now bears to the interest payable on V-loans.

Provides Longer Maturities.

The amount of loan a war contractor may obtain after contract cancellation will be based on a percentage of inventories, work in process, accounts receivable, and [without duplication] amounts paid or to be paid by him to subcontractors or suppliers.

The maturity of credits under the new V-loan program may be longer and a minimum of restrictions will be placed on the borrower by the guaranteeing agencies, the joint statement concluded.

People and Events

R. C. Cosgrove, vice president of the Crosley corporation, has been named chairman of a new committee on post-war planning for the Radio Manufacturers' association, P. V. Galvin, president, announced yesterday. Special problems to be studied include reconversion to civilian manufacturing, war contracts, and their termination. Chicago men on the committee are Leslie F. Muter, J. J. Nance, Ross D. Siragusa, and A. S. Wells.

R. C. Cosgrove.

After a two year association with Schenley Distillers corporation, Kenneth A. Bonham returns to the drug field as general sales manager of the Emerson Drug company, Baltimore, Md. Before joining Schenley, Bonham was sales manager of the Anacin company for four years.

John H. Lindow, for the last 23 years with the Coca-Cola company, has been appointed Chicago manager.

MINERS APPLY TO COURTS FOR 'PORTAL' WAGE

Test Suit Asks Back Pay for 5 Years.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—The United Mine Workers went to court today for the portal-to-portal pay refused them by the war labor board, and instructed miners to continue digging coal despite the wage decision and the return of some of the pits to private operators.

At the same time the UMW bitterly assailed the WLB decision and President Roosevelt's approval of penalties for union defiance of the WLB.

The court action came in Birmingham, Ala., where the union filed suit in United States District court for two hours daily pay for underground travel time of mine employes of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, United States Steel subsidiary. The men asked five years' back pay.

Filed as Test Case.

Frank Parsons, one of the attorneys for the miners, said the case was designed to provide a nationwide guide and the decision would apply directly to Alabama's 22,000 coal miners.

The advice to miners to continue work in the present situation was contained in the union's Journal, published from headquarters here.

"Altho the WLB has turned down the Illinois-UMW wage agreement," the Journal said, "there is every reason why the local unions should continue the operation of the mines under the wage terms and conditions of the old wage agreement which was continued in effect by the government, plus the WLB awards covering occupational charges, until a thoro canvass of the situation can be made and a succeeding policy adopted by the union's policy committee.

Clause with Reservations.

The policy committee on June 22 called off a third general strike and agreed to work until Oct. 31, but said this arrangement would automatically terminate if "government control of the mines is vacated" prior to that date.

Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, federal operator of the mines, announced 10 days ago that mines were being turned back to 53 operators.

On that point the Journal said the provision for automatic termination "was merely a reservation—a protective clause which gave to the UMW, its districts and local unions, the right to terminate work at a single mine or group of mines in the event the return of such mines to private management was followed by an attempt on the part of the company management to chisel on the wage provisions prevailing during government operations."

WFA TO DIVIDE ONION CROP OF TWELVE STATES

The war food administration announced yesterday it had taken control of distributing the late crop of onions in 12 states to assure adequate war supplies and a fair share of a short crop for the civilian population. The order prohibits shippers in the 12 states from making shipments of dry onions in excess of 100 pounds, except for nearby storage, without a permit.

The producing states named in the order were California, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho, Colorado, Minnesota, North Dakota, Michigan, Indiana, and New York.

Report Nash Negotiates for 75 Million Loan

New York, Aug. 31 [Special]. — Preliminary discussions are in progress between the Nash-Kelvinator corporation and leading banks for a 75 million dollar regulation V loan to finance the company's war production, it was learned today.

Warn Holiday Travelers Get No Extra Cars

Chicago railroads, faced with prospects of a large volume of Labor day week-end travel, will have no extra equipment for carrying civilian passengers and some lines actually will have fewer coaches for civilians during the rush than now, railroad officials reported yesterday.

Passenger traffic is expected to be swollen as a result of curtailment of operations in many war plants on the holiday. At the Chicago ordnance district office authorities said that only those war plants or divisions of plants producing critically needed materials and weapons had been asked to operate Monday. More facilities will be idle than will be operated, critical items being in the minority now, it was indicated. Steel mills will operate as usual.

Postponing Trips Requested.

Railroad officials said there was no way to know in advance to what extent the public would react to the recent pleas of federal officials, including Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, that civilians postpone all unnecessary trips until several days after Labor day.

Last Christmas the public took similar advice so seriously that many trains had empty seats, but on some holidays since then the people have ignored warnings that only standing room would be available, railroad men said.

Troops Using Many Cars.

Labor day always is one of the biggest travel days of the year, and carriers normally have extra equipment available. This year, however, about half of all the sleeping cars and a third of all the coaches are in group troop movement service exclusively. In addition many trains will be filled largely with individual service men traveling on leave or furlough.

Albert Cotsworth Jr., passenger traffic manager of the Burlington road, said the Burlington would take 35 cars out of suburban service over the holiday to handle furlough traffic to and from Camp Grant and Camp Ellis.

METAL COMPANY GETS BUILDINGS FOR NEW PLANT

An offer of $315,000 made by the Reynolds Metals company for several buildings at the southwest corner of Ashland avenue and West 74th street, yesterday was accepted by the directors of the Southwest Manufacturing District corporation, owner of the property.

Purchase of this space will be another step in making Chicago a great aviation manufacturing center, said John C. Meiners, chairman of the board of directors of the Southwest corporation. The Reynolds concern, which has its headquarters in Louisville, Ky., and has a tin foil plant at 1259 South Campbell avenue, will remodel the buildings and manufacture extruded magnesium and aluminum products for the aviation industry.

STOCKS MAKE BROAD UPTURN, TRADE EXPANDS

Gains Are Largest in Three Weeks.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—Stocks with better peace prospects led the market in a general recovery today that enabled favorites to gain fractions to more than a point to end the slowest month of trade in 1943.

Rising tendencies on expanding volume were apparent at the opening, with activity and prices best in the forenoon. Prices were below best levels in most cases at the close, but advances were far in the majority. In-and-out traders were quick to take modest profits on the early rise, but offerings were absorbed without much difficulty.

Some Expect Early Axis Fall.

Consistently good war news tended to strengthen the belief of some in Wall street that the axis collapse in Europe may come sooner than expected, and bidding for selected issues was based mostly on this psychology. Armament groups, however, did fairly well. Reinstatement of commitments also was credited partly to the fact that selling had dried up to negligible proportions, which was interpreted as a possible signal for resumption of the advance interrupted in mid-July.

The Associated Press 60 stock average rose 0.4 to 49.6, its widest gain since Aug. 10, for a net advance of 0.4 during August. The market broadened to a trade in 809 individual issues from a 10 month low of 694 yesterday. Transfers of 614,420 shares compared with 334,870 yesterday, which was the smallest since Sept. 21, 1942.

New peaks for the year were touched by Dome Mines, Allied Mills, and Consolidated Laundries, among others.

RAIL BONDS LEAD RALLY.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—The bond market abandoned its quiet irregularity of the last few weeks today for a mild rally, with secondary rails in the vanguard. Trading activity expanded on the comeback to $6,753,000, compared with $3,795,500 yesterday, the slowest day in more than a year.

Some medium priced rail loans rose major fractions to about 2 points. Utilities responded cautiously to light investment demand, and industrials were steady. United States government loans eased in some maturities, reflecting nearness of the September war loan drive.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

The price trend was higher in more active trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Volume leaders posting fractional gains included Armour, Chicago corporation, Commonwealth Edison, and Middle West. Trading totaled 26,000 shares in 93 issues, of which 58 closed higher, 21 declined, and 14 were unchanged.

President 'Lends' Assistant to Direct OEW in Shakeup

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—Lauchlin Currie, one of President Roosevelt's six administrative assistants, was named executive director of the office of economic warfare today in a shakeup which retired two key holdover officials from Vice President Henry Wallace's regime.

Lauchlin Currie.

Leo T. Crowley, who took over direction of OEW in mid-July as an outgrowth of a public dispute over stock piling between Wallace, chairman of the predecessor board of economic warfare and Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, announced that Currie had been "loaned" by the White House.

At the same time Crowley accepted the resignation, submitted by request, of Morris Rosenthal, deputy director in charge of imports, and named Sidney H. Scheuer, also from BEW, to replace him.

Terms Actions Unrelated.

He also accepted the resignation of Monroe Oppenheimer, OEW general counsel, saying it was "entirely unrelated" to Rosenthal's withdrawal, and named Hugh B. Cox, assistant attorney general, to replace him. Cox once served on BEW's London staff. He will remain assistant attorney general in charge of the war division. Crowley said Oppenheimer had resigned to return to private law practice.

Other OEW appointments included those of Samuel Zemurray, president of the United Fruit company, and Arthur A. Pollan, executive vice president, as consultants on export and import matters.

Arthur Paul was placed in charge of OEW activities in the foreign field, and V. Frank Coe and James L. McCamy were named assistants to Crowley. All three, Crowley said, had been with BEW and OEW.

With the exception of the ouster of Milo H. Perkins as executive director when Crowley took over OEW, today's was the first major personnel shake up.

Resignation Requested.

An exchange of letters between Crowley and Oppenheimer was not made public. But Rosenthal, in a letter to Crowley, dated today, said he was resigning in accordance with the director's request. He has been on leave as executive vice president of a New York importing house. Oppenheimer formerly was chief attorney for the farm security administration.

However, it was learned from one source that Rosenthal's resignation stemmed from an apparent attempt at a showdown with Crowley over his authority to order foreign purchases under the reorganization.

Paul, a Philadelphia hosiery manufacturer, was Rosenthal's chief assistant, while Scheuer, a New York importer, was an aid to Rosenthal. Coe of Richmond, Ky., and McCamy of Bennington, Vt., both were former assistants to Perkins.

BEEF OUTPUT RISES IN WEEK, BUT PORK PRODUCTION FALLS

Beef and veal output rose last week, but pork and lamb production declined, the war meat board announced at its weekly meeting yesterday in Chicago.

Beef production in federally inspected plants was estimated at 126 million pounds, a gain of 5 million from the preceding week, but 6 million less than a year ago. Veal production of 12 million pounds was a million pounds more than the week before. Pork output was placed at 155 million pounds, 5 million below the preceding week, but 37 million higher than a year ago. Lamb and mutton, at 22 million pounds, declined 2 million pounds from the week before.

The American Meat institute, Chicago, reported that 557,000 more head of cattle, calves, sheep, and lambs were dressed in inspected plants in August than in July, but total meat production, including lard, decreased 7 per cent because 927,000 fewer hogs were slaughtered.

Indiana Standard Oil Lifts Tank Wagon Price

The Standard Oil company [Indiana] announced yesterday that gasoline prices in the Chicago area will be raised 0.7 cent a gallon in tank wagon lots, effective today.

BREAK IN PRICES TUMBLES HOGS TO 12 DAY LOW

The biggest price decline in five weeks swept the hog market in the Chicago stock yards yesterday, bringing prices to the lowest level in 12 days. Packer resistance to paying more than $14.75 a hundred pounds, coupled with reports that 1943 spring pigs were arriving in larger volume east of Chicago, caused the slump.

Prices averaged 15 cents below the preceding day, at $14.25. Top sales at $15 showed a similar downturn.

ARMOUR VOTES MERGER WITH BIG SUBSIDIARY

Stockholders Told: 'New Day Dawns.'

Armour & Co. [Illinois] stockholders approved the proposed merger of the Delaware subsidiary into the parent company at a special meeting yesterday and heard George A. Eastwood, president, assert that "a new day is dawning for Armour & Co."

"After 20 years of backbreaking, disappointing hill climbing, we are at last over the hump, or at least where we can see over it," Eastwood said.

Company officials announced that about 75 per cent of the shares were represented in person or by proxy at the meeting, and that opposition to the proposed merger and related recommendations totaled less than 2 per cent of the stock.

Under the program approved by the stockholders, the company will absorb Armour & Co. of Delaware, and has permission to draw a new mortgage to cover the combined properties.

Objects of Program Given.

Eastwood previously had said that the program would:

1. Restore to the parent company and its stockholders direct ownership of the business assets and earnings of the whole Armour enterprise, subject to the subsidiary's liabilities.

2. Permit simplification of the organization and accounting of the Armour enterprises to effect large economies, including a saving of $2,225,000 a year thru elimination of Delaware preferred stock.

3. Increase net earnings of the parent company.

The Delaware subsidiary was organized 20 years ago to tide the parent company over a financial crisis. The parent Armour guaran-

FREER FARMING URGED TO BOOST FOOD HARVESTS

30 Pct. Shortage Laid to Federal Controls.

Abandonment of food price fixing by the office of price administration and removal of government farm controls are necessary to head off a severe food scarcity next year, Ralph Moore, secretary and Washington, D. C., representative of the national farm committee, said yesterday in Chicago. Urging a return to traditional free enterprise in agriculture to speed war and civilian production, the farm bloc leader predicted that administration mishandling and confusion will result in a 1943 food supply 30 per cent smaller than last year.

Moore discussed the food and farm situation at a press conference in the Hotel Sherman in connection with the national food conference scheduled in Chicago Sept. 16 and 17. He is assisting with the conference arrangements.

Urges Unhindered Output.

The key to adequate food production, Moore asserted, is to "give the farmer his head" and permit him to produce unhindered by federal regulations, plus a guarantee of a fair market price without the use of subsidies. Food prices must be raised to give the farmer not only the incentive to produce, but to compensate him for higher operating costs and aid him to meet the competition of unskilled industry wages, he said.

"Better and faster food production could be obtained thru a return to free enterprise and individual initiative than by continuing centralized federal control," said Moore. "The government's forcing the American farmer to accept overnight sweeping changes and socialistic theories will jeopardize production."

Lists Causes of Decline.

Moore listed the price policies of the OPA, the labor and farm machinery shortage, federal crop controls, and a lack of knowledge and centralized authority among those in charge of the food program as reasons for the decline in this year's food supply. He warned that if these conditions are not corrected, the 1944 available supply will be as much as 10 or 15 per cent still smaller than this year's.

A Texas farmer, Moore said that the national food conference will attempt to "smoke out" the food crisis and bring out facts so that the public may act to obtain a stable, workable program.

ASKS U.S. TO LET FIRMS BE READY FOR PEACE JOBS

I. M. A. Urges Adoption of Definite Policies.

of the loan cure as an answer to the entire problem will only postpone the crisis, they declare.

The essential requirement for an orderly and rapid conversion to peace production, according to this view, is that manufacturing concerns that have given their facilities unstintedly to war production shall be left in a healthy financial state when the government terminates its contracts. This will enable the companies to work out their problems and get back into civilian production far more quickly than if some government agency is assigned to shepherd them thru the reconversion period.

Taxed 70 Per Cent or More.

There are a number of factors that are preventing manufacturers, particularly the small industrial firms, from making adequate financial preparations for the eventual conversion to peace time operations. War time profits are being taxed at an unprecedently high rate.

The effective income tax on many smaller industrial firms whose operations have expanded greatly since the war began may be 70 per cent or more. Profits remaining after taxes are whittled further under the so-called renegotiation of contracts. The price adjustment boards that review all war contracts operate more or less independently of the procurement agencies. They pass on the earnings of all war contractors, deciding what portion the company will be permitted to retain. The boards do not give any weight in their considerations to the size of the income taxes which the companies are required to pay into the federal treasury. Taxes are not considered as a part of the cost of operation.

Other Difficulties Faced.

The working capital position of a company also is given no consideration when earnings are renegotiated. All or a substantial portion of a manufacturer's war time earnings may go into the purchase of facilities needed to carry out his contract, depleting his cash resources and leaving him dependent on further government work for continued operation. As long as he gets more government work he can operate satisfactorily but when the time comes to convert his entire plant to civilian output the manufacturer will lack the necessary cash resources, regardless of the size of his war time earnings.

At present, manufacturers point out, there is little correlation between the government agencies that award and terminate war contracts and the price adjustment boards that review the contractors' earnings.

In some instances the price adjustment boards have ordered manufacturers to refund substantial amounts of their profits to government when the result was to absorb all the working capital of the enterprises. In other cases the companies may be permitted to retain some working capital but not enough to keep their operations on a sound basis.

The General Motors, Pullman, and International Harvester companies are not placed in jeopardy under the present policies because their resources and credit facilities are sufficient to carry them thru the reconversion period. Most seriously affected are the thousands of smaller concerns who were brought into the war production program later and who have expanded their operations far beyond their peace time scale.

Lost Profits Ignored.

When contracts are terminated by the government there is no provision made for profits that the contractor would have made had the contract been completed. In this respect they differ from ordinary commercial contracts. Up to now the government has been fairly prompt in making settlements for inventory and other advances that the contractor has made to do his job. This was possible because contracting officers of the government have been given some latitude in arranging such negotiated settlements. An entirely different situation will present itself, however, when wholesale termination occurs. The vast amount of paper work that will result threatens to bring about delays in the settlements.

These problems will be thoroly canvassed by the committee named by the manufacturers' association. Its recommendations for meeting the problem are expected to be submitted to congress and government procurement agencies within the near future. Other business organizations are also studying the problem because recent contract cancellations have emphasized the gravity of the problem. The committee of the manufacturers' association is headed by John F. P. Farrar, president of the Chicago Metal Hose corporation.

INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR.

During my spare time I keep books for three small business firms. I contracted to do this work at a monthy rate, and most of the work is done in my own home at my convenience. Is my pay from these jobs subject to the withholding tax? Is it subject to social security tax? —E. A.

Answer: It would appear that you are an independent contractor rather than an employe, so far as the part-time work is concerned, therefore the compensation received is not subject to the withholding tax or to social security tax. You can make certain of your status by requesting a ruling from the collector of internal revenue. All the circumstances of the agreement with the business firms should be stated in your letter.

ARMOUR MERGER PLAN APPROVED BY PARENT UNIT

Eastwood Tells Meeting: 'New Day Dawning.'

teed the dividends on the subsidiary's stock, an action which created a contingent liability that since has impaired the parent company's borrowing power.

Warns Problems Remain.

Eastwood outlined the history of that financing to the stockholders, and warned that the merger would not solve all of the company's problems.

"We still have some weighty ones to handle, as for example, the accumulated and unpaid dividends on our preferred stock," he said. "I bring this up now only for its sobering effect on what would otherwise be an occasion for jubilation."

Recalling the parent company's "desperate need" of a large amount of new capital when the Delaware company was formed, Eastwood said:

"The company met the situation by selling to Armour of Delaware various properties. The Delaware company obtained money with which to buy its properties by selling stock and bonds to the public. To assist in making those stocks and bonds saleable, the parent company gave its guarantee that dividends on the stock and interest on the bonds would be paid. I doubt if any one realized at the time what would be the later effect of this guarantee.

Earns Own Dividends.

"The company never has been called upon to make good on its guarantee because the Delaware company, possessing many of the most valuable Armour properties, always succeeded in earning its own dividends and interest. Nevertheless, the existence of the guarantee had in recent years seriously and adversely affected the credit of the parent company.

"You will remember that in each of the last two years your company showed losses at the end of the year and all of the consolidated profits were earned by the Delaware company."

Eastwood said the solution lay largely in eliminating the guaranteed preferred stock of the Delaware company and in recovering possession of the properties which were the source of the Delaware company's earnings. The program approved yesterday will accomplish this, and convey 272 million dollars of assets to the parent company, subject to Delaware company liabilities, he said.

Discusses Dividend Outlook.

On the outlook for dividends, Eastwood said payments on the common stock could not be paid legally while the company was in arrears on its preferred stock, and that claims of the prior preferred stock be discharged before consideration is given to claims of the 7 per cent preferred.

"While the problem of discharging these obligations is not simple, neither is it insurmountable," he asserted.

TENDER OF CASH GRAIN FAILS TO UPSET FUTURES

Tenders of more than 7 million bushels of cash grain on September futures contracts in leading markets yesterday failed to have the depressing price effect expected. Scattered selling developed at the opening, but buying of September contracts against sales of deferred futures by cash interests gave support to September prices. Closing sales of wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅛ to ⅝ cent higher. Oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Rye was ⅞ cent higher to ⅜ cent lower.

OFFER 2 MILLION FROEDTERT LOAN TO RETIRE STOCK

Profit of Malt Company Reduced by Taxes.

A new 2 million dollar issue of Froedtert Grain and Malting company 3½ per cent debentures will be offered at 102¾ today by a banking group headed by Schroder Rockefeller & Co. and Loewi & Co. Proceeds of the financing will be used in connection with the retirement of outstanding cumulative convertible preferred stock on Nov. 1 at $20 a share.

Froedtert, one of the world's largest and oldest producers of malt, issued a report from Milwaukee showing profit in the fiscal year ended July 31 of $861,980, equal to $1.68 a share on common stock, against $957,720 the year before. Kurtis R. Froedtert, president, said the company had done the largest volume of business in its history, augmented by sales to plants producing alcohol for munitions and synthetic rubber, but that increasing federal taxes had curtailed its profits.

Offer Idaho Power Stock.

An offering of 430,000 shares of common stock of the Idaho Power company at $24.62½ a share is being made by a dealer group headed by Blyth & Co. and Lazard Freres & Co. The sale of this stock is a step in a program of Electric Power and Light corporation to divest itself of all interest in Idaho Power.

A group headed by the First Boston corporation and Harris, Hall & Co. was awarded an 18 million dollar issue of West Texas Utilities company first mortgage bonds due Aug. 1, 1973. They are expected to be publicly offered tomorrow at $102.46 and interest.

Halsey, Stuart & Co. and associated bankers offered 4 million dollars of Baltimore and Ohio railroad 3 per cent equipment trust certificates on a scale of yields ranging from 0.70 to 3 per cent for issues between the November, 1943, and May, 1953, maturities.

Files New Stock Issue.

Pittsburgh Metallurgical company, Niagara Falls, N. Y., registered with the securities and exchange commission 25,073 shares of $10 par value common stock to be offered to stockholders of record Aug. 5 at the rate of one share for each four shares held. Proceeds will be used to pay promissory notes contracted in expanding the company's Charleston, S. C., plant.

The Shawinigan Water and Power company called for redemption by lot on Oct. 1 of $2,224,000 principal amount of 4 per cent first mortgage and collateral trust sinking fund bonds due in 1961. The called bonds will be paid at 103 and interest.

Bendix Home Appliances, Inc., of South Bend, Ind., notified holders of its 21,007 shares of class A stock of its proposed redemption on or before Nov. 30, 1943. J. S. Sayre, president, said the company would have no debt and only common stock outstanding.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

Aug. 31, 1943:

MOST city residents, tired of summer heat, are hoping that September will bring some cool weather. The farmers of northern Illinois and many other sections of the middle west, however, won't mind getting a little deeper suntan during the next few weeks. Their corn needs hot days and nights during September if it is to mature before frosts strike.

The men on the Wheaton farm were meditating on the corn prospects when we were on the place early this week. Altho spring rains delayed the planting by two to three weeks, the corn has thrived remarkably well. Last week's rains gave the plants additional growth, and some of the stalks in the field that we examined were almost nine feet tall. The ears are large and well formed, and no firing of the leaves is evident.

Corn Borer Resisted.

The corn borers were a threat to the corn crop, but the hybrid strains planted in the Wheaton fields seem to be almost completely resistant to this insect. The farm manager believes that hot September weather will insure a high yield of corn, and if he could control the weather he'd have no more rains until the ears cure.

The last rains put the ground in excellent shape for fall plowing, so one of the men started this job on the Wheaton farm yesterday. Present plans call for the plowing this fall of 20 acres of alfalfa land which will be planted to corn next spring.

One of the farm cornfields contains other vegetables than maize. The farmwife who lives in the cottage adjacent to the poultry yard is using the south edge of a nearby cornfield as an auxiliary garden. She has pole beans and pumpkins growing in the corn, the beans using the tall corn stalks as their scaffolding and the pumpkin vines meandering over the ground and now exhibiting miniature fruits and giant orange colored blossoms.

Basement Food Supply.

She already has harvested more than three bushels of beans from her cornfield garden, some were canned for winter use and some were sold to farm visitors. In addition, she picked enough field corn the other day to can 24 pints to add to her basement food supply.

For generations farm women have watched field corn closely so that they can harvest a few bushels for canning. This woman's rule is to pick field corn for canning 21 days after the ear silks appear. The kernels are soft and tender now, and in prime condition for canning.

★ The GARDEN ★

ONE of the most successful of the "rare" vegetables grown in the farm gardens this season was celeriac, more commonly called root celery. This vegetable is being harvested now, but most of the crop will be left in the ground until frost time, when it will be picked and stored in a basement room for winter use.

Celeriac foliage is almost identical to that of true celery, but the stalks don't grow as tall. Unlike true celery, the edible portion of the plant is the root rather than the stalk. In taste and use it is very similar to true celery, being excellent in salads and stews. It is a practical crop in small plots tended by novice gardeners because it requires no blanching, as does true celery. It also seems to be highly resistant to insect attack. The farm gardener has not had to spray the celeriac this season.

The deterrent to growing celeriac in home gardens is that it has a long period of maturity [120 days] and thus must be started in a greenhouse or hotbed. Few commercial greenhouses handle the vegetable and in many cases the only way to produce it is to start the seeds under protection at home.

SURFACE LINES OPPOSE I. C. C.'S TRANSFER PLAN

Lawyer Points Danger of Decreased Revenue.

Only the Chicago Surface lines of the city's three large local transportation agencies expressed dissatisfaction yesterday with the Illinois commerce commission's program for a unified system of transfers when a hearing was held by the commission.

Atty. Jacob Grossman, representing the street car company, said his client recognized the duty of giving every service possible, but that the proposed city-wide transfers would mean important reductions in receipts and "the extent of the [commission] order would determine whether the surface lines could comply."

"Labor costs have gone up," Grossman said, "and other expenses are becoming greater. Our engineers have told us that the transfers must be limited by zones and the commission citation indicates that zones are not contemplated—a departure from present practice."

William H. Sexton, special traction counsel for the city, objected to what he called the "coy attitude of the surface lines."

City Criticizes Surface Lines.

"Mr. Grossman is throwing out a net to catch everything," he commented. "This attitude alarms the city. We never have had any cooperation from the utilities."

Late in July the city requested that the commission order transfer points on the State street subway, which is scheduled for operation by the elevated lines about Oct. 1. The commission cited the companies Aug. 19 to show cause why there should not be a much broader system of transfers.

Consider 2 Issues Concurrently.

Examiner James R. Clark said that the ICC was insistent on quick action and ruled that the subway case and the city-wide transfers should be considered concurrently. The hearing will be resumed today.

The Chicago Motor Coach company has agreed to the general plan suggested by the commission. Atty. Joseph Nolan for the elevated lines said that L was agreed in principle, but wanted an adequate transfer fare and regulations to prevent fraud.

WPB APPOINTS J. F. DRISCOLL CHICAGO CHIEF

James F. Driscoll, Chicago priorities director for the war production board, was named Chicago district WPB manager yesterday to succeed Nicholas J. Conrad, resigned. Driscoll has been with the WPB since September, 1941. He was formerly sales manager for the Chicago Seating company and vice president of the Chicago Venetian Blind company.

Conrad was formerly a manufacturer of electrical equipment. He retired in 1930 to devote his time to civic activities. He accepted the WPB post five months ago on a volunteer basis.

John Nuveen Jr., chief regional deputy director for WPB, will be advanced shortly to the regional directorship after A. T. Kearney, regional WPB director, resigns to resume active direction of his industrial engineering firm, it was reported. John H. Bishop, regional WPB attorney, also is expected to resign Sept. 15 to return to his law practice.

MOVE LOOP FIRE BY CARLOAD TO EXTINGUISH IT

Two hundred and fifty tons of coal in the first basement of the Mallers building, 5 South Wabash avenue, was smoldering yesterday, after it had become ignited by spontaneous combustion. William McMahon, acting chief of the 1st battalion, said it was impossible to throw water on the coal because of the two subbasements containing boilers and machinery. Men working under exhaust fans set up to blow gas fumes out thru a coal hole in the alley shoveled the coal in Chicago Tunnel system cars to be moved so that water could be used to extinguish the fire. Chief McMahon said the exhaust gases were not strong enough to be dangerous.

GEN. MARSHALL'S SISTER IS BITTEN ON VISIT HERE

Miss Jessie Marshall, 37 years old, sister of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, was receiving treatment yesterday for a dog bite on the left hand suffered Monday. Miss Marshall, a New York teacher, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James E. Gleason, at 5012 North Paulina street. On Monday, she took her Scotch terrier for a walk. In front of the home of Mrs. Eleanor Owings, 1632 Winnemac avenue, the Scottie met a bulldog. There was a brief fracas, during which the bulldog bit Miss Marshall. Police impounded the dog and will keep it under observation for rabies.

Beating Another's Wife Costs Father of 4 $106.50

Leo Clayton, 36 years old, 428 West 59th street, father of four small children, yesterday paid a fine of $100 and $6.50 costs after Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court had denied a motion to vacate the fine, imposed last Thursday for beating Mrs. Billie Housel, 27, 5525 Loomis street. Mrs. Housel testified that while her husband was at his war work and she was entertaining another man with the husband's knowledge, Clayton forced his way into the house and assaulted her.

Mrs. Dorothy Albertson and Mary.

Dorothy Albertson, 27 years old, 6265 Harper avenue, obtained a divorce from Walter, 28, a machinist living at 7030 South Aberdeen street, when she told Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court yesterday that he got into the habit of using her face to stamp out live cigarets. She was awarded custody of their daughter, Mary, 6, and allowed $20 a week for support. Judge Sabath, at the request of her attorneys, Joseph H. and Norman Becker, enjoined Albertson from molesting Mrs. Albertson with his cigarets in the future.

ARMY TO RETIRE SEVEN OFFICERS IN CHICAGO AREA

Nineteen officers of the sixth service command, including seven stationed in the Chicago area, will be retired upon completion of their terminal leaves because they have reached the statutory retirement age of 60 for officers below the rank of brigadier general, it was announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commander. Terminal leave includes any unused leave time due the officers.

Those retiring in the Chicago area of the sixth service command are: Col. Hiram M. Cooper, infantry, Fort Sheridan; Col. John T. Geary, coast artillery, Fort Sheridan; Col. John B. Shuman, adjutant general's department, sixth service command headquarters; Col. Lee Sumner, infantry, army specialized training program, Illinois Institute of Technology; Col. Nathan W. MacChesney, judge advocate general's department, Fort Sheridan; Lt. Col. Maurice E. Tennant, inspector general's department, sixth service command headquarters, and Maj. Thomas H. Mills, quartermaster corps, sixth service command headquarters.

Medical officers and chaplains are allowed to serve until they reach the age of 64.

WOMAN NAMES 3 OF 5 HELD AS RAPE SUSPECTS

Brighton Park police are holding five men as rape suspects following their arrest on complaint of a young southwest side woman that they kidnaped her at 38th street and Western avenue early Sunday and attacked her after slugging one of her two escorts.

From her bed in St. Luke's hospital the woman, 23 years old, identified three of the five, police said. All five denied raping her or slugging her escort. They said she submitted willingly to their attentions.

Evicted from the car, the woman obtained the license number. With this information, police arrested Walter Sheraty, 33 years old, 4950 South Justine street; Vincent Cibulski, 28, of 4430 South Hermitage avenue; Pvt. Allen Kropp, 27, of 4634 Bishop street; Henry Przybylski, 26, of 4524 South Marshfield avenue, and John Izral, 35, of 5234 South Francisco avenue. Cibulski, police say, served time in Joliet prison in 1935 for rape and Sheraty was sentenced to Michigan reformatory in 1928 for larceny. Kropp and Przybylski also have police records.

WILLIAMS AGAIN FAILS IN PLEA TO STAY EXECUTION

A petition for a stay of execution on behalf of Paul Leroy Williams, 23 years old, under sentence to die in the electric chair on Sept. 17 for the murder of Thomas Papayanis, 47, a grocer at 2300 East 71st street, was presented to Justice Francis S. Wilson of the Illinois Supreme court yesterday by Atty. Francis Callahan. Justice Wilson, declining to rule on the application, suggested that the petition be filed before the entire court, which convenes on Sept. 13. Callahan withdrew the petition and said he would follow the justice's advice. The delay is necessary to give him time to complete an appeal to the United States Supreme court, Callahan said. The state Supreme court on May 20 affirmed the conviction and sentence. A petition for a stay of execution was denied on Monday by Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro, who sentenced Williams in Criminal court.

FARMER CHARGES MILK INSPECTOR INSULTED WIFE

A complaint charging Frank Lindseth, a milk inspector for Oak Park, with disorderly conduct was issued yesterday on behalf of Ernest Allen, who charges Lindseth with insulting his wife during an inspection tour of the Allen farm near Hampshire last Friday. Allen and his two sons, Lisle, 21, and Miles, 23, were arrested Monday after Lindseth told police he had been forced to clean out a cow stable on the Allen farm. They are now at liberty pending a hearing on an assault and battery charge next Friday before Judge Walter Nurnberg of Geneva. Lindseth said he was struck and made to work after he told the Allens their barn was not up to the standard demanded by the milk inspection board.

Navy Veteran of Sicily and Africa Home on Visit

Trinkets and souvenirs from the island of Sicily were brought to Chicago yesterday by Seaman Otto Kleister, 22 years old, who is visiting his mother, Mrs. Emilie Kleister, at 8929 Exchange avenue. A gunners mate, second class, Kleister participated in the invasion of Sicily and received a citation.

Doctor Asks Penicillin for Gary Woman, 23

Dr. J. S. Duncan of Gary yesterday appealed for a supply of penicillin from a New York manufacturer of the new drug for Mrs. Eunice Cliff, 23 years old, 3422 West 9th street, Gary. Mrs. Cliff, wife of a mill worker, is in Mercy hospital, Gary, suffering from a bacterial heart ailment and streptococcus viridens septicemia, a blood disease.

Allied Ships Blasted Off Sicily—"Miss Chicago" Visits Air Show—Policeman Jailed in Shooting of Sailor

[Associated Press Wirephoto: From U. S. Coast Guard.]

Description supplied by the United States coast guard says this shows fiery columns shooting skyward from an exploding allied ship off the coast of Sicily following an attack by enemy planes. The description adds that the scene occurred during the invasion of the Italian island. Ship in foreground gives an idea of the height of the columns.

[Associated Press Wirephoto: From U. S. Army Signal Corps.]

The United States army signal corps says these columns of smoke are arising from allied ships which were hit during an attack by enemy aircraft. This picture also was taken somewhere near Sicily during the recent invasion of the island.

A lunch hour scene at Baldwin Locomotive works in Philadelphia, where employes have their own 12 piece band that plays a half hour each day. The company says this "refresher" period returns war workers to job with renewed enthusiasm.

This scene from a town in England shows how a bomb tore a huge crater but did not seriously damage three communal shelters, all occupied. A and B indicate nearest one, pushed aside and torn in two. Inset diagram tells the story.
